At the Twenty-eighth Annual Meeting of the Church Missionary Society for Africa and the East, held in Freemasons' Hall, Great Queen Street, on Tuesday, May 6, 1828.

The Right Hon. LORD GAMBIER, Vice-Patron and President, in the Chair.

The Report of the Committee having been read by the Secretaries, and the Statement of the Accounts of the Twenty-eighth Year,

On a Motion by William Wilberforce, Esq., seconded by the Rev. Wm. Dealtry,

RESOLVED UNANIMOUSLY,

That the Report, an Abstract of which has been read, be printed, under the direction of the Committee; and that while this Meeting laments the deficiency in the Income of the Society, it records its grateful sense of the kindness of those friends by whose aid that deficiency has been in some measure retrieved, and earnestly solicits their continued exertions and liberality in order to the maintenance and extension of its Missionary undertakings.

On a Motion by the Hon. and Right Rev. the Lord Bishop of Lichfield and Coventry, seconded by the Rev. Henry Budd,

RESOLVED UNANIMOUSLY,

That the sincere thanks of the Meeting be given to the Right Reverend the Lord Bishop of Winchester, for his Sermon before the Society last evening; to the Noble President of the Society; the other Vice-Patrons, and Vice-Presidents; and to all those Friends who, during the past year, have exerted themselves in its behalf; and that the following Gentlemen are appointed the Committee for the ensuing year, with power to fill up vacancies. (See List, after Vice-Presidents.)

On a Motion by the Right Rev. the Lord Bishop of Sodor and Man, seconded by the Rev. Edward Craig, one of the Secretaries of the Edinburgh Auxiliary,

RESOLVED UNANIMOUSLY,

That, adverting to the difficulty of prosecuting Missionary undertakings in the countries around the Mediterranean, this Meeting rejoices in the number of Publications which have been issued from the Press at Malta, and in the prospect of its extended operations; regarding this mode of diffusing the light of Christianity as a valuable auxiliary, under the Divine blessing, to the more direct labours of the Missionary.

On a Motion by the Rev. Thomas T. Thomason, Chaplain on the Bengal Establishment, seconded by the Rev. Benjamin Allen, Rector of St. Paul's, Philadelphia,

RESOLVED UNANIMOUSLY,

That, while the Meeting is impressed with a lively sense of the dangers to which the New-Zealand Mission is exposed, it desires to express its gratitude to God for the protection hitherto so signally afforded to His servants there, and for the encouragements which He has given to the Society's Missionaries in their arduous work, both in New Zealand and in its Eastern Missions.

On a Motion by the Hon. and Rev. Baptist W. Noel, seconded by the Rev. George Hazlewood, Assistant Secretary of the Hibernian Auxiliary,

RESOLVED UNANIMOUSLY,

That this Meeting regards the trials incident to the prosecution of the great object which the Society has in view, not as grounds of discouragement, but as occasions of closer scrutiny into the motives and principles on which that object is pursued, of more entire renunciation of self-dependence, and of more simple reliance on the agency of Him who worketh all things after the counsel of His own will.

On a Motion by the Hon. and Rev. Gerard Thomas Noel, seconded by the Rev. Hugh M'Neile,

RESOLVED UNANIMOUSLY,

That this Meeting regards the scarcity of suitable Candidates for Missionary labour as a call on the Church of Christ for more earnest prayer that He would, according to His promise, pour out His Holy Spirit on His servants, and send forth more Labourers into those fields which are whitening to the harvest.

LAWS AND REGULATIONS

OF THE

CHURCH MISSIONARY SOCIETY FOR AFRICA AND THE EAST.

I. THIS Institution shall be designated "The Church Missionary Society for Africa and the East;" and shall be conducted by Patrons, Vice-Patrons, a President, Vice-Presidents, a Committee, and such Officers as may be deemed necessary, all being Members of the Established Church.

II. The office of PATRONS of the Society shall be reserved for such Members of the Royal Family as may honour it with their Protection. VICE-PATRONS shall be appointed exclusively from among the Peers, Spiritual and Temporal. The PRESIDENT shall be such Peer or Commoner, and the VICE-PRESIDENTS such Commoners, as may be appointed thereto.

OF MEMBERS AND GOVERNORS.

III. Annual Subscribers of One Guinea and upwards, and if Clergymen, Half-a-Guinea, with Collectors of Fifty-two Shillings and upwards per Annum, shall be Members of the Society during the continuance of such Subscriptions or Collections. Benefactors of Ten Guineas or upwards, Clergymen making Congregational Collections to the amount of Twenty Guineas, and Executors paying to the amount of Fifty Pounds, shall be Members for Life.

IV. Annual Subscribers of Five Guineas shall be Governors during the continuance of such Subscription; and Benefactors of Fifty Pounds and upwards shall be Governors for Life.

V. Members and Governors of Associations who contribute the above sums shall be considered as Members and Governors of the Parent Society.

VI. The Committee shall have the power of appointing such persons as have rendered essential services to the Society, either Members for Life, or Governors for Life.

OF GENERAL MEETINGS.

VII. An Annual Meeting of the Members of the Society shall be held in London, on the First Tuesday in May; unless that day shall fall on the 7th of May, in which case the Annual Meeting shall be held, for that year, on Tuesday the 30th of April. To such Meeting, those Members of the Society shall be summoned by Letter who reside within ten miles of the Metropolis: when the Proceedings of the foregoing year shall be reported, the Accounts presented, and a Treasurer and Committee chosen.

VIII. A Special General Meeting of the Members of the Society, at which not less than Thirty shall constitute a quorum, shall be called at any time, at the requisition of the General Committee; or by any Thirteen Members, on addressing a Letter to the Secretary, specifying the object of the Meeting. Ten days' notice shall be given in three public Newspapers, of any such intended Meeting, and of the purpose for which it is called; which shall be deemed sufficient publicity.

IX. None of the Rules of the Institution shall be repealed or altered, nor any new ones established, but at the Annual Meeting, or at a Special Meeting called for that purpose.

X. An Anniversary Sermon shall be preached at some Church in London by a Clergyman appointed by the General Committee. An Annual Report of the Society shall be printed for the use of its Members.

ON THE COMMITTEE.

XI. The Committee shall consist of Twenty-four Lay Members of the Established Church; and of all such Clergymen as are Members of the Society. Eighteen Members shall be annually appointed from the Old Committee, and Six from the General Body.

XII. The COMMITTEE shall elect, at their First Meeting in every year, either from among themselves, or from the other Members of the Society (being Members of the Established Church) a Committee of Patronage, a Committee of Funds, a Committee of Correspondence, and a Committee of Accounts. Each of the said Committees shall keep minutes of its Proceedings, and shall report the same to the General Committee.

XIII. The Office of the Committee of Patronage is, to procure patronage and support to the Society; and to nominate, to the General Committee, proper persons, as Patrons, Vice-Patrons, and Vice-Presidents of the Society.

XIV. The Office of the Committee of Funds, is to circulate information respecting the Institution; to adopt proper means of augmenting the Subscriptions and Benefactions; to obtain Collections in Churches and Chapels; and to nominate, from time to time, to the General Committee, suitable persons to act as agents for the Society in the principal towns throughout the Empire.

XV. The Office of the Committee of Correspondence, is, to seek for proper Missionaries, to superintend their instruction, and to correspond with them when sent out.

XVI. The Office of the Committee of Accounts is, to see that the Subscriptions are duly received, regulate the accounts, and undertake the charge of fitting out and conveying the Missionaries to their places of destination.

XVII. The General Committee shall receive the Reports of the other Committees, shall appoint the places where Missions shall be attempted, shall direct the scale upon which they shall be conducted, and shall superintend the affairs of the Society in general.

XVIII. The General Committee shall meet on the Second Monday in every Month, and oftener if needful, the other Committees as often, and at such places, as shall be by them agreed on; their Meetings to be always opened with reading a Form of Prayer composed for that purpose, or one or more suitable prayers selected from the Liturgy. Five Members shall be necessary to compose a General Committee, and Three each of the others. In case of equality of votes, the Chairman shall be entitled to a second or casting vote.

XIX. The Patrons, Vice-Patrons, and President, Vice-Presidents, Treasurer, Secretaries, and Assistant Secretary shall be considered ex-officio Members of all Committees.

XX. Governors, being Members of the Established Church, shall be entitled to attend and vote at all Meetings of the General Committee.

XXI. All Payments on account of the Society shall be signed by Three of the General Committee, in Committee, and the Secretary or Assistant Secretary.

XXII. The Committee shall have power to appoint such Officers and Assistants as they shall deem necessary for the well-conducting of the affairs of the Society, subject to the approbation of the next Annual Meeting.

XXIII. Five Auditors shall be appointed by the Committee annually, for the purpose of auditing the Accounts of the Society, of whom Three shall be chosen from the General Body. Three shall be a Quorum.

XXIV. The Life Subscriptions, or a sufficient part thereof, to be equal to the Subscriptions of the existing Members for Life, shall be placed in the Public Funds, in the names of Four of the General Committee; who, on their acceptance of the trust, shall sign a declaration of the nature of it, and that they will relinquish the same whenever called upon for that purpose by the General Committee.

OF MISSIONARIES.

XXV. In the appointment of Candidates for the Missionary Office, the following course shall be pursued.——The Committee of Correspondence having found a person supposed to be suitable, shall determine by ballot to nominate him to the General Committee. Previous to the day of nomination, each Member of the General Committee shall receive notice of such nomination. On the day of nomination, a report shall be made by some Member of the Committee of Correspondence of his qualifications, and the General Committee shall then proceed to ballot for him, unless any Member shall declare that he wishes for further information; in which case the ballot shall be deferred till the next meeting of the General Committee. In the ballot of either Committee, the agreement of at least three-fourths of the Members present shall be necessary to his election.

XXVI. A Candidate thus chosen shall receive instruction in such parts of knowledge, and be prepared in such a manner for his future employment, as the Committee of Correspondence shall judge expedient.

XXVII. If, during such preparation, any Two Members of the General Committee should see cause to disapprove of his principles or conduct, they may submit the subject to a special meeting of the Committee; and, if deemed proper, the Committee may appoint another ballot to determine whether he shall be continued as a Candidate; of which special notice shall be given to each Member.

XXVIII. Each Candidate shall consider himself as engaged to go to any part of the world, and at any time, which the Committee shall choose; respect however being had to his personal circumstances, or to any previous stipulation made by him with the Society. As soon as he quits England, he shall keep a regular Journal of his studies and proceedings; a copy of which he shall send, as often as opportunity shall serve, to the Secretaries.

XXIX. Each Candidate, after due preparation, shall, if not admitted to Holy Orders, be appointed by the Committee to act as a Catechist. If admitted to Holy Orders, he shall be appointed a Missionary.

XXX. The Missionaries who go out under the direction of this Society shall be allowed to visit home, permission having been previously obtained from the General Committee: and after having laboured in the cause of the Society to the satisfaction of the Committee, at the Stations committed to their care, until age or infirmity prevent further exertion, suitable provision shall be made to render their remaining days comfortable. The General Committee shall have the power to assist also, in particular cases, the dependent relatives of those Missionaries, who, by devoting themselves to the service of the Society, are prevented from contributing to their support.

XXXI. A friendly intercourse shall be maintained with other Protestant Societies engaged in the same benevolent design of propagating the Gospel of Jesus Christ.

XXXII. It is recommended to every Member of the Society to pray to Almighty God for a blessing upon his designs, under the full conviction, that, unless he "prevent us in all our doings with his most gracious favour, and further us with his continual help," we cannot reasonably hope to meet with persons of a proper spirit and qualifications to be Missionaries, or expect their endeavours to be crowned with success.

STATIONS AND NAMES OF MISSIONARIES AND OTHER LABOURERS.

 In the following List, the Wives of the Missionaries are included, though their specific employment is not stated: as it is always expected by the Society, that they should lay themselves out to do good, in every practicable way, among the Native Females; not only by cultivating familiar intercourse with them, but by Education of the Children and Instruction of the Adults.

By the designation "Missionary" is meant one who is in Holy Orders: the other terms used will, it is presumed, sufficiently explain themselves.

CHURCH MISSIONARY ASSOCIATIONS.

WHEN a disposition appears in any place to assist the designs of the Society by establishing an Association in its support, a Meeting of persons favourable to such a measure should be called. The friends who meet for this purpose should form themselves into a "Church Missionary Association, in aid of the Church Missionary Society for Africa and the East;" and should proceed to appoint a Committee and proper Officers.

In large Towns, comprehending several Parishes, it may be expedient to appoint a President, Vice-Presidents, a Treasurer, and a Secretary; with a pretty numerous Committee, composed of persons from the different parishes.

In Parochial Associations, a Treasurer, a Secretary, and a smaller Committee, under the Presidency of the Clergyman, may be best suited to conduct the business.

It may sometimes be found expedient to form Associations in Separate Congregations in the same Parish, rather than one Association in the parish at large; and in this case also, a Treasurer, Secretary, and Committee, under the Presidency of the Clergyman, will suffice to accomplish the object.

In a Voluntary Union of Friends, whether the members of the same family, the children of a school, or persons connected by affinity or friendship, such arrangements may be made as may prove most convenient to themselves.

In this manner, benevolent persons, willing to assist the designs of the Society, from the domestic circle to the largest town, may unite for a purpose most beneficial to their own minds, while it expresses a due regard to the glory of God in the salvation of the Heathen, and a proper sense of their own infinite obligations to Divine Mercy.

LAWS AND REGULATIONS SUITABLE FOR ASSOCIATIONS.

I. Annual Members of this Association shall be, all persons subscribing annually One Guinea or upward, or, if Clergymen, Half-a-Guinea; and also such Persons as shall collect in its behalf One Shilling or upward per week.

II. Life Members shall be Benefactors of Ten Guineas or upward, or, if Clergymen, such as shall contribute Congregational Collections to the amount of Twenty Guineas, and Executors paying bequests of Fifty Pounds.

III. Annual Governors shall be Subscribers of Five Guineas per Annum.

IV. Life Governors shall be Benefactors of Fifty Pounds.

V. Members will be entitled to receive the Reports of this Association, and also the Annual Reports of the Parent Society, and to vote at all their General Meetings: but Collectors of One Shilling and upward per week will further receive a Copy of each Monthly Number of the Missionary Register.—Governors will be entitled to receive the Reports; and, if Members of the Established Church, to vote at all Committee and General Meetings of both the Association and the Parent Society.—Clergymen will have the same privilege as Governors.

VI. The business of the Association shall be under the management of a Patron, a President, Vice-Presidents, a Treasurer, Secretaries, Governors, and a Committee not exceeding ——— Lay Members of the Established Church, and of all Clergymen who are Members of this Association. The Committee to meet on the ——— in the months of January, April, July, and October, at ——— o'clock; Five Members being competent to act.

VII. The object of the Committee shall be, to call forth the zeal of well-disposed Persons, and particularly those of the Established Church, in support of the Church Missionary Society; and to recommend proper persons who may offer themselves as Missionaries to the Parent Society—to disperse as widely as possible Missionary Information—to promote the formation of Branch Associations—and to procure Collections and other Contributions.

VIII. The whole of the Funds so obtained, after deducting incidental expenses only, shall be remitted to the Church Missionary Society in aid of its designs.

IX. A General Meeting shall be held annually, on such day in the month of ——— as shall be found expedient (of which due notice shall be given), when a Report of the Proceedings of the Association shall be presented.

ROMANS, XII. 5.

WE, BEING MANY, ARE ONE BODY IN CHRIST, AND EVERY ONE MEMBERS ONE OF ANOTHER.

THE relative duties which man, as a social being, owes to those who are connected with him in the same community, have not been disregarded under any economy pretending to the character of a religious system. The reciprocal obligations of parent and child, of husband and wife, of master and servant, of ruler and subject, are nominally respected by the families of the world, whether Christian or Pagan; and acknowledged, to a certain extent at least, wherever the decencies and harmony and order of civilized life are holden in honour.

But it belonged to Him who first gave a more enlarged sense to the title of neighbour—to Him who inculcated on his followers a lesson as remarkable for its novelty as for the importance of its results—that all who name the name of Christ are brethren—to teach the world, that, in addition to the ties of friendship or of consanguinity or of national and local association, there is another more disinterested and spiritual bond, which connects in holy fellowship the children of widely-distant lands, sons of Shem and Ham and Japheth; which unites, as by a natural compact, those who have no other interest in common than what is derived from a consciousness of being mutually called in one hope of their calling.

The principle on which this catholic spirit is founded is explicitly stated by St. Paul, in the chapter whence the text is taken. He addresses himself, in the first verse, to his brethren; beseeching them, with a solemn and affectionate appeal, by the mercies of God. After urging the surrender of themselves, body and soul, to the Lord, he proceeds to illustrate, by a striking and natural similitude, the connection virtually existing, under the new dispensation, between all who, as sons of Adam, having originally inherited the same corruption, are made heirs, through the hope of the Gospel, of the same life in Christ: As we have many members in one body, and all members have not the same office; so we, being many, are one body in Christ, and every one members one of another. He afterwards subjoins the obvious practical inferences which result from this truth: Let love be without dissimulation. . . . Be kindly affectioned one to another with brotherly love. . . . Be of the same mind one toward another.

The Christian therefore, according to this doctrine, must look beyond the narrow sphere of his own immediate family not only to that larger circle with which he comes into personal contact by his engagements of business or of friendly intercourse, but to that still more extended universal community, gathered out of all nations under heaven, of which he himself forms an individual member, and whereof Christ is head. He is reminded of this duty by a special injunction: Look not every man on his own things, but every man also on the things of others. Nor is the exercise of this sympathy without its issue of good reflected on himself. It opens to him an enlarged view of the divine love. It elevates the character of his belief. It impresses on his mind a deeper sense of that comprehensive scheme of mercy, whereby the heathen are given for the inheritance of the Redeemer, and the uttermost parts of the earth for His possession. It inspires a livelier and better interest in the glories of that period, when, from the rising of the sun even to the going down of the same, the name of the Lord shall be great among the Gentiles; and in every place incense shall be offered unto His name, and a pure offering; for His name shall be great among the heathen.

Wonderful indeed is that spiritual economy, and worthy of the wisdom of the eternal mind, which has provided in this holy bond of attraction a counterpoise for the selfishness of the human heart! Take away this bond, and what a chaos would the world present! what a scene of conflicting interests and jarring passions! what exclusiveness, and disunion, and want of sympathy! how much uncharitable and narrow policy! how many barriers between Esau and Jacob, brethren of one blood! The earth would become, what the Hindoo world is at present, a land of castes; where the hand of each would be, as that of Ishmael, against every man, and every man's hand against each.* But now, by virtue of that relationship on which the Apostle dwells, we, being many, are one body in Christ. Being many, and differing in certain circumstances—in spiritual gifts for instance, in external advantages, in opportunities of usefulness, yet all participate in certain common defects, all are offered certain common privileges. All are alike born in sin, and the children of wrath, as heirs of corruption. All are alike invited to partake of that remedy which Christ has provided against this deadly evil, by "opening the kingdom of heaven to all believers." Hence it is that Christians move not through the world as unconnected and independent beings; but are organized and knit together in love; branches, as it were, of one vine, grafted on one stock, fed from one root, planted in one vineyard. They meet in Christ, as the head of the body, and the centre of their unity.

* "The system of castes .... tends, more than any thing else the Devil has yet invented, to destroy the feelings of general benevolence, and to make nine-tenths of mankind the hopeless slaves of the remainder."—Narrative of a Journey &c. by Bishop Heber, vol. II. p. 384.

Through Him they look up to His Father, and to their Father, who is in heaven.

Here, then, we find a powerful motive of action. Sirs, ye are brethren! Brotherly love will not rest satisfied without striving to add new members to the household and family of Christ's church. It concerts aggressive measures against the powers of darkness. It devises the means of raising new trophies to the glory of the Redeemer. It is not blind to the sad truth, that, even in a nominally Christian land, they are not all Israel who are of Israel. It knows that, even there, many are to be found who are not yet members of one body in Christ. Even there, are objects enough to awaken every feeling of that charity which seeketh not her own, and to call forth in their behalf all the resources at our command. Even there, a war is to be maintained against the united influence of ignorance and sin; the channels of divine truth are to be cleansed and purified, prepossessions to be removed, waning affections to be revived, slumbering energies to be roused into action, pride to be abased, profanity to be reclaimed, error to be rectified, dulness to be quickened; in a word, Satan to be put down, and God exalted in his stead.

These, however, are the ordinary duties which devolve on the members of every Christian state, without exception. If any man provide not for his own, he .... is worse than an infidel. But there are countries so circumstanced by position or power or knowledge, as to be required to look beyond their own individual household of faith, and to do good to all men. They are to create a brotherhood in the bonds of the Gospel out of those who, though now aliens and separated from the family of God, through the knowledge of Christ may yet be admitted within its pale. On our own nation, for instance, this obligation presses, I scruple not to say it, with a weight which has not yet been felt in due degree. We owe a debt, of which we are reminded with a cogency that neither indifference, nor lukewarmness, nor selfishness can weaken, by the nature of the land itself which has been given us for a dwelling, and by the maritime genius of its people. The very purposes of Providence would seem to be frustrated, if we failed to become a missionary nation. The standard of the cross, through God's mercies, has been long planted on our shores. Is it not fitting that our hands should be lent to the task of rearing it in those spiritual deserts which are not yet the kingdoms of God and of his Christ? The doctrines of Christianity, by the divine favour, have been preserved in our Protestant church, free, as we believe, from material error, and as pure and powerful for the salvation of souls as in the days of their original revelation to man. Is it not fitting, that, when many run to and fro on the spur of secular enterprise, or in thirst of gain, the knowledge of the Gospel should be increased? and that they who occupy their business in great waters should carry with them some messenger of peace, commissioned to declare the gracious promise, that whosoever shall call upon the Name of the Lord shall be saved? Are they not, beyond all others, invited to obey the divine command, which, eighteen centuries ago, first gave authority and sanction for missionary labours—Go . . . teach all nations?

Truly may it be said, that there can be no more certain symptom of a low state of religious feeling than apathy on this subject. Where men think strongly, they act with energy. Where they are deeply impressed with the importance of an object, they are zealously affected in promoting it. The very Pharisees would compass sea and land to make one proselyte. Should evangelists in the Christian cause limit the sphere of their ministrations, and be slow to preach the Gospel in the regions beyond them, where men yet offer their sons and their daughters unto devils? The Jew Paul confessed himself debtor both to the Greeks and to the Barbarians; though, as an Israelite of the seed of Abraham, and tribe of Benjamin, his heart's desire and prayer to God for Israel was, that they might be saved. He thought it not much that he was in journeyings often, in perils of waters, in perils of robbers, in perils by his own countrymen, in perils by the heathen, in perils in the city, in perils in the wilderness, in perils in the sea, in perils among false brethren; in weariness and painfulness, in watchings often, in hunger and thirst, in fastings often, in cold and nakedness. He was ready to spend and be spent in his Master's service. See him at Lystra, rending his clothes, and running in among the people, and periling his life in his jealousy for God's honour!

See him at Miletus, stedfastly purposing to go unto Jerusalem, unmoved by the knowledge of the bonds and afflictions which awaited him in every city! See him at Athens, the nursing-mother of idolatry, the very centre of superstitious vanities! As he stood on Areopagus, and looked round on the city of orators and poets, and marked the groves and porches of her philosophers, the concourse of nations thronging to her crowded forum, the monuments of literature and science arising on every side in all the purest forms of art, unmatched as yet by the rivalry of succeeding ages, there would be much in the scene before him to rivet his attention, much to invite research, much to provoke comparison and contrast. As a citizen of no mean city, glorying in the name of Roman, and in the un-purchased freedom of his birthright, he would not view without interest the citadel of that famous people, whose restless activity had long struggled for the dominion of the world, and had coped successfully with the mightiest nations which those times had known.—Such, doubtless, would have been the reflections of Saul, ere his journey to Damascus. Very different, however, were the thoughts which engrossed the soul of the converted Apostle of the Gentiles! His spirit was stirred within him, when he saw the city wholly given to idolatry. He waits no longer for Silas and Timotheus: he longs to turn the inhabitants of a place, where there were almost as many gods as men, from the service of idols, and of Satan in them, to the service of the true and living God in Christ. He disputes in the synagogue with the Jews and with the devout persons, and in the market, daily, with them that met with him. He straightway preaches unto them Jesus and the resurrection.

How happens it, then, that what so stirred the Apostle's spirit, falls with so much deadness on the hearts of the Christian world in general? It cannot, I think, be doubted, whether apathy towards the eternal interests of others must not be considered, in some sort, as indicative of a want of serious feeling respecting the futurity which awaits ourselves. It is no token for good when the sympathies of the heart are checked, or the hand is closed, by the cold and calculating inquiry, Am I my brother's keeper? He who has himself drunk of the well of life, longs to roll away the stone from the top of the well, that others may taste of the same living water. He who has felt his own personal helplessness and inability, and knows by experience that the natural man receiveth not the things that are of God, is touched with a sense of deep compassion for that evil heart of unbelief which is yet dead in trespasses and sin. He who has bowed in deep humility at the foot of the cross, and there has touched, as it were, the extremest hem of Christ's garment, cannot refrain from speaking out of the abundance of his heart. He will tell unceasingly of the Fountain opened for sin and uncleanness; and point to the Lamb slain from the foundation of the world, and rest neither day nor night till the numbers of those are multiplied who join with him in ascribing to the Redeemer power and riches and wisdom and strength, and honour and glory and blessing. His prayer for his brethren, wherever dispersed, will be, like that of his blessed Lord, that they may be delivered from the evil.

Full of brotherly love, grounded on similar principles, the Missionary himself proceeds to his charitable labour. What is it that strengthens him to endure hardships, as a good soldier of Christ? and to go out, like faithful Abraham, not knowing whither he goeth? What weans him from things present, subdues the selfishness and native indolence of his heart, enables him to postpone natural to spiritual affections, cheers in desertion and distress, sustains under mental conflict, and in the absence of human consolations? What teaches him to hope against hope, in that hour of disappointment when the love of many waxeth cold? What to rejoice with trembling, when his prayers are heard, and sinners at the voice of his warning are turned from the error of their ways and live? That same Spirit which wrought so powerfully on the heart of Paul works within him, and imbues him with a zealous desire of winning souls to Christ. He rests not in simple compassion, nor sits down satisfied with bidding his perishing brethren Depart in peace; be ye warmed and filled. He goes out in full assurance of faith, and preaches Jesus and the resurrection on the precedent of apostolical authority. He calls on the world, to come and see the man who told him all things that ever he did. He casts his bread on the waters; he sows the good seed on the stony ground, or on the rock, or among thorns; nothing doubting but that he that soweth in tears shall reap in joy.

In tears, indeed, so far as earthly consolations are considered, the Missionary must expect to sow. It will be grievous to his spirit to see how the form of man, being without God in the world, is utterly debased and degraded. Like his Master, whose badge he bears, he must know how to endure the contradiction of sinners, to bear with the scorn of the proud, the contumely of the ignorant, the neglect of the careless, the hate of the profligate and sensual man. He must be content to be debarred from holding communion with some familiar and like-minded spirit, from taking sweet counsel at the lips of some father and master in Israel, from confirming his own hope by experience of the success of others, or moderating his too sanguine expectations by the example of their failure. He must know how to possess his soul in patience, and to commit his way unto the Lord, who will accomplish that which He pleases, and prosper him in the thing whereto he is sent.

And yet, amidst the tears in which the Missionary is constrained to sow, a source of joy, peculiar to himself, is opened—refreshing as the well of water to Hagar in the wilderness, or as the shadow of a great rock in a weary land. He sees heaven opened; and before him, Jesus, the author and finisher of his faith. He hears those encouraging promises,

I will not leave you comfortless.—Behold, I am with you always, even unto the end of the world.—My grace is sufficient for you. True it is, he is not cheered by the applause or admiration of men: but his motives are not influenced—I had almost said debased—by their praise. His soul may faint within him at the remembrance that he is one of a little band of fewer than fifty Christian men, on whom it rests to convey the name of the Gospel among more than one hundred millions of idolaters, scattered over a country of fifteen hundred thousand square miles. Yet at the sight of these immense fields, already whitening, by God's Providence, unto the harvest, his mind is filled with a sense of thankfulness, and with a joy with which the stranger intermeddleth not. Though it may not be given to him to turn many to righteousness, and the world may perhaps think, in the severity of its judgment, that God has not set His seal to his ministry and has disowned his feeble labours, there are still the faithful few whom he has been permitted to rescue from the god of this world, his crowns of rejoicing and exceeding great reward, his own sons in the faith, on whose foreheads his Father's name is written, members of one body in Christ, who know their shepherd, and are known of Him. It is enough for him if but one stony heart is melted into love, or one listless eye awakened into intelligence, and taught to look stedfastly on the mercies of Heaven. He hails with humble thankfulness the soul that has been given to his prayers; and counts it as an earnest of that glorious season, when the Lord will famish all the gods of the earth, and men shall worship Him every one from his place, even all the isles of the heathen.

How, then, it is time to ask, is the consummation of prophecy, humanly speaking, to be accomplished? Some insight into the divine counsels may perhaps be gained by looking back to the gradual increase of those MINISTERS OF THE NEW TESTAMENT, through whom the Lord has been adding to the Church daily such as should be saved, during the ages past. First was heard a single voice in the solitude of the wilderness, preaching repentance, for the kingdom of heaven was at hand. Next were sent forth the Twelve, on a special mission, and commanded to go to the lost sheep of the house of Israel. Then other Seventy also, whose message was to every city and place whither the Lord would come. Then followed the Elders, and Saints, and Martyrs of the primitive ages, men whose praise is in all the churches, who counted not their lives dear unto themselves, so that they might finish their course with joy, and the ministry which they had received of the Lord Jesus, to testify the Gospel of the grace of God. And still as from time to time, during the lapse of many centuries, some bright candlestick has been removed out of its place, by those inscrutable dispensations which seem intended to remind us that the Lord needs not the agency of a Paul or an Apollos to work His purposes, other men of God have entered successively into the field of labour, bent on doing the work of evangelists, and on giving, if permitted, full proof of their ministry. The time has not been in the history of missions, when God has left Himself without witness: and though it cannot yet be said that great is the company of the Preachers, yet on this very day, aye, and at this very hour, many a teacher of Truth, whose tent is pitched among the heathen in every quarter of the globe, is remembering with joy how his brethren here are occupied; and is present with them in spirit, though not in the flesh; and is bending the knee in unity of devotion to the Lord of the harvest, that he will raise up many helpers, and send forth more labourers into the vineyard.

There is indeed, in the signs of the present times, that which would have stirred the spirit of a Paul within him. Never was there a period, since the veil was rent which shut out the Gentiles from the sight of the Holiest, when the bow has been seen so plainly in the clouds, denoting that God has not forgotten His covenant with man. The leaven is clearly at work among the nations; a spirit of inquiry has gone forth; the spell is dissolving day by day; the darkness becomes less gross; the sun of righteousness shines over a wider horizon. It may be that the time is at hand when this Gospel of the Kingdom shall be no longer preached among a handful of the people, on the house-top, or upon the mountains, secretly and by stealth, by sufferance or connivance; but in all the world, for a witness to all nations. A great door and effectual is open to us; and though there be many adversaries, and principally that old and greatest Adversary of all, whose fury will break forth yet more fiercely when he sees that the strongholds of his kingdom are in danger, yet if it be a door that God hath opened, who shall shut it? The time of this ignorance God winked at, but now commandeth all men everywhere to repent.

It is time, however, to close this subject; and to commend it, as I venture to do most earnestly and most solemnly, to your own further meditation, and to your secret prayer. But before I conclude, I cannot refrain from adverting, very briefly, to certain reflections of a practical tendency, which have been suggested to my own mind while occupied with the foregoing considerations. If there is in them that which can serve to edify, may He, in whose hands are the preparations and disposal of all hearts, accompany them with His Holy Spirit, and impress them by His grace upon us!

1. It seems to be highly important, with a view to the benefit of our own Christian progress, to cultivate a strong and serious sense of the duty of co-operation, in enlarging the boundaries of the Redeemer's Kingdom. The heart is very often as selfish on religious subjects, as in matters which concern our earthly and temporal interests. We might attain a greater measure of spirituality, if we could learn—not indeed to withdraw our thoughts from the contemplation of our own individual need of mercy—but to represent to ourselves in a more lively manner the wants of others, as suggested by the perception of our own. Love to man is set forth on the highest authority, as the test of our love of God. He that loveth not his brother whom he hath seen, how can he love God whom he hath not seen? And this commandment have we from Him, that he who loveth God love his brother also.

2. We are commanded to be like-minded with Christ. Now it is not in the incommunicable attributes of his character, such as his eternal wisdom or almighty power, that we are bidden to participate. It is essentially to the mind of Christ, as evidenced in those properties which fall within the scope of human imitation, that we are to be assimilated. How then was it evidenced in that manifestation of his good-will to man which he sealed by his blood on the cross? How, in his gracious provision, that the blessing of Abraham might come on the Gentiles through Jesus Christ, that there might be neither Jew nor Greek, neither bond nor free, neither male nor female, but all one in Christ Jesus? How was it evidenced in his prayers? Neither pray I for these alone, but for them also which shall believe on me through his word . . . . Father, I will that they also whom Thou hast given me be with me where I am! Nay, we know that his will for the world's welfare is already in part accomplished; for they who sing the new song, in the Apocalyptic vision, are the saints who have been redeemed to God by

His blood, out of every kindred, and tongue, and people, and nation.

3. Again: An enlargement of Christian charity towards our earthly brethren is in strict unison with those feelings which pervade the glorified saints and angels, and all the blessed company of heaven. We know that there is joy in heaven over one sinner that repenteth. What a subject must it be for exultation, when the idols of a whole nation are cast at the foot of the Cross! We know that it is one of the themes of praise, every day and night, in the song of the Lamb, that all nations shall come and worship before him. What a privilege to be among the honoured instruments of effecting this miraculous change!

4. Lastly: We are to be one with God, as well as every one members one of another. Now the very essence and nature of God is Love—His name is Love. It is but too certain, therefore, that we are still far removed from that unity with the Godhead, into which all the Sons of God will one day be translated, if we have no desire to please our neighbour for his good to edification. Try yourselves, brethren, by this test. Let each ask himself, whether he has done all that might have been expected, considering his means, his knowledge, his power, his influence, his worldly substance, his mental endowments, his sense of mercies received, his consciousness of the gross darkness which still covers so large a portion of the earth—to take away from this nation that reproach which was uttered against the earliest preachers of the Gospel, at the very first promulgation of Christianity, by one taught from above: All seek their own, not the things which are Jesus Christ's. There are few—I had almost said there are none—so situated, as that passiveness in hastening the coming of Christ's Kingdom, among those who are still sitting in the shadow of death, can be within the line of their duty. I am not ignorant of—God forbid I should be insensible to!—the religious wants of our own country, of our own local districts, nay, of our own parochial neighbourhoods. I would not withdraw, from the channels by which they are at present watered, one drop of the stream of charity. But we know, on inspired authority, that he that openeth his hand maketh himself rich; and that he is blessed by the Giver of all good gifts in double measure, who casts his mite into Christ's treasury, in token of his love towards his Master's cause. I would say, therefore, to each who is sensible of his blessed condition in living beneath the influence of Christian revelation—in the language of a text once heard before within these holy walls on a similar occasion, and not heard without effect—Freely ye have received, freely give: give according to your several opportunities; give your personal ministrations; give your pecuniary aid; give your word in season; give—what all can give—your prayers to the work. May God grant you hearts to know and feel the nature of this duty! May a spirit of fervent charity be enlarged within you! May you realize within your own bosoms, through divine grace, something of that heavenly state and spiritual temper which will one day characterize the whole city of God on earth! For the time shall come, and it cometh perhaps quickly, when, according to the prophecy, the tabernacle of God shall be with men; and He will dwell with them, and they shall be His people: and God Himself shall be with them, and be their God. And all men shall be blessed in Christ; all nations shall call Him Blessed.

OF THE

COMMITTEE.

DELIVERED, IN SUBSTANCE, TO THE

ANNUAL MEETING,

HELD MAY 6, 1828.

AT FREEMASONS' HALL, GREAT QUEEN STREET.

REPORT.

In reporting the Proceedings of the Society during its Twenty-eighth Year, the Committee desire to acknowledge with gratitude the good hand of God upon them, and the various indications of His blessing which have been vouchsafed to their labours.

FUNDS.

The Committee regret to state, that there has been a defalcation in the Income of the Society during the past year; while its Expenditure has, during the same period, been largely augmented.

SUB-COMMITTEE ON THE STATE OF THE FUNDS.

It having been found, on auditing the Accounts for the half year ending on the 30th of September, that the deficiency amounted to several thousand pounds, a Sub-Committee was formed, for the purpose both of investigating the causes of that deficiency, and of ascertaining whether any diminution of expenditure could be safely and advantageously effected. The Sub-Committee thus appointed were of opinion that various causes had operated to produce the deficiency; but that it was to be chiefly ascribed to the want of adequate means of visiting existing Associations, and forming new ones.

Official Visitors of Associations.

The Sub-Committee therefore recommended, that the plan of engaging yearly Four Clergymen for a period of three months each should be abandoned; and that Two Clergymen should be engaged, to be nominated "Official Visitors of Associations," who should devote their whole time to the objects of the Society, employing at least six months in each year in visiting and forming Associations. To each of the Visitors a salary of 300*l.* per annum has been assigned. In prosecution of this plan, the Rev. Frederick Leicester has been appointed one of the Official Visitors; but although applications have been made in many different quarters, the Committee have not yet been able to meet with a second individual of suitable qualifications to undertake that office.

New Publication.

The proceedings of the Sub-Committee having brought under their consideration the circumstances connected with the Society's Publications, they recommended the printing a Monthly Paper; containing, in addition to the Home Proceedings of the Society and a more detailed acknowledgment of Contributions, Extracts from the Correspondence of the Missionaries; for the purpose of more widely diffusing Missionary Intelligence, and in the hope of exciting an enlarged interest in the great object of the Society's labours. This recommendation was adopted by the Committee; and the First Number, under the title of the "Church Missionary Monthly Paper," was published in January last, being intended principally for contributors of not less than twelve shillings a year.

These arrangements, and some others recommended by the Sub-Committee with a view to retrieve the Funds of the Society, were communicated in two Circulars to the Associations *.

Examination of the Expenditure.

The Sub-Committee also entered into a full and minute examination of the whole Expenditure of the Society; having held thirteen meetings in the prosecution of this inquiry, and of the other branches of the reference to them. In the result, it appeared to the Sub-Committee that no very considerable saving of expense would be the immediate consequence of their labours; as they were of opinion, that the General Expenditure was satisfactorily conducted, and did not admit of any material retrenchment, without relinquishing some of those objects of usefulness which the Society has hitherto prosecuted. They however recommended various arrangements with reference to the different heads of Expenditure; which the Committee hope may eventually lead to some reduction in those branches of it wherein reduction can be effected consistently with the interests of the Society.

The state of the Society's Finances induced the Committee, at the suggestion of the Funds' Sub-Committee, not to make the usual Grant to Bishop's College, Calcutta.

INCOME AND EXPENDITURE.

Though the appeal to the Public on the defalcation in the Funds, which was circulated for several months previously to the 31st of March, was kindly and liberally answered in many quarters, yet, at the close of the year, the actual deficiency in the Receipts amounted to the sum of 1835*l.* 19*s.* 8*d.*: the Gross Amount on account of the General Fund, for the year ending March 31, being 43,260*l.* 4*s.* 4*d.* The excess of Expenditure for General Purposes during the same period amounted to 9557*l.* 13*s.* 2*d.*; exclusive of 2525*l.* advanced out of the General Fund toward the completion of the Institution Buildings: the Total Expenditure in the year being 52,817*l.* 17*s.* 6*d.*, including the sum of 1730*l.* 6*s.* 11*d.* for Missionary Registers and Quarterly Papers supplied to the Associations.

The Receipts, during the year, on account of the Institution Building Fund have amounted to the sum of 564*l.* 19*s.* 6*d.*

Without entering into the particulars which form the excess in the Foreign Expenditure, the Committee deem it requisite to state, that it falls principally under the following heads:—the purchase of Premises for the Mission at Calcutta; the erection of Buildings in the Missions; the increasing number of Missionaries; and the return home of Missionaries and their families.

Though a considerable portion of this excess arises out of occasional charges; yet, on a full examination of the subject, the Committee are constrained to state, that the operations of the Society cannot be continued on their present scale without an increase of the permanent income of the Society. They have, therefore, found themselves compelled to fix a limit to the expenses of the Missions; and to prohibit any enlargement of their operations, under the existing circumstances of the Society.

Before the Committee take leave of this subject, they would particularly call the attention of the Society to the consideration of those circumstances which affect the proceedings of a Missionary Institution, in reference to its necessary expenditure. The very formation of a Mission contemplates its gradual extension; and that extension involves a progressive augmentation of unavoidable expenses, in the multiplication of Missionaries, Catechists, and Schoolmasters, the extension of Schools, the erection of Buildings, and—which, under God, is the end of all—the accession of Converts, with all the contingencies resulting from these different heads of charge: nor will this state of things cease in a Mission, until those Converts grow to such numbers, and are advanced to such maturity of character, as to provide from among themselves for the support of a Christian Ministry and its concomitant expenses. It is moreover to be borne in mind, that the reception and training up of Missionary Candidates, though essential to the very being of a Missionary Society, tends directly to the augmentation of its permanent expenses, exactly in the ratio in which it brings forward Agents beyond what may be required to supply the place of those who are removed from the scene of their labours. In fact, this tendency to increased expenditure arises out of the exigencies of the Heathen World; and the obligation to provide for it is only a part of that more extended one which binds Christians to undertake and to prosecute Missionary operations among them.

DEPUTATION TO BASLE.

The arrangements entered into with the Committee of the Bâsle Missionary Society for the reception of Students, from thence to be employed in the Missions of the Church Missionary Society, were adverted to in the 22d Report, page 52.

In consequence of these arrangements, several Students have, from time to time, been received from the Bâsle Institution, who are usefully labouring in the Society's different Missions. Of the Individuals thus received, two have, on the application of the Committee, been admitted by the Lord Bishop of London to Holy Orders in the Church of England; and a third was, at his own instance, admitted to Episcopal Orders in Calcutta, by the late Bishop Heber.

With a view to consolidate the connection thus subsisting between the Society and the Bâsle Institution, a Deputation, consisting of the Senior Clerical Secretary and the Assistant Secretary, was appointed to proceed to Bâsle, in order to confer with the Directors of the Institution on various subjects in reference to the mutual interests of the two bodies. The Instructions of the Committee were delivered to the Deputation at their Monthly Meeting, on the 11th of June. The Deputation embarked in the Steam Packet for Ostend on the 20th of the same Month, and arrived at Bâsle on the 3d of July. They were received with the greatest Christian kindness and cordiality by the Inspector of the Institution, the Rev. T. Blumhardt; and, by the desire of the Bâsle Committee, were hospitably received into the Institution during their stay in that city. Every facility was afforded to the Deputation, to enable them fully to inform themselves on all the points referred to them in their Instructions; and they were throughout treated by the Committee of the Institution in the most friendly and confidential manner.

The general result of the visit of the Deputation was highly satisfactory; and promises to cement more closely the friendly relations subsisting between the two Societies, to their mutual advantage. A copious Abstract of the Report of the Deputation was printed in the Missionary Register for Oct. 1827, pp. 457—462.

EXERTIONS OF FRIENDS.

The Committee desire to express their thanks to the Friends who have kindly assisted the Society; either by Preaching, by assisting at Meetings, or by furthering Local Associations in its behalf.

The Committee express their earnest hope, that other Clergymen in different parts of the country will kindly assist the Society in visiting its Associations; experience having fully convinced them, that, unless this help be afforded, a considerable diminution in the Receipts of the Society will be the consequence.

In noticing the Exertions of Friends, the Committee deplore the loss which the Society has experienced in the death of Mr. Compigne, who, for twenty-one years successively, took an active part in the councils of the Society.

Since the last Anniversary, the Provost of Oriel College, Oxford, having been appointed to the Bishopric of Llandaff, his Lordship's name has been transferred from the List of the Vice-Presidents to that of the Vice-Patrons.

The Committee have also the pleasure of numbering among the Vice-Patrons, the Lord Bishop of Sodor and Man, and the Bishop of Calcutta.

NEW ASSOCIATIONS.

Thirteen New Associations or Branches have been formed in England, during the year; beside Twenty in aid of the Hibernian Auxiliary.

Various Presents of Fancy-work, and of articles of Clothing and Rewards, in aid of Female Education in India, Africa, and the West Indies, have been received at the Society's House, from Ladies in different parts of the Kingdom, and from the British Ladies' Maternal Society; for which the Committee request the kind Donors respectively to accept their thanks.

MISSIONARIES AND STUDENTS.

It has pleased God, in His wisdom, to deprive the Society, by the hand of Death, of five of its Agents; beside several, of whose services the Missions have been bereaved from other causes. On the other hand, the Committee are thankful to state, that they have been enabled to send forth, to labour in various parts of the Heathen World, since the last Anniversary, Twenty Individuals, exclusive of Four who have resumed their arduous work in Sierra Leone.

MISSIONARIES.

In connection with the WEST-AFRICA MISSION the following circumstances have occurred. The Rev. John Gerber, with the Committee's sanction, left Sierra Leone on the 3d of March 1827, on a visit to Europe, and landed at Plymouth on the 5th of May. About the middle of March, Mr. and Mrs. Pierce left the Society's service; Mr. Pierce accepting a situation under the Local Government. On the 23d of April, Mr. Frederick Gatesman died at Freetown, whither he had been removed from Leopold for medical aid, after about a week's illness. Three days after, the Rev. W. K. Betts embarked for England, accompanied by the Widow of Mr. Gatesman; and landed at Sunderland, June 26th. Mr. Thomas Heighway, who arrived in the Colony on the 9th of December, was early called away from his labours: he was taken ill of the Country fever, at York, on the 30th of that month, and died at Freetown, January 7th, rejoicing in God. On the 21st of February, Mr. John Weeks and his Wife, having both suffered in health, embarked at Freetown, and landed at Plymouth on the 12th of April, much benefited by the voyage. Mr. Gerber and Mr. Betts have since returned to the Colony.

In the NORTH-INDIA MISSION, the Committee have to deplore the loss of the Rev. Abdool Messeeh, who died at Lucknow on the 4th of March of last year, after labouring fourteen years in the Society's service, with considerable success. Mrs. Wilkinson (of Gorruckpore) being obliged to leave India, in consequence of repeated indisposition, sailed from Calcutta December 22, 1826, and landed, in improved health, with her three children, at Gravesend, on the 27th of May. The health of the Rev. John Perowne (of Burdwan) also failing, he embarked, with Mrs. Perowne and their three children, on the 8th of April 1827, and arrived at Plymouth, September the 5th, much benefited by the voyage. The Rev. William Greenwood (of Chunar) has, with the concurrence of the Calcutta Committee, accepted a Mastership in the Calcutta Grammar School.

Mrs. Taylor, wife of Mr. Henry Clarke Taylor, of Jamaica, departed this life on the 10th of August; and was followed, on the 19th, by Mr. Thomas Jones, who laboured at Papine in the same Island. The alteration of circumstances in the Society's Schools in Antigua has led to the separation from them of Mr. Charles Thwaites, Mr. Patrick Skirrett, and some subordinate Teachers.

The health of the Rev. John Raban is not yet sufficiently restored to allow of his re-joining the African Mission; and the Rev. J. Fenn remains, for the present, in this Country.

DEPARTURES AND ARRIVALS OF MISSIONARIES.

The Rev. Paul Pacifique Schaffter, a Lutheran Clergyman from the Bâsle Institution, embarked on board the "Clyde," Captain Munro, on the 29th of May 1827, for Madras, where he arrived on the 30th of September, and shortly after proceeded to Mayaveram. On the 16th of June, the Rev. John Latham and Mrs. Latham embarked for Calcutta, on board the "Marquess Wellington," Captain Alfred Chapman, and landed at that Presidency, October the 26th. June the 20th, the Rev. Christian Lewis Korck, M.D. and Mr. John Kitto, a Printer, sailed for Malta, in the "Wilberforce," Captain Dench: they arrived there on the 30th of July: Dr. Korck subsequently proceeded to Smyrna; and from thence, on the 2d of January last, to Greece. The Rev. William Yate, and Mr. Charles Baker and his Wife, embarked at Woolwich on the 14th of July, by the grant of Government, on board the "Sovereign" Convict Ship, Captain M'Kellar, for New South-Wales, on their way to New Zealand: they sailed from Deal on the 22d of July; reached Hobart Town, Van Diemen's Land, November 19th; and resumed the voyage to Sydney, December the 12th. The Rev. Thomas Davey and Mrs. Davey sailed from Plymouth, on their return to Sierra Leone, in H. M. S. Eden, Captain W. F. W. Owen, who generously granted them a passage, as he had done on their visit home. The Committee wish to acknowledge the high sense which they entertain of the very great kindness and attention shewn to them by Captain Owen on these occasions. Mr. and Mrs. Davey landed at Freetown on the 2d of September.

Mr. Ebenezer Collins sailed from Deal on the 14th of October, in the "Golden Spring," Capt. Pritchard; and landed in Jamaica on the 1st of December. He was followed by Mr. William Manning, who embarked at Gravesend, Dec. 9th, on board the "John Shand," Capt. Innes, and landed at Kingston in the latter end of February, after a very stormy passage. Two other Catechists, Mr. John Armstrong and Mr. Charles Carter, embarked on the 24th of October for Demerara, on board the "Lady Dunmore," Captain Owen, and reached their destination on the 5th of December: Mr. Armstrong is to labour in Essequibo, and Mr. Carter in Demerara. Mr. Thomas Heighway and Mr. Edmund Boston, with Mrs. Heighway, sailed from Plymouth, for Sierra Leone, in the "St. Andrew," Captain Deiper, on the 18th of November, in company with the Rev. W. K. Betts and the Rev. John Gerber, who were returning to their labours in that Colony, and Mrs. Gerber: they all arrived in safety at Freetown Dec. the 9th; but Mr. Heighway soon finished his earthly course, as before stated. The Rev. Charles Friend and the Rev. Ralph Eteson, and Mrs. Eteson, destined to Benares, sailed from Gravesend, for Calcutta, on board the "Ganges," Capt. Lloyd, on the 11th of April; and on the next day, Mr. Peter Brenner embarked for Malta, on board the "Charlotte Wylie," Capt. Jeeb.

All the Missionaries, whose departures were stated in the last Report, have arrived at their respective destinations.

The Rev. J. Norman and his Companions (except Mr. N.'s eldest child, which died on the 31st of October) reached New South-Wales on the 12th of February of last year. On the 26th of April, the Rev. C. F. Schlienz arrived at Malta. The Rev. G. S. Faught and Mrs. Faught, with Miss Stratford, landed at Trincomalee, August the 2d; and proceeded by sea to Colombo, where they arrived on the 24th of September, having stopped in their way to pass some days with the Brethren at Nellore. Miss Stratford has since been married to the Rev. S. Lambrick. The Rev. T. Norton, with his Family, resumed his Station at Allepie on the 20th of November, after having been detained three months in Madras, where they had landed on the 9th of August.

ORDINATION OF MISSIONARIES.

On Trinity Sunday, the Rev. Thomas Davey and the Rev. C. L. Korck, M.D. were admitted to Priest's Orders by the Bishop of London; and Mr. Alfred Nesbit Brown to those of Deacon: and on Sunday the 23d of December, his Lordship ordained the following Students of the Society:—the Rev. Ralph Eteson and the Rev. Charles Friend, Priests; and Mr. John Dixon, Mr. Charles Pinhorn Farrar, and Mr. Joseph Marsh, Deacons.

Eleven Candidates for Missionary Service have been received in the past year.

The want of suitable Missionary Labourers has long been experienced by the Society; and the circumstance that so few are found ready to enter on the fields of labour which are opening on every side, seems to call imperatively on the Members of the Church of Christ, not only to pray that, by a large effusion of the Holy Spirit, zealous and devoted men may be raised up for this important work, but to cultivate in their own hearts that deadness to the world, that entire surrender of the affections to God, and that habit of close communion with Him which will tend to the increase of Missionary zeal in the domestic and social circle.

INSTITUTION AT ISLINGTON.

The Buildings, which the last Report stated to be in progress for the reception of Missionary Students, have been completed.

The Number of those who were preparing for Missionary Labour, at the period of delivering the Report of last year, was Thirty-one: Ten have been since admitted; making a total of Forty-one. Of this number, Fifteen have proceeded to their respective destinations: Two to Sierra Leone, Three to the Mediterranean, Three to North India, One to South India, Two to New Zealand, and Four to the West Indies. Nine others have quitted the Institution; and Seventeen remain there at present.

MISSIONS.

WEST-AFRICA MISSION.

His Excellency, Major-General Sir Neil Campbell, whose appointment to the Government of Sierra Leone was noticed in the last Report, soon followed his predecessor to the grave: he was attacked, in the month of August, by a remittent fever, which, after a few days, terminated in his death. Colonel Denham has been appointed his successor.

COLONY OF SIERRA LEONE.

Soon after his arrival in the Colony, Sir Neil Campbell introduced some new Regulations, considerably affecting the Society's proceedings, as well as its relation to the Government.

By one of these Regulations, the Villages of the Liberated Africans were formed into three Divisions, which received names descriptive of their locality.

The Eastern, or RIVER DISTRICT, comprises Kissey, Wellington, Allen Town, Hastings, Waterloo, and Calmont: these Villages lie in a south-east direction from Freetown, in the order in which they are here mentioned; along the eastern border of the Colony, on the Bunce River and the Timmanee Country. The Central, or MOUNTAIN DISTRICT, comprises Leicester, Gloucester, Regent, Bathurst, Charlotte, and Grassfield. The Western, or SEA DISTRICT, comprises York, Kent, and the Bananas. Wilberforce, in the north-west part of the Colony, at present without any Teacher, will class with the Mountain Villages when it can be provided for. This division of the Colony is well adapted to its object—the efficient and economical application of the labour of Superintendants and Teachers.

By another Regulation, the Society's Missionaries have been relieved from the Civil Superintendency of the Settlements. This employment was not originally sought by them, but was undertaken at the request of Sir Charles Mac Carthy, and has been continued under many instances of painful self-denial: this arrangement will operate beneficially, in rendering a less number of European Missionaries efficient for the Spiritual charge of the Liberated Africans, than was required for the mixed charge of the Settlements.

Another measure is in preparation, which will greatly relieve the Society's Labourers in their Ministry as Missionaries. The time of the Rector of Freetown having been almost entirely occupied by the merely official engagements of his situation, and a serious obstacle to the performance of his spiritual duties being thus raised, the Committee have requested His Majesty's Government to resume the charge of supplying Colonial Chaplains: this request has been acceded to; but the Society is to supply the office by its Missionaries until proper arrangements can be made by Government.

In August 1826, Sir Neil Campbell, conceiving that he could place the EDUCATION OF THE LIBERATED CHILDREN on a more economical footing, and yet render it more efficient by forming them to early habits of industry, directed, as was stated in the last Report, that the Boys should not be retained at school beyond the age of 10 or 12 years; but should then be distributed among the Liberated Adults, with a view to their being actively employed. By this Regulation, the Missionaries were released from the charge of Education; and persons of colour appointed to conduct the Schools, which, it was expected, would be occasionally inspected by the Missionaries and Catechists, who were to have no controul over the Children.

The evils, which have already arisen from this arrangement, have induced the Committee to offer to His Majesty's Ministers to take on themselves the whole charge of the Schools; for it is most obvious, that authority, whether concurrent or divided, if exercised by persons of opposite motives, principles, and habits, must bring on continual and injurious collisions. Government wishes, however, the present system to have a fuller trial, but is ready to concur with the Society in establishing some defined Regulations on the subject.

Freetown.

On the Rev. John Raban leaving Freetown, the Rev. William Betts undertook the charge of it; occasionally visiting the Mountain Villages, till his embarkation at the end of April. The Rev. C. L. F. Haensel had assisted, from his arrival in February; and on Mr. Betts's departure, remained in sole charge of the Station, till Mr. Davey's arrival in September. By a recent arrangement, the Rev. J. G. Wilhelm has been appointed to the Mission Chapel at Gibraltar Town, and will attend to the occasional Services; and Mr. Haensel and Mr. Davey have undertaken alternately the Sunday Services at Freetown, till the arrival of a Government Chaplain from England. The return, in consequence of ill health, of Mr. and Mrs. Weeks, who have been engaged in the management of the Eastern Colonial Schools, has been already noticed.

The labours of the Missionaries have been much interrupted by sickness during the year. The Rev. J. Raban, as the last Report stated, was compelled by illness to leave the Colony in January: Mr. Betts followed him in April, from the same cause; and, in August, Mr. Haensel had an attack of fever, which caused a suspension of his labours for several weeks.

The Services at the Court Room, which have been continued as usual, have been attended by very few Europeans; and a diminution, partly attributable to the impracticability of paying pastoral visits to the Africans, has taken place in the Congregation at Gibraltar Town. On this subject Mr. Haensel writes at Midsummer:—

> The discouragements of the Ministry in Freetown are standing subjects of lamentation. I am adapting my Sermons at the Court Room more and more to the comprehension of those few children who attend; because, few as they are, they form the greater number. The Congregation at Gibraltar Chapel, I deeply regret to say, is falling off. It is much to be wished that the people there should have the full benefit of pastoral labours: preaching is but a small part of these labours.

At Christmas, Mr. Haensel notices some improvement in the attendance both at the Court Room and at Gibraltar Town.

Considerable inconvenience has long been felt, from the want of a suitable Place of Worship at Freetown; but that inconvenience has now been remedied. The Building originally designed for a Church has been divided, and half of it appropriated to the purpose of Public Worship: it was opened on the 13th of January; and the number of persons attending on that and the following Sunday induced the Council to give directions for the fitting-up of the galleries, in order to provide sufficient accommodation for the Congregation. Of the number attending, Mr. Haensel remarks—

> A considerable increase has undoubtedly taken place in the attendance of the Europeans: that of the Coloured Population is still very trifling, considering the populousness of the parish.

The Missionaries stationed at Freetown greatly deplore the obstacles to the due performance of their spiritual duties which have arisen out of their connection with Government: these hindrances Mr. Haensel contrasts with the greater facilities enjoyed by Missionaries of another Denomination:—

While we are surrounded with difficulties, spending our time and strength in performing parochial duties, the Wesleyan Missionaries add Chapel to Chapel—collect Congregation after Congregation within such a distance as they can conveniently visit—appoint Exhorters, as fit men offer—keep Sunday School—visit the prisoners and the sick in the Jail and Hospitals—receive the sheep of their own flock in their house, and become intimately acquainted with them—and admit to the Ordinances such as they believe to be lively Members of Christ's Church.

Mr. Haensel's remark concerning these Labourers is confirmed by a similar one made by Mr. Betts:—

They proceed on the principle of not knowing any thing, but to preach Jesus Christ, and Him crucified. They are resolved to engage in nothing which shall at all divert them from visiting their people and preaching constantly: while the Rector of Freetown sinks in the estimation of the more-discerning of the Africans, who are not able to account for it that he does not engage in the same Evangelical Duties: he has no time to visit the Hospitals, the Jail, and the abodes of sickness, vice, and misery: he has no time for social intercourse with his hearers; nor, by constantly going among them, to evince that he is their spiritual Father and affectionate Minister: the Wesleyan Missionaries have such time, and spend it incessantly in these labours of love. And what is the consequence? They have neat and crowded Chapels, built, in great measure by the voluntary contributions of an affectionate people, whose hearts are attached to their Ministers, and open, through the winning influence of the private attentions which they receive from them, to the public instruction which those Ministers impart. I rejoice in the good which I trust they are doing: I bid them God speed: but I lament, at the same time, that we are not in possession of like advantages.

CHRISTIAN INSTITUTION.

The difficulties which, in the providence of God, have attended the West-Africa Mission, have perhaps fallen more heavily on this most important department of labour than any other; and the frequent interruptions, which have been caused by the scarcity of Christian Teachers, have prevented its efficiency. On Mr. Haensel's arrival in the Colony, there were no Youths in the Institution; and the Building, which had been employed as a place of Education, was greatly out of repair. Estimates for a new Building had been made; and the Governor, who expressed himself in very favourable terms toward Mr. Haensel's design, suggested several situations: but an opportunity having presented itself of purchasing a part of the late Governor Turner's Estate at Fourah Bay, equally distant from Freetown and Kissey, with Buildings which at a moderate expense can be adapted to the purpose, a purchase has been made; and Mr. Haensel removed thither the middle of February. He has Four Youths under his care; but only one of them fully answered the description given in his Instructions, printed in the Appendix to the Society's last Report, of those who should become Students of the Institution: but, as he found it impracticable to act up, in this respect, to his Instructions, he admitted the other three Youths on probation. Great as he has found the difficulty of procuring throughout the Colony any Youths duly prepared, in respect of piety and talents, to be received under his care, he anticipates still greater, so long as the new system shall continue; and asks—

If, even under the former system, One Youth only was formed to a fitness for reception into the Institution, how is it to be under the new system, which allows us much less influence over the children at school, because it deprives us of the appointment of Schoolmasters, and takes them altogether from under our eye, out of school hours?

This new system is not only thus unfavourable to the due preparation of Students for the Institution, but it will have an injurious tendency in respect of their subsequently becoming Christian Teachers. On this point Mr. Haensel writes at Midsummer—

I am led to advert to the mode of employment, which the system at present acted on in the Colony leaves for the Youths of the Institution, when they shall have gone through their course of Instruction. These Youths will leave the Institution before they are sufficiently matured in judgment and experience to occupy the important post of Native Teachers. What, then, is to be their occupation in the interval? The most suitable would undoubtedly be that of Schoolmasters. But are they to be given over to Government, as the present system would require, to be subject to the controul of the Managers and Sub-managers?

This question conveys its own answer. While the Missionaries shall continue to have no voice, as has been recently the case, in placing or displacing the Schoolmasters, or in appointing those who are to have authority over them or to labour under them, the Society can never allow Youths trained up with assiduous care to be thus exposed to evil.

While the Committee have adopted such means in Sierra Leone as appeared best calculated, under the Divine Blessing, for obtaining suitable Native Teachers, they have also opened a correspondence with the Episcopal Church in the United States, in the hope of procuring Persons of Colour competent to act as Missionaries; and the Society is not without some prospect of success, though the low state of improvement which generally prevails at present among that class precludes the hope of any considerable and immediate aid in that quarter.

It was stated in the last Report, that two African Youths had been placed under a Clergyman in the West of England: a third has joined them; and Mr. Raban, whose health is not sufficiently restored to admit of his return to Africa at present, has undertaken the superintendence of their education.

Under more favourable circumstances, and when suitable means can be obtained, it will be an important object with the Society to establish a NATIVE-FEMALE SEMINARY, with views, in reference to Young Females, analogous to those to which the Christian Institution is directed in respect of Young Men. The want of competent Schoolmistresses is severely felt; and this want can only be adequately supplied by giving to the most promising Girls from the different Schools such instruction as may fit them to become Teachers of others.

RIVER DISTRICT.

The Rev. G. W. E. Metzger, with Mrs. Metzger, removed, early in the year, from Kissey, and returned to Wellington, where he had lived before: he is assisted by William Neville, a Native Teacher. In December, the Rev. John Gerber was associated with Mr. Metzger in the spiritual charge of the District, on account of its extent; Mr. and Mrs. Gerber residing at Waterloo. Mr. Metzger had been in the habit of visiting the respective Stations in his District once in each alternate month, for the purpose of inspecting the Schools, and administering the Lord's Supper. In the autumn, he had been for some time suspended from his duties, by illness; but at Christmas reported more favourably of the state of his health.

Kissey.

At the Spring Quarter, Mr. Metzger noticed some promising appearances among the people at this Station, by which he felt much encouraged in his labours: he writes—

Many years has the Gospel been preached at Kissey, with but little success. I myself have attended to that parish for nearly two years, without beholding pleasing evidences of success; and it was only about three weeks before I left Kissey, when many, all at once, began to be impressed with an awful apprehension of dying unprepared, and with a sense of their own sinfulness and helplessness. Thus, on the 1st of January, I received on trial 13 Candidates for Baptism: on the 8th, a woman; and, subsequently, twelve more. The number of those on trial is now 26, and I hope that they are sincere.

From the Spring Quarter to Michaelmas, there has been a gradual increase in the attendance on Public Worship and in the number of Communicants: at this last date, the Congregation generally consisted of 190 persons, and 63 communicated at the Lord's Table: of these, William Neville writes at Michaelmas—

It has pleased God to call two of the Communicants out of this world. I was indeed happy to hear them testify of the love of the Saviour toward them, on their dying beds. The number of Communicants is 30 males and 33 females: their conduct, so far as I know, is such as becometh Christians. The number of those on trial is, at present, 14; 13 males, and 1 female.

During the Quarter ending at Christmas, Mr. Metzger had baptized 6 Adults and 10 Children; and there were then on trial 11 Candidates for Baptism and the Lord's Supper.

Allen Town.

This Settlement was formed in the latter part of 1826, on a plan suggested by Mr. W. Allen, after whom it is named. It is situated near Hastings, on the stream which flows from the hills through Regent, and which was formerly called Hog Brook, but now Friends' River: the scenery is highly beautiful. The inhabitants are about 100; chiefly newly-liberated, and therefore little acquainted with English: there are 25 Scholars. Divine Service is established: about 25 attend.

Wellington.

At this Station there are many indications of the progress of a work of Grace. The Grass-house, in which Public Worship is held, has been several times enlarged: about 400 attend on Sunday Mornings, and half as many in the afternoon. Besides the Service on Tuesday and Thursday Evenings, Daily Prayers are kept early in the Morning, either by the Schoolmaster or one of the Communicants, which are attended by about 75 Adults and the School Children. Frequent Meetings are also held for prayer and religious edification. At Michaelmas there were 20 Candidates for Baptism, and 144 Communicants: these manifest much mutual cordiality, and are, in general, consistent in their conduct.

At Christmas, Mr. Metzger reported that he had baptized 14 Children, and that there were then on trial 28 Candidates for Baptism and the Lord's Supper: he had also married 8 Couples during the Quarter.

Hastings.

Mr. Pierce was stationed at Hastings in the early part of last year: the Settlement had not, for some time before, been occupied by the Society: from 150 to 200 attended Public Worship. At Michaelmas, William Tamba stated that about 300 attended the Sunday Morning Service, and that there were 25 Communicants. Service was held every Morning, and there were frequent Meetings for Prayer. Seven Children had been baptized, and one Couple married, in the Quarter ending at Christmas.

Waterloo.

Little improvement seems to have taken place in the spiritual condition of the people at Waterloo since the last Report; and Mr. Metzger, who, with W. Tamba, occasionally visited them, remarked, that the regular Ministry of God's Word was greatly needed.

Mr. Metzger writes at the end of September—

I met the Communicants on the evening of the 15th: only seven were present. I understood that four had turned back to the world, whom I therefore excluded: those with whom I conversed seemed to be sincere. I was much pleased with the prayer of one of them: he, of his own accord, endeavours to edify the other Communicants, and holds Prayer Meetings with the people. I am sorry that we have no Native Teacher to station here, who might from this place attend to Calmont. The number of Communicants is 11.

The want of a regular Ministry will be supplied by Mr. Gerber's appointment to this Station, as before noticed.

Thirty-seven Couples were married during the Quarter ending at Christmas.

Calmont.

At the end of 1826, this Settlement, which is 19 miles from Wellington, consisted of only a few Natives; but, at Michaelmas, there were 266 Liberated Africans, men, women, and children, who had been sent thither chiefly in the early part of the year. Mr. Metzger reports at Midsummer—

The Headman placed here by Government, under Mr. Pierce the Manager, is John Plague, formerly a Sergeant in the late 4th W. I. Regt., and one of my most-experienced Communicants at Wellington: he calls the people together twice on Sunday, with much success. William Tamba, who attended Service there on June 17th, found the Place of Worship, which is a temporary house, full of attendants. The thing we most regret is, that they can hardly understand any English; and it can only be ascribed to the pious exertions of John Plague, that they are at least in the way of being informed, both in the language of the Word of God and of its saving Doctrines.

William Tamba states at Michaelmas—

At Calmont I speak to the people in the afternoon. Whenever I go, I always find the house quite full, and the people waiting for me: they are glad to hear the Word of God: about 200 persons attend, including children.

Mr. Metzger's health did not allow him to visit this Station during the Autumn; but he remarks concerning it at Christmas—

The pious Headman continues to keep the people attending Divine Service on Sundays; and although he cannot read, he tells them of that Saviour whose Grace he experienced in his own soul, and to whom he desires to live whilst in the world.

MOUNTAIN DISTRICT.

The Committee have the painful duty of recording the loss which the Society has sustained in this District by the death of Mr. Frederick Gatesman: he arrived in the Colony in November 1826, and soon after entered on the duties of his station; but in April was attacked by fever. He was brought from Leopold to Freetown, for the benefit of medical aid: and received the most assiduous attention from Mr. Fergusson, "who has ever been prompt," to use the words of Mr. Betts, "to attend the Members of the Society when ill." The fever, however, continued to increase; and terminated in his death, after an illness of about a week, near midnight of the 23d of April. He departed in the Faith. When Mr. Betts said to him, "That God, whom you have served in the time of health, will not leave you in the hour of trial," he replied with calmness, "I know it! I thank Him that I have not now, for the first time, to seek an interest in Christ. I know whom I have believed!"

On the arrival of the Rev. Thomas Davey and Mrs. Davey, he was placed, about the middle of October, in the spiritual charge of the whole District: he resides at Bathurst; and is assisted by Mr. Edmund Boston, David Noah, and William Tamba; and by Mrs. Heighway in the Infants' School.

The following arrangement for supplying, as far as the scanty means allow, the wants of the several Stations in this District, has been made by Mr. Davey: he writes—

I have endeavoured to supply the various places on a Sunday in the following manner: Regent and Gloucester, alternately, at 10 in the morning and 3 in the afternoon; Leicester Mountain at 1 in the afternoon; and Bathurst and Charlotte, alternately, at 10 in the morning and 3 in the afternoon: David Noah taking the former three one Sunday, and the latter two on the other Sunday: and myself doing the same, with the addition of early Prayers at Bathurst, and an exhortation in the evening.

Of the Communicants, generally, Mr. Davey remarks—

I am not prepared to give that favourable account of the propriety of behaviour in some of those attending that Holy Ordinance which I most devoutly wish. I was constrained lately to speak expressly to some; and I hope what was said may have the desired effect in future.

Leicester.

Mr. Davey makes the following Report of this Station, at Christmas—

I am much pleased with the behaviour of the people of this Village. There are about 327 inhabitants: the number of those who attend Divine Service, in a Grass-house built at the expense of the Church Missionary Society, is from 50 to 60: their attention to the Means of Grace has delighted me; although it has sometimes occurred to me, that if they really hungered more after the Word of Life, we should see more than seven or eight of them come over to Gloucester (a distance of a mile) to attend Service at that place.

There are 4 Communicants, who usually attend at some of the other Villages to receive the Lord's Supper. Mr. Davey had baptized 4 Infants, and married 1 Couple, during the Quarter.

Gloucester.

Mr. Davey makes a favourable Report of the attention of those who frequent the Means of Grace: in the Quarter ending at Christmas there had been 29 Baptisms and 5 Marriages: there were 45 Communicants.

Of the general state of the place Mr. Davey remarks—

I feel grieved that it appears my duty to state, that the people of this Village appear, many of them, to neglect the Means of Grace, and, I have reason to fear, are employed on the Sabbath seeking after the things of this world: the average attendance does not appear to be more than 145, including Children. I had till lately a far more favourable opinion of the state of the people of this Village, than I have at present. It appears to me that they have been left so long to themselves, that many of them have sunk into their former evil habits and country-fashions.

Regent.

Of this Station David Noah reports at Michaelmas—

During this Quarter, Divine Service has been regularly continued at Regent as usual: twice on the Week-day, and three times on Sunday. The attendance on Week-days is from 10 to 12 Adults, besides the School-Children; and on Sunday, from 250 to 300. There were 99 Communicants last Quarter; but one of them has been removed by death: she died happy in the Lord.

Mr. Davey states at Christmas, that the average number attending Worship is 250, including Children, and about 95 Communicants: he has married 14 Couples, and baptized 22 Infants. Mr. Davey meets the Communicants at certain times; and says, with reference to these meetings—

I have on these occasions been much pleased with their simple statements; their lamenting the want of more means of Grace, and the neglect of social Prayer-Meetings, which were formerly kept up among them, but have been for some time laid aside; their mourning their want of brotherly love and Christian communion; and the sin of some in not attending Church, unless the person officiating was one who pleased them, thus looking more to the creature than the Creator.

The removal of the Christian Institution from this Station has been already noticed.

Bathurst.

Leopold and Bathurst, which were formerly two distinct Settlements, have been united, and are now designated Bathurst. Of this Station, Mr. Gatesman reported in the Spring Quarter—

I have, at present, but little to cheer me, while endeavouring to make known the Gospel of Salvation; yet I have not been left without some encouragement. The Communicants, ten in number, attend the means of Grace very regularly; and, so far as I can ascertain, walk consistently with their profession. The people who come to church pay great attention to the whole Service: about 160, including children, attend church in the Morning, and 60 in the Afternoon of the Lord's Day, and 40 on Tuesday and Saturday Evenings.

Mr. Davey states, at Christmas, the number of persons attending Public Worship on the Sunday to be about 250: the Congregation is attentive, and on the increase. In addition to those who attend Church on the Sunday Morning and Afternoon, he has about 40 persons in his own house in the evening. Daily Worship is attended by about 100, including Children. The Communicants are 7 in number: 27 Infants have been baptized, and 25 Marriages solemnized.

The people having of their own accord requested an Evening Adult School, and made a contribution to defray the expense of lighting it, Mr. Davey has commenced one. An Infant School was also opened on the 22d of October, of which Mr. Davey gives the following account:—

It is attended by 37 Boys and 34 Girls, between the ages of 2 and 7 years: the progress made by them since the opening of the School has been not only satisfactory, but very encouraging. Those Europeans, and those of my Brethren who have visited the School, have expressed their approbation of the system of education; and have suggested the propriety of the same system being adopted generally with the children in the Colony. It is hoped that the children have not only been amused, but profited, by their attendance: they are variously engaged in their lessons, from learning the Alphabet to reading the New Testament, Writing, and the first branches of Arithmetic, as near to the system practised in England as circumstances will allow. It is found, however, that one European to a School is hardly sufficient for the constant exertion required in keeping up the attention of the scholars in this climate. I trust, however, that we may indulge the hope, that we shall soon have some of the Natives able materially to assist in carrying it on, and thereby, in a great measure, to make the exertion less.

Mr. Davey adds—

Within these few days, Colonel Denham has visited the School, and appeared much pleased with the system: he has ordered 10 Liberated African Boys to be sent every morning from Regent, and 16 from Charlotte: and has also sent a young man, John Thomas, to assist in teaching them, at a salary of 12*l.* per annum.

Charlotte.

The accounts of this Station, furnished by Mr. Gatesman and William Davis, have not been of a favourable kind. At Lady-Day, Mr. Gatesman made the following report:—

I keep Divine Service here, as at the other Stations, once every other Sabbath. The people greatly neglect and break the Sabbath; and, until lately, utterly disregarded the instruction of their children. About 90, Children included, attend Public Worship on the Sabbath Morning, and 40 in the Afternoon; who, with very few exceptions, appear very careless and unconcerned.

At Michaelmas, William Davis writes—

Divine Service is kept once on Sunday; but on the week-day, no Service is kept, as nobody will attend. On Sunday they attend tolerably well; but they go too much in their own way.

Since Mr. Davey has had charge of the District, he, or David Noah, attend once on the Sunday, for the purpose of conducting the Service at this Station. At Christmas, there had been 22 Infants baptized, and 5 Couples married: there were 3 Communicants, and 2 Candidates for Baptism.

Grassfield.

This is a newly-formed Village, about three miles and a half from Charlotte, on the Hastings road, containing about 175 Inhabitants, chiefly deserted from the Mountain Villages: houses are building for them; but they live at present much in their country fashion. Mr. Davey gives the following account of them at Christmas:—

I cannot say that I have seen at present those indications of an anxiety for the means of Grace, which are so much to be wished. They have not any regular Divine Service, without going either to Hastings or Charlotte; which I have reason to believe they never do. If I have been correctly informed, some of them go to work in their farms on Sundays. With the present slender means, and many calls for them, in this District, this Village has not had that attention from us which it so much needs. I have visited it twice during the Quarter; but at neither time was I able to collect any people together, to speak to them the word of God.

The loss of Mr. Gatesman's services in this District has been severely felt; and may in some degree be appreciated, from the following testimony borne by Mr. Betts to his character and labours—

I have lately had an opportunity of witnessing what has been lost to the objects of our Society, by our Brethren having had their hands tied by the duties of the Superintendency; and what may yet be done, by a man of judgment and devotedness of heart, who shall give his whole attention to the Missionary Work. I refer to the extensive plans of usefulness, which our lamented brother Gatesman was enabled to devise; and, in a great measure, to carry into effect.

With Five Villages under his charge, he, with the assistance of William Davis and David Noah, held Divine Service at each of these Villages on the Sabbath; besides occasionally inspecting a Sunday School which he had established at Bathurst. During the other days of the week, he himself performed Divine Service at three of these villages—weekly inspected the Schools of four villages—on one day in the week, imparted instruction in reading and arithmetic to such adults as attended for that purpose—on another day, gave instruction in composition and grammar to the Native Teachers Davis and Noah, and to such of the Schoolmasters of his Villages as could attend. While it pleased God to favour him with health, his time was fully employed in that work, for which he left his native land, and sought the shores of Africa: and now that he is called home to his eternal rest, I venture to speak thus freely respecting him, and I say that he is an example to those who may succeed him. At the same time, all was done in such a quiet and unostentatious manner, that I believe few, even of his fellow-labourers in the Colony, knew the value or extent of his services.

The general state of this District was thus noticed by Mr. Gatesman, in his Report of it at Lady-Day—

Although, at each of the Villages in my District, there are, as may be expected under existing circumstances, numerous discouragements, I must say that I think the encouragements counterbalance them; so that I am more and more convinced of the importance of perseverance, in the great work of instructing the people and children in those things which make for their present and everlasting peace. Those who can read or understand English tolerably well, are the persons who compose our Congregations; while those, who have had no advantages of instruction, keep away from the House of God: and those children, who have become more forward than others in learning, are by far the most willing and desirous to be taught.

SEA DISTRICT.

The Rev. John Gerber left in the early part of the year; when the Rev. J. G. Wilhelm removed to this District from Waterloo, and was assisted for some time by William Tamba.

During the rains, Mr. Wilhelm had a severe attack of ague and fever, which brought him very low; but it pleased God subsequently to restore him. In consequence of his age and increasing infirmities, it was determined, at one of the Meetings of the Missionaries, that he should reside at Freetown, and take charge of Gibraltar Chapel, which would occasion him less fatigue than the care of a District. He has been succeeded in this District by Mr. Betts.

York.

Mr. Wilhelm gave the following account of this Station in September:—

The people who attend Divine Worship, seem to become more and more attached to me; though most of them were led to a religious disposition, agreeably to the Wesleyan System. They have never invited me to their Meetings in their own Chapel; which, I think, is all the better both for me and for them; for I might, perhaps, prove offensive to some, in not instructing them THERE agreeably to their own regulations: but they attend Public Worship with me, once, at least, on the Lord's Day; and also receive the Lord's Supper at my hands; as well as bring their Infants to me to be baptized; and also such Adults as they take into their fellowship, to be examined, and, if necessary, instructed by me for baptism: of these people I have now 21 men (Discharged Soldiers) and 39 women on the lists as Communicants. Besides these, I have baptized 6 men and about 20 women (not of the Wesleyan Connection), after instructing them for the space of three months. The Holy Communion, however, is very irregularly attended: on Easter-Day, I had 58 Communicants; in June, only 27; and in August, 32.

The progress of religion is much hindered, by the people being left at perfect liberty, whether they will keep the Sabbath, or choose to work in their farms and bring burdens home.

At Christmas, Mr. Wilhelm reported, that during the Quarter, though he had not been prevented from having Service every Sunday, he had been unable, from general ill health, to visit either Kent or the Bananas.

Kent.

The Rev. John Gerber's visit to England, and his subsequent return to the Colony with Mrs. Gerber, have been noticed. He greatly regretted that it was rendered necessary for him to leave his Station at a time when the influence of religion began to be powerfully manifested among the people. On the eve of his departure he reported—

The attendants on Divine Service have considerably increased: 28 males and females have been baptized and admitted to the Lord's Table: four others, baptized before, have been added: the present number of Communicants is 43, all of whom I believe to be sincere.

After Mr. Gerber's departure, W. Tamba visited Kent till the end of May, and made the following Report of this Station:—

The people are in the same state as when the Rev. John Gerber left them: one Communicant is dead: Morning Prayer is kept regularly. On Sunday, Wednesday, and Friday, our Church is quite full: on Monday, I walk about the town, to visit the sick: on Thursday forenoon I examine the School; and, in the afternoon, I meet the Communicants.

The Communicants were reduced to 30, some having left Kent, after Mr. Gerber's departure.

While the Mountain District has been deprived of the valuable services of a devoted servant of Christ, this District has sustained a similar loss by the death of Mr. Thomas Heighway. He reached the Colony on the 9th of last December, and on the 28th proceeded to his Station at York: on the following Sunday he was a good deal exposed to the sun, in an attempt, before Public Service, to enforce the due observance of the Sabbath; and when he afterwards addressed the people who were assembled for Public Worship, he over-exerted himself to a degree which could not fail to excite the apprehensions of his European Friends. In the afternoon he complained of headache, and found it necessary to take some medicine: his indisposition however increasing, he removed to Freetown for medical advice on the following Thursday; but his case, it was soon ascertained, was beyond the efforts of human skill.

Though Satan was permitted to harass him at the beginning of his illness, the temptation remained but a short time; and, afterwards, his mind was sweetly composed, and resigned to the will of God: he remained in a peaceful frame until Monday, Jan. 7; when, about four o'clock in the afternoon, he quietly fell asleep in Jesus.

Mr. Davey thus speaks of his departed friend—

He was a man of strong faith, ardent zeal, and fervent prayer. I had the privilege to see much of him at Islington: and, after his arrival, he remained with me a few days at Bathurst, and assisted me in various ways, in the Schools, and addressing the people of this District. His whole soul seemed to be drawn out in a peculiar manner for the eternal welfare of those, for whom he had left his native country and came out hither to labour.

Mr. Davey adds—

I am aware that you need a large share of faith, under all the dispensations of God's providence, with which your Mission in this Colony is exercised, to enable you still to go on, in the great work of sending the Gospel to the miserable children of Ham. Some would have said, long ago, "Give up the post, and labour elsewhere:" but you have been enabled, hitherto, to go on, in humble dependence on an Almighty Arm; and have sent out one Labourer after another, into this unhealthy place. Many of these Labourers have been summoned, at an early period of their residence here, to their eternal home: and some have been ready to say, Joseph is not, and Simeon is not! all these things are against me! yet you, my Dear Sirs, have been upheld under all trials; and, I doubt not, will still be upheld by Him who hath said, Be still, and know that I am God! I will be exalted among the Heathen: I will be exalted in the earth.

SHERBRO COUNTRY.

Stephen Caulker, who conducts the School at the Plantains, reported, in June, that he had then 25 Scholars. Of the business of the School, Mr. Haensel gives the following account:—

The School opens at six in the morning, and continues till eight. It commences with Prayers, at which the grown-up Boys attend with the younger: the former say a lesson immediately after Prayers, which has been given them the day before; and then get a lesson again to learn in their leisure time, and to say the following morning: after which they go to their work. The smallest Boys are nine in number: they attend with the older Boys in the morning from 6 to 8, and again from 10 to 4.

The number of Schools in the Colony under the charge of the Government, as before noticed, is 21; that is, 12 for Boys, and 9 for Girls. In these are instructed 659 Boys and 445 Girls; making a total of 1104 Scholars. Thirty-six persons, 22 Males and 14 Females, are employed as Teachers in these Schools. Many of the Scholars are children born in the Colony, of parents long since located.

The very inadequate manner in which the Society has been enabled to provide for the spiritual necessities of the Africans calls for the exercise of much faith. The devoted Servants of God who have given themselves to this work, have a field of labour around them to which their physical powers are utterly unequal; and perhaps the excitement naturally produced by this state of things may have been among those second causes which have led to too great exertion on the part of those who have learned to feel deeply for the wretchedness of their Heathen Neighbours. Mr. Davey's feelings on this subject are thus expressed in his Report of the District with which he is charged, made to his Brethren at Christmas. He says—

It requires no small share of faith and patience, under the labours more abundant laid upon me, to remember, that for want of assistance I am prevented from giving either the Inhabitants of this or the other Villages in this District, that attention which, as a Messenger, Watchman, and Steward of the Lord, I am enjoined to give, in feeding the Lord's Family, and seeking the sheep of Christ scattered abroad in this naughty world.

Far be it from me, my Dear Brethren, to be the cause of your relinquishing a single post which we already occupy, if it shall be considered by you that our strength is such as to warrant our continuing to labour at it: but I would rather suggest the propriety of conducting a few Stations on an effectual plan, than ineffectually to aim at supplying many. I should rejoice to see every Station of this Colony occupied, and excursions made in the surrounding country: but neither can be done, till we are very much re-inforced in numbers. In the mean time, it is highly important, I humbly conceive, to concentrate our exertions as much as possible: perhaps for want of this, in times past, our efforts have not been so productive as, humanly speaking, they might have been.

Mr. Davey adds—

Although it may not appear to be part of my Report, yet I am constrained to notice, with humble gratitude to the Father of all Mercies, the very timely arrival of our dear Brethren on the 9th instant. May their lives be spared, their talents improved, their zeal employed, and their love abound, to the glory of God! May we, my Dear Brethren, rejoice with trembling, cease from men, and be kept from resting upon the creature! May we look alone to the Lord of the Harvest, not only to send forth Labourers, but also to preserve those Labourers, and make them wise men that need not to be ashamed! May grace be imparted to us all, day by day, to make us stedfast, unmoveable, always abounding in the work of the Lord, knowing that it shall not be in vain in the Lord!

 Since the Anniversary Meeting, the Annual Report of the West-Africa Mission, drawn up by the Rev. C. L. F. Haensel, has been received; and is printed in the Appendix, No. II. p. 142.

MEDITERRANEAN MISSION.

Malta.

THE arrival at Malta of the Rev. C. F. Schlienz, the Rev. Dr. Korck, and Mr. John Kitto, together with the departure of Mr. Peter Brenner for this Station, has been already mentioned.

The individuals connected with the Mission at Malta are, besides Mr. Jowett and his family, Mr. Schlienz, Mr. Koelner, Mr. Kitto, Mr. Brenner, and Mrs. Andrews. Mr. Jowett and Mr. Schlienz are occupied in the preparation of Publications; Mr. Koelner and Mr. Kitto in the Printing Office; and Mr. Brenner is designed to assist Mr. Jowett in the secular concerns of the Mission, especially those connected with the Press. The house occupied at Valetta having been found too small for the increasing business of the Mission, another has been engaged, which is large and commodious, very airy and cool, and situated in a quiet street. The Printing Establishment has two large rooms; and accommodation is afforded for all the Members of the Mission.

Mr. Jowett is engaged in a Greek Commentary on the Acts of the Apostles and the Epistle to the Romans. Mr. Schlienz, with the aid of Phares Shidiak, an Arabic Youth, is preparing, in Arabic, a Commentary on the Parables. Ysa Petros has completed, at Jerusalem, an Arabic Translation of the Pilgrim's Progress. Various considerable works are printing in Italian and in Greek: and Arabic Tracts, with a large quantity of Translations, are ready for the Press.

On the subject of Arabic Translations, Mr. Jowett remarks—

> Arabic, as you will perceive from the demands of our Brethren in Egypt and Syria, is likely to occupy a large share of our attention. Should Providence smile upon our Oriental Translations, I see no limits to our Arabic Works for many years to come: in fact, I see no limits at all. However, I would not indulge a presumptuous spirit: He, whom we serve, alone knows how far it will be good for us to proceed in any of our best-intentioned undertakings: we can only say, If the Lord will, we shall live, and do this or that.

The Press did not come into effective operation till January 1825. The following Abstract of its labours for three years, to the end of 1827, has been sent home by Mr. Jowett:—

In a recent Letter, Mr. Jowett requests to be furnished, as early as possible, with founts of Ethiopic and Amharic Types: he also states that Mr. Schlienz was about to prepare an Amharic Spelling Book, with Reading Lessons from the New Testament.

It will be heard with pleasure, that the British and Foreign Bible Society is now printing the Acts of the Apostles, and the Epistles, in Amharic and Ethiopic.

Turkey and Greece.

The Rev. John Hartley's visit to Malta at the beginning of last year, and his return to Constantinople, were noticed in the last Report. Early in June, he removed to the Island of Prinkipo, in the Sea of Marmora, for the purpose of intercourse with Mr. Brewer, one of the American Missionaries; and, in July, he accompanied Mr. Brewer to Smyrna. Dr. Korck, whose arrival at Malta has been noticed, left that place on the 11th of August for Smyrna, where he joined Mr. Hartley on the 26th. During his residence at Smyrna, he was engaged in the study of Turkish, and the circulation of the Scriptures and Tracts. His health had for some time been declining; but appears, from the last accounts, somewhat better.

Mr. Hartley's chief reason for removing to Smyrna was, that he might take the place of the Rev. Mr. Arundel, the Chaplain to the British Factory, in order to enable that Gentleman to visit England: but circumstances occurring to prevent his visit, Mr. Hartley engaged in a Modern-Greek Service every Sunday, in the Chapel of the Dutch Consulate.

The last Report noticed the painfully affecting condition of the Jews who had confessed Christ at Constantinople. Full particulars have been given in the Missionary Register (pp. 205, 210, and 328, 329,) by which it will be seen, that, while one of them has returned to Judaism, the others have been enabled, by Divine Grace, to remain firm in avowing themselves disciples of Jesus of Nazareth, and have witnessed a good confession. There seems but little hope of the termination of their sufferings: on this subject Mr. Hartley writes—

The two Converts, John B. Castro and John Cohen, are still faithful. They have suffered six months' imprisonment for the sake of Christ; but we have great reason to fear that they will either be delivered into the hands of the Jews, or have their imprisonment perpetuated.

In a subsequent Letter he remarks—

I have not the shadow of hope that they will ever emerge from the walls of their prison. The diabolical hatred of the Jews against Jesus of Nazareth, the deadly hostility which the Turks at present cherish against the English, and doubtless the malice of that Evil Spirit who is the original source of all sin—these are all combined to effect the ruin of our suffering friends.

He afterwards adds—

Men, who enjoy all the rights, the privileges, and the comforts of England, can form no conception of the weight of misery which crushes the human race in these unhappy countries. My heart is sick with the habitual instances of flagrant injustice which pass within my observation. Do not imagine that the sufferings of the two Converts are a solitary example.

It appears, from Mr. Hartley's communications, that many other Jews have secretly embraced the Christian Faith.

The state of things at Constantinople is thus noticed by Mr. Hartley, in a Letter written in the month of June—

The Roman Catholics are exceedingly violent. A young Roman Catholic from Poland visits me continually, and is embracing the truth in a very zealous manner. Ever since I came, I have been engaged, as much as I could attend to, in conversation, reading, and prayer, with Greeks and Catholics, Jews and Armenians: thus has some seed been scattered; but we must earnestly entreat God to bring about a great change: without this, there will be but little good done.

The sale of Books is but little: we distribute, however, a considerable number, not without hopes of benefit. Send me a moderate supply of Greek Books. We must, if possible, do something for Bucharest. I am informed that 30 Jews were baptized there, not long since, by the Greeks.

Besides the public exercise of his MINISTRY at Smyrna, Mr. Hartley has pursued his accustomed plan of private instruction. Of his proceedings he gives the following account, in September:—

I have found opportunities of visiting families from house to house, to a considerable extent; and I have given regular instruction in religion to some of the younger individuals of the Dutch Congregation. Amongst the Greeks, I have had the satisfaction to find, that many of those who had had their attention directed to the Scriptures by Mr. King and myself, during my former visit, have continued to study them: and, though I should hesitate to pronounce them converted Christians, it must be acknowledged that they have at least attained to some degree of light, and have been brought in some measure to feel the importance of the subject. I shall bring forward the conduct and character of a young Greek, as a proof that truth does not fail of producing some effect in Smyrna. I had been in the habit of reading the New Testament and of praying with this young man, during my former visit; and I was glad to find, on my return, that he had remained stedfast to what he had learned and heard. Having had his mind awakened to the pursuit of truth, he has read with great diligence the books with which I have furnished him; and, by the Divine Blessing, he has been saved by this means from infidelity on one hand, and superstition on the other. Not long ago, he came to inform me that he was going to take the Communion in the Greek Church. "What," said I, "can you reconcile it with your conscience to partake of that Sacrament, when you know that its celebration is coupled with the most gross idolatry, and when you are totally at variance with the ideas which are entertained in the Oriental Church on that subject?" "I have spoken my mind freely to the Priest," he replied. "In compliance with our Lord's injunction to do this in remembrance of Him, I go to partake of the symbols of His body and blood. I told the Priest most positively that I did not believe it right to worship pictures, or to pray to saints; and therefore, after such a declaration, I conceive that I have nothing to do with any such performances. The Priest did by no means, in consequence, refuse to administer the elements to me, but made use of expressions which shewed that my conversation had produced considerable impression on him." It was with these views that he partook of the Sacrament; and I was far from feeling at liberty to condemn his conduct.

Towards the close of September, Mr. Hartley left Smyrna; and, accompanied by Mr. Brewer, made a tour among the Islands of the Archipelago and in the Peloponnesus. He visited Mycone, Tino, Delos, Syra twice, and Hydra; afterwards landed at Napoli di Romania, and thence proceeded by land to Argos and Corinth; crossed the Isthmus at Cenchrea; and at the date of the last accounts was at Egina, where he purposed passing the winter, and appeared to have a wide field of usefulness. He was joined by Dr. Korck early in January.

Mr. Hartley writes from Egina in November—

Our travels have not been without benefit, and they hold out the prospect of still greater. We have established depôts for the sale of the Scriptures in almost every place of importance which we have visited; and we are glad to find that there is an encouraging demand for them. In the island of Mycone we left 35 copies of the New Testament: THEY WERE ALL SOLD THE VERY FIRST DAY. The Malta Publications we have also distributed to some extent, and I feel confident that I never before dispersed books with such good effect. Finding of what great importance it is at this moment to present the greatest possible check to the progress of infidelity, we have made great use of Bishop Porteus's Summary of Evidences, of Lord Lyttleton's Treatise on the Conversion of St. Paul, and of Leslie's Easy Method with the Deists. I find such books as these not only extremely suited to the present exigencies of Greece, but also much more readily and attentively read than works of a less argumentative character. A work of infinite value for Greece would be a good History of the Reformation.

In connection with this last subject, Mr. Hartley writes from Syra—

We have made most interesting acquaintance with Theophilus, whom you will remember as Professor at Haivali; and with Eustratius, and many other well-informed Greeks. Almost all seem favourable to the work of Reformation, though deficient, at present, in those qualities which are requisite for carrying on such a work with vigour: it is not improbable, however, that it may please God to prepare some of them for this so great an undertaking.

By a Letter addressed by Mr. Hartley to Mr. Brewer from Egina, it appears that there was a considerable demand for the Scriptures there: Mr. Hartley had sold all the copies which he had taken with him, and had written for two hundred more.

Egypt and Abyssinia.

In the last Report it was stated, that the German Brethren had all assembled at Caïro, and had adopted the following plan for their proceedings: the Rev. W. Krusé and the Rev. J. R. T. Lieder, with Mrs. Krusé, were to remain in Egypt; and the Rev. S. Gobat, Rev. C. Kugler, and Rev. T. Mueller, with Girgis the Abyssinian, had proceeded as far as Beyrout, on their visit to Syria and Palestine.

Mr. Lieder spent from the 19th of May to the 20th of June in a visit to the Province of Faioum, in the Desert to the west of the Nile.

It was also stated, that, on the 6th of March, the Brethren Gobat and Kugler left Beyrout for Damascus, with the Armenian, Seignior Carabet, and Mr. Nicolayson, Missionary from the Jews' Society: they reached Damascus on the 9th, left it on the 15th, and arrived at Safet on the 19th. Mr. Mueller and Girgis left Beyrout on the 19th, and joined their friends at Safet on the 23d. They all left on the 26th; and, on the 1st of April, entered Jerusalem. Mr. Mueller left Jerusalem on the 20th with Mr. Nicolayson; intending to pursue with him, at Safet, the study of Arabic: they arrived there on the 25th, and at Beyrout on the 1st of June: the plague prevailed there, especially among the Mussulmans; and indeed throughout the land, except at and near Jerusalem. The Brethren Gobat and Kugler, with Girgis, left Jerusalem on the 25th of June; and, by way of Jaffa and Damietta, reached Caïro on the 5th of August: they thus gratefully acknowledge the good hand of God over them—

After an absence of six months from Egypt, we have the pleasure to inform you, that, though we have followed uproars in Damascus and Jerusalem, and preceded others in the Mountains of Lebanon, and have been surrounded by the Plague on all sides, yet the Lord has been pleased to watch over us and keep us from all danger, so that we have met with no unpleasant circumstance during the whole of our journey.

From later communications it appears, that Mr. Mueller returned from Syria to Caïro September the 25th, where he remained with Mr. Gobat, who was suffering from ophthalmia. Political events, and the insurrection of the Wahabees in Arabia, rendered it doubtful whether Messrs. Gobat and Kugler would be able to proceed at present on their Mission to Abyssinia.

The Rev. C. Kugler, who had been brought to the verge of the grave by an inflammatory fever at Caïro, left that city for Alexandria in September; and was followed by Mr. and Mrs. Krusé, and Mr. Lieder, in November. Both Mr. Kugler and Mrs. Krusé were in a weak state of health.

Letters have been received from Messrs. Krusé,

Lieder, and Mueller, written from Caïro the beginning of February: they returned thither, from Alexandria, on the 15th of January, and were, at the date of their communications, all in good health. They were desirous of commencing a School among the Copts; but had been prevented hitherto, from the want of a suitable person to conduct it. Mr. Lieder set out on the 8th of February, on a second visit to Upper Egypt, with copies of the Scriptures and Religious Tracts for distribution; and Mr. Mueller had it in contemplation to visit the Delta.

Several circumstances connected with Abyssinia have rendered it expedient, in the judgment of Messrs. Gobat and Kugler, that one of them should come to England previously to their proceeding to their ultimate object. Letters from Alexandria of the 14th of February convey the intelligence that Mr. Kugler had engaged in this service; and a subsequent Letter states that he was on his voyage. Mr. Gobat's health was much improved. During his residence at Caïro, Mr. Krusé pursued the study of Arabic, and endeavoured to open a profitable intercourse with the Copts; but complains greatly of their general indifference. Seven Schools in the Coptic Quarter have 220 Boys, among whom he distributed 185 copies, in Arabic, of the Epistles of St. Peter and St. John. Of their readiness to receive the Scriptures he writes—

My Priest accompanied me the first time to these Schools, and intended to exhort the Children diligently to read the Scriptures: but this was not necessary; for when I was distributing them, every one who received a copy sat down and read as loudly as he could; so that, in speaking with the Schoolmaster, we were scarcely able to understand each other. In the last School which I visited, the Children refused to take books, saying they had no money: but when they heard that they were given to them without money, they all rose, making a great noise; and neither the Schoolmaster nor the two Priests which were there could keep them quiet, for every one wanted to be first in receiving a book.

Mr. Lieder was accompanied on his visit to the Province of Faioum by Dr. Klugé, a German, whose mind appears to be under the beneficial influence of Divine Truth. Besides the capital of the province, Medina, there are twenty-five Villages, which open a wide field for Missionary labour. The following extract from Mr. Lieder's Journal will shew the state of the Coptic Church there:—

Abuna Gabriel told me, that about 300 Christians live in Medina—he means families—and, therefore, at least 3000 souls: these are besides the Bishop and Priests. The Christians have no Church in Medina: formerly they had two, but the tyrannical and rapacious Mahomedans have taken them all away by force, and have changed them into Mosques; the Christians are therefore now obliged to go to church in the country. There are five Deirs, or Monasteries, in the vicinity of Medina, from one to four hours distant; to which are attached twenty-one Priests. These Monasteries are most solitary, in general situated far from the city and from villages; and, I think, out of fear and precaution, because of the rapacious Mahomedans, who would snatch away every Church, if situated near a town or a village. Besides these Monasteries, there are no Churches in the Faioum. The evil consequence of the great distance of the Churches is, that only few are able to attend, because of the heat of the climate; and thereby many remain ignorant in regard to the principles of the Christian Faith, become indifferent, and at last turn Mahomedans.

Mr. Lieder visited the Monastery of Deir Assab; where there are two Churches, containing a large number of Coptic and Arabic Manuscripts, but neither of them possessing a whole copy of the Bible. He writes—

Almost every Sunday, Divine Service is performed in the Monastery; at which about fifty Christians attend, from Medina and some Villages which belong to it: on Holidays, from 200 to 300 assemble. The Priest shewed me, in one of the Churches, a little cross made of silver, and told me, "With this we drive away the devil from our church."

There are two Coptic Schools at Medina, containing about 80 Children; in one of which, as is the case with most of the Schools in the Faioum, the schoolmaster is totally, and in the other partially blind. Mr. Lieder thus notices the state of the Schools, and the cause which has led to it:—

The want of books is the chief cause of the bad state of the Schools in the East; but this I hope will soon vanish, by the help of the benevolent Bible and Tract Societies. I wanted to see the Girls' Schools, but my Teacher told me there were none: the Girls learn nothing in this country; and he was astonished, when he heard that in England almost every poor Girl learns at least to read her Bible, and to write and cipher.

Mr. Lieder mentions, that the Copts evinced great readiness to receive the Scriptures and Tracts; but their poverty prevented their purchasing them. On this subject he writes in June—

My house has been, for some days past, like a market-place, with people coming and going. Children and Young Men of the Copts come, and wish to be presented with Tracts: almost all come without money, for the greatest part of the Christians here are extremely poor; and it is impossible to send them away empty-handed. Yet I do not give to any one, before I have taken him into my room, and tried his knowledge in reading. Some, who had not courage to enter my house to ask for a Tract, waited at the door till they saw me; when they came, kissed my hand and pressed it to their forehead, and kept silence till I asked them their business. There came also Young Men with two or three little Boys, or Fathers with their Children, and entreated me for Tracts for the little ones, promising to teach them to read these little books. Money is very seldom to be met with in the Faioum; and I hope, that, if I have done too much, the Society will pardon me.

I sell very few Bibles and Testaments: though the price is very low, the people have not so much money as to enable them to purchase. There came, among others, a Clerk to a Turk, who wished to speak to me alone. He told me that he wished to possess the Gospels, but that he was at present unable to purchase them, for his master had not paid him his wages for some months: this I heard was true. I told him that I could not give him this book gratuitously; but he took my hand, and begged so earnestly, that I found it impossible to refuse his petition.

During their stay at Beyrout, the Missionaries availed themselves of the frequent opportunities afforded them of meeting with their American Brethren for the purposes of consultation and prayer. The present state of that Mission, and the hostility against the word of God displayed by the Anti-christian Powers at Rome and Constantinople, are thus noticed by them:—

Formerly the Missionaries had many prospects of success; but now the Lord permits them to be tried; for the Arabs, Greeks, and Roman Catholics are excommunicated, if they happen to speak with the Missionaries, or to visit them; and by the repeated excommunications of the Maronite Patriarch and the Greek Bishop at Beyrout, several Schools have been dissolved: but what is most painful, the Firmân of the Sultan against the distribution of the Scriptures has been renewed; and the Roman Catholics in particular keep a watchful eye over the Missionaries in this respect: nor are Bibles permitted to enter Beyrout. There are, however, some persons who begin to open their eyes a little: for, besides the few who have renounced the errors of the Church of Rome, and are obliged to seek protection either in the service of Englishmen or in flight, there are some who frequently come late at night to converse with Mr. Bird. Among their Converts are some very interesting Armenians.

The people were at first very kind and polite; but, when they saw us read in the Bible, they began to go about the room, and to make so much noise, that we could scarcely understand each other: they thought, probably, that it was a bad book, as the Arabs usually think that the English have no religion; because when they saw us kneel down and pray, their noise was at an end at once, and then they were as kind as before. We have generally remarked, that the Turks like those persons who shew that they have religion, more than those who do not manifest any care about it. Before we leave the mountains, it will not be out of place to tell you what a converted Maronite, who is with us, tells us frequently concerning the state of religion in the mountains: "The Maronites," he says, "are not so much against the Gospel as they now appear to be: but they have been told that the English have no religion, and that the Bibles which they give are full of errors; therefore, when they see a Bible bound in the usual mode, they would not even open it. There are, however, many who have not given up their Bibles to be burned; but, if they were known to possess them, they would be immediately excommunicated, and all their neighbours and relations would be prohibited having any intercourse with them. Notwithstanding the Priests have discredited the English, there are many who have much respect for them, and who hate the Pope; but they have not the courage to speak: not that they would be so much afraid of the excommunication of the Patriarch; but the latter being a relative of the Emir Bechir, they are afraid because of the Emir. Moreover, they who do not like the Pope, fear him, because he is their temporal protector: many say, that if the English would only take them under their protection, they would become English. English is the name in the Levant of all those who follow the Bible. The Patriarch of the Maronites calls them Biblishin (biblical), to which the people give the meaning of Atheist.

The following extract from the Journal of the Brethren Gobat and Kugler will shew the course of their proceedings in the Holy City :—

We had many opportunities of preaching the Gospel to all classes of people, but more especially to the Greeks. Brother Kugler, having successfully administered medicine to a sick person, was very soon known in the whole city as a skilful physician: and thus he had opportunity of going from house to house, and of exhorting the people to flee from the wrath to come, and to look for salvation only in the merits of a Crucified Saviour; while Brother Gobat read the Bible, and spoke about the salvation that is in Christ, with those who came to us and were waiting for the physician, from morning till night. We are sure that many Greeks loved us, and began to doubt about their form of religion and the state of their souls: they told us every day, that we should stay at Jerusalem.

Of the wretched superstitions which are practised at the Holy Sepulchre at Easter, Mr. Mueller gives the following account :—

Soon after sun-set the Copts and Syrian Christians began their processions round the Holy Sepulchre; which the Roman Catholics would not permit, because they wished to be first; notwithstanding, they went on, but very hastily. There was not much pomp about them, because they are very poor. At 9 o'clock the Roman Catholics began. Six or eight Boys went before, singing; after them came the Monks, carrying a crucifix, nails, hammer, &c. Thus they went on very slowly, to the place where Christ is supposed to have been nailed to the cross: there they performed the act of crucifixion; and after that, a sermon was delivered on the subject in Italian. After this, they fastened the cross in that hole in which the cross of Christ is supposed to have stood, and a sermon was again delivered in Italian. Thus they went through the whole history of the Crucifixion, Burial, and Resurrection of Christ; maintaining the outward form of religion, but denying the power of it. After the Roman Catholics had finished, the Greeks began their ceremonies; which I did not attend, but retired to the room which the Greeks had provided for us in the church, and slept.

April 15, 1827. This day I witnessed a scene which I shall never forget. There is an old Greek Bishop in Jerusalem, whose business is, exclusively, to perform the ceremony of the (so called) Holy Fire. About two hours before the Bishop and Priests came, the poor people were crying and running round the Chapel of the Holy Sepulchre, as if insane: when I first came in, I thought they were boxing each other, and was much surprised to hear, afterwards, that this means the joy of the Holy Ghost. Almost all were half naked, carrying each other on their shoulders, and crying, "There is only one religion," viz. the Christian: "The Jews are now sad, but we are joyful." When the Bishop and Priests came, the Turks had to strike with all their power in order to make way for them. After going in procession three times round the Holy Sepulchre, the Bishop entered alone into the Chapel of it. The Greeks believe, that by the prayers of the Bishop, fire proceeds out of the Sepulchre; which the Bishop takes, and conveys, out of a hole made for that purpose, to the people. We took our Abyssinian friend Girgis with us, though he was not quite well, in order to convince him of the folly of it; because he firmly believed that this fire does not burn. He is now thoroughly convinced that it is only a trick of the Bishop, because we were all in danger of burning our clothes by this Holy Fire. The Bishop lights several tapers together, in order to make a large flame, and reaches it to the people out of that hole; and afterwards he came out with a large burning taper in each hand, and was carried on a man's back into the Greek Church, which is just opposite to the Sepulchre. This fire is also called "The light of this world;" and every one who kindles his taper with this fire has a part of this light. May the Lord have mercy upon them, and enlighten their hearts, and bring them out of darkness into His marvellous light!

On these scenes the Missionaries remark—

This has been one of the most painful weeks we ever passed in this world. It would be impossible for a man to suppose that the system of lying could be carried to such extremities, as is witnessed in the Church of the Holy Sepulchre. May the Lord soon have mercy on Jerusalem, and guide the poor pilgrims in the way of eternal life!

Mr. Kugler's medical reputation obtained for him constant access to the house of the Governor of Jerusalem; and he had thus frequent opportunities of declaring the great truths of the Gospel.

While the Missionaries were at Jerusalem, they had almost daily intercourse with some Abyssinians, 25 in number, whom they met there, and who afforded them much encouragement, connected with their intended visit to that country.

Although the present unsettled state of affairs renders it doubtful when the Missionaries may have a door of entrance opened for them into Abyssinia, they notice a combination of circumstances which encourage them to hope that God is preparing the way for the accomplishment of this part of their plans.

Mr. Gobat, in his last communication, mentions the arrival of a Letter from Girgis, who set out on his return to Abyssinia in the Autumn: he states, that he has been informed, on his journey, that Amhara is the scene of war; recommends the Missionaries, on account of the state of the country, to defer proceeding to Abyssinia for a year; and expresses his affection for them.

CALCUTTA AND NORTH-INDIA MISSION.

It is gratifying to the Committee to state, that the present Bishop of Calcutta, in an interview which they had with his Lordship before his departure from England, assured them of his cordial attachment to the great object of the Society, and avowed his intention of acting on the same principles as his lamented predecessor.

The Committee cannot contemplate the approaching departure for India of their dear brother and fellow-labourer, the Rev. T. Thomason, without assuring him of their earnest and affectionate prayers, that he may resume the labours of his important station in the fulness of the blessing of the Gospel of Christ.

The departure of the Rev. John Latham and Mrs. Latham, with that of the Rev. Ralph Eteson and Mrs. Eteson, and the Rev. Charles Friend, has been already mentioned; and the arrival of Mr. and Mrs. Latham at Calcutta has also been noticed. Some circumstances which have occurred in connection with the North-India Mission render this additional strength peculiarly seasonable.

The Third Anniversary of the Calcutta Church Missionary Association was held in the Town Hall, on the evening of the 15th of December; the Venerable Archdeacon Corrie, President, in the Chair. The Receipts of the Year, including the balance in hand, were 6444 rupees: the Payments amounted to nearly that sum, and exceeded the actual contributions of the year. On this subject it was reported—

Your Committee regret to state, that, in consequence of increased labour, their funds are nearly expended: they would also remark, that their monthly expenditure is, upon an average, above 300 rupees; to meet which, their subscriptions only amount to one-fourth of this sum.

A Collection was made after the Meeting, which amounted to 662 rupees.

Calcutta.

The Rev. John Theophilus Reichardt and the Rev. Isaac Wilson continue at this Station.

A Chapel has been erected on the Society's Premises at Mirzapore, in which the Christians residing on or near the Mission Premises meet morning and evening for worship, to the number of about 25; when also some of the passers-by are usually attracted to hear a portion of the Scriptures read and explained. On Sundays, the regular Service of the Church is performed, Morning and Evening, in Bengalee; when, including the unconverted Natives, from 60 to 70 attend. The Lord's Supper is administered every second Sunday in the month, to about 12 Communicants.

Three other Chapels have been opened in the Native Town: one of them was built at the sole expense of a benevolent individual. The Rev. Mr. Reichardt attends principally at the Chapel in Potuldunga, and the Rev. Mr. Wilson occupies himself in the more northern parts of the town. Sometimes two, and not unfrequently three Chapels are attended in succession, and two or three hundred persons hear a portion of Divine Truth at each place. In the course of the week the Missionaries preach in this way from ten to fifteen times; and a Country-born Young Man and two Native Converts are also occupied from time to time in distributing Tracts among their countrymen, and conversing with them on subjects connected with Christianity.

During the past year, there have been four Marriages among the Native Christians; and five persons have been baptized, of whom two are adults. Among the Candidates for Baptism are the Father and Mother of a little Girl, a Scholar in one of Mrs. Wilson's Schools; who having herself been taught to hate the sin of idolatry, and gently, yet firmly, to remonstrate with her parents against it, was the means of exciting in their minds a desire for Christian instruction.

In the 12 Boys' SCHOOLS in Calcutta and its Vicinity, supported by the Calcutta Association, there are upward of 800 Scholars. The Calcutta Committee have transmitted an account of a very satisfactory examination of 200 of the Boys, on the 6th of March, in the presence of Archdeacon Corrie and many other friends of native education.

In the midst of the facilities which present themselves on all sides for more extended labours in this department, the Calcutta Committee write—

The applications for Schools have been so pressing, and the willingness to listen to Christian Instruction so manifest, in some Villages near Calcutta, that it has been very painful to the Missionaries to be obliged to refuse the aid which has been sought for.

It appears, from the Third Report of the Ladies' Society for NATIVE-FEMALE EDUCATION, that the Central School would probably be ready for occupation by the end of the year. The Society's Receipts amounted to something more than 8700 rupees. The Committee have made a grant of 300*l*. to the Ladies' Society in aid of its important objects. The number of Schools, and other particulars connected with them, are thus noticed by the Ladies' Committee in their last Report:—

In Calcutta the same number of Schools has been maintained as was stated last year, and the same number of Children continue to attend; namely, in 30 Schools about 600 Girls, of whom about 400 are in daily attendance. Their respected Superintendants remark to the Ladies' Committee—

The effects of novelty being now at an end, we hope that we may look on our work as tolerably well established. It would be difficult to ascertain the motives which induce Parents to send their Children to our Schools; but they have seen our disinterested labours among them for more than five years, and are well acquainted with our plans of instruction. No rewards are held out to induce the Children to attend; and it seems but justice to them to state, that the Natives around us seem to give us daily more of their confidence. The character of the books which we use, the nature of the examinations, and the general order and state of the Schools, are all open to the inspection of the Friends of the Children entrusted to our charge.

On the inexpediency of enlarging their labours

without enlarged means of superintendence, the Committee remark—

Many more Schools, with the prospect of being well attended, might have been established; but as no dependence can be placed on the Native Teachers without vigilant superintendence, it was not judged advisable, even had the Funds admitted of it, to extend the Committee's sphere in Calcutta.

An Examination of the Schools took place on the 23d of December 1826, which satisfactorily exhibited the progress that has been made in the appearance and acquirements of the Children.

The PRESS is conducted by Mr. De Rosario, under the superintendence of Mr. Reichardt. Besides the Monthly Missionary Intelligence, and Report of the Society in English, 4350 copies of Tracts and Scripture Extracts in Hindoostanee, Persian Character; 6500 copies of ditto in Nagree; and in Bengalee 18,300 copies; have been issued during the past year: and much work has been done for other Societies and Individuals.

On the disposal of Tracts, the Committee remark—

A great number of these little Messengers of Truth have been used in the Schools of the Society, and a greater number given away to individual Natives. The utility of this mode of disseminating religious knowledge has often been made manifest; and during the past year one of the most intelligent and influential Converts in the neighbourhood of Chunar was first led to serious inquiry from reading a Tract he found in a Fakeer's bundle, and to whom it had remained a dead letter.

Culna.

The difficulty of supplying the wants of the various Stations induced some hesitation in the minds of the Auxiliary Committee as to the expediency of maintaining this; but it was afterwards decided that it should be continued. The circumstances which led to that decision are thus noticed by Mr. Corrie—

At Culna, much is to be hoped for: under the pressure of scanty funds and paucity of help, we were inclined to defer establishing Mr. Deerr there; and accordingly begged Mr. and Mrs. Wilson to accompany Mr. Deerr thither in December last, and to dismiss most of the Teachers; reserving two or three Schools, to be carried on in connection with Burdwan, and increased hereafter as opportunity might serve. On their arrival at Culna, they found 300 First-Class Boys, of whom 70 were sons of Brahmins, each with a copy of one of the Gospels (according to their classes) under his arm: in them they read so well, and answered so intelligently, that Mr. and Mrs. Wilson could not find it in their hearts to disperse the Schools: a Petition, too, which has been sent home, was drawn up by some of the principal people, to beg that Mr. Deerr would settle among them: under these circumstances, and hoping literally against hope as to funds, we have continued the Schools at Culna: and Mr. Deerr is gone up, and is living with his Wife and Child at present in a little hut. I shall see him too, if it please God, next week; and shall consider what arrangements can be made for his accommodation.

In their Report, the Committee state—

Though the state of the Society's funds has not yet allowed the Committee to provide a suitable house for a Missionary at this Station, yet Mr. Deerr has been so much encouraged by the anxiety manifested by the people for his residence among them, that he has continued with his family to reside in a matted Bungalow, at no small personal inconvenience. He has Eight Schools under his charge, containing at least 100 Boys each: here are, also, Three Girls' Schools, and more might be established. In all these Schools, the Christian Scriptures are read; against which no objection has been ever made.

It has been mentioned, that the Committee deemed it advisable that Mr. Deerr should reside at Burdwan, instead of this Station; and they, doubtless, must have had a painful duty to perform, in deciding between the conflicting claims of two places affording so much encouragement, when one of them must, in a great measure, be deprived of the services of a Missionary.

Of his MINISTRY, Mr. Deerr writes—

I think it a duty to make preaching a matter as public as possible; and have begun to go into all the principal places, and address those whom I meet. If we were to confine our preaching to insignificant places only, and among ignorant men, it would appear as if we could not venture to meet their learned men with the Bible in our hands; and we might be suspected of imposing on the ignorant, who have not learning and sagacity enough to distinguish between right and wrong.

The state of the SCHOOLS is shewn in the following extract from Mr. Deerr's communications:—

The Schools are still kept on at Culna, it being only 30 miles distant; so that I can visit them occasionally: they are, however, reduced to six in number, for the sake of saving expense. The number of Boys attending is 600 on an average: they read the same books as those at Burdwan, but are more backward: more than one-third in each School are reading the Gospels, Ellerton's Scriptural Dialogues, and Geography. The progress would be more, if superintendence were not wanting. The Female Schools have been closed, because Mrs. Deerr could not superintend them after we had left.

On reviewing his labours at Culna, he thus expresses his sentiments:—

I lived only a short time in Culna, and found great satisfaction in the work: the people behaved as they had promised. I found everywhere an open ear; but, as it appears, not always an open heart. However, an extensive field is open. May it invite our Brethren to come and put their hand to the plough!

Burdwan.

The illness of the Rev. John Perowne led, as has been stated, to the return home of himself and family last year: this Station was, in consequence, deprived for a season of the stated labours of a Missionary, being only occasionally visited by Mr. Wilson from Calcutta: but, at the suggestion of the Committee, the Rev. William J. Deerr removed thither, from Culna, at the close of last year.

Of this Station the Calcutta Committee thus speak, in their last Report:—

Thirteen Schools continue to be supported here: an Examination of the First and Second Classes, consisting of about 200 Boys, was held in March last, as also of the English School, when the Scholars exhibited the general evidence of proficiency in various branches of knowledge, as has often before been stated in the Committee's Reports. The English School has been of necessity dispersed.

Mr. Perowne gave the following brief account of the state of the Mission before his departure:—

The preaching was continued regularly in the three Village Chapels, and also the Services in the Mission Chapel, till the beginning of July, when severe indisposition compelled me to desist. From time to time the above Services have been resumed; but repeated attacks have prevented any thing like a regular course of instruction being kept up. Much interest, however, has been excited in the different Villages. All the Schools, both male and female, with only one or two exceptions, are thrown open to the Missionary, and he may preach Christ in them with as much freedom as in an English Congregation. Many who have heard, not only approve, but talk of embracing the truth. Most of the School-people, viz. Pundits, Sircars, and Hurkarus, attend regularly in the Mission Chapel on Sunday Forenoon: three Men, four Women, and three Children have been baptized: three Marriages have taken place. Our little Native Church consists of ten Adults (5 Men and 5 Women), and 3 Children. In a word, the progress made last year calls for the most grateful acknowledgments to the Author of all good, and presents ground of great encouragement for the future.

Of the circumstances which have deprived this Station of the labours of its Minister, Archdeacon Corrie writes—

The necessity of Mr. Perowne's return is very painful to us: his removal from Burdwan, when his labours had made a sensible impression on the surrounding population, seems a mysterious dispensation; but He, who ordered it thus, has other means of accomplishing His own purpose. In another view, the expense absorbs funds which could be applied, humanly speaking, to great advantage; but may we feel, as well as own, that His will ought to be, as well as must be, done!

In December, Mr. Deerr writes—

I find great pleasure in having Daily Worship with the Christians here, on the premises, consisting of 9 Adults and 3 Children: about 8 of the School Teachers, now employed, attend on Sundays.

Of the SCHOOLS, Mr. Deerr reports as follows:—

The Boys' Schools have been reduced to 14, on account of the limited means; and the Female Schools to 2, there being no person to superintend them after Mrs. Perowne left. The number of Boys is the same as mentioned in former Reports; and there is at present no difficulty in bringing them forward, nothing but superintendence being requisite for that purpose. The English School has been closed since Mr. Perowne's departure.

In reference to the Female Schools, which on Mrs. Perowne's departure were shut up, Mr. Deerr remarks—

Mrs. Perowne had met with good success in the Female Schools; but it having been uncertain whether we should be stationed here, and Mrs. Deerr having been poorly, she did not apply to the Ladies' Society to re-open them, but thinks of doing so. One of the Girls who was formerly in Mrs. Perowne's School expresses a wish to be baptized; she is now with Mrs. Deerr, and behaves very well: her father has expressed a similar wish; but whether his motives are pure is doubtful.

The Committee of the Ladies' Society thus express their sense of the value of Mrs. Perowne's services—

The Committee regret extremely the necessity of Mrs. Perowne's departure for England, on account of her husband's health; as it was entirely owing to her unwearied diligence and persevering zeal that the Female Children had been brought so forward: and it is with real concern that they will be obliged to shut up nine of the Schools which were under her superintendence.

The influence of the Schools on the minds of the Natives generally, he thus notices—

The supposition that the books which the Children read are hid from the Parents is unfounded: for, how could the Adults, as several have done to me, point out passages in the chapter in which they are written? Thus far the Schools are the means of spreading Christian Knowledge, without being impeded by prejudice; yet I cannot venture to say that the knowledge which they have obtained is attended with conviction: they know it to be good; but that we cannot call conviction, or serious impression, which would be attended with conversion. Neither have I the satisfaction of saying that there is, in general, a sincere desire of inquiring further into the truth. We must go after them, and intreat them to be reconciled unto God. There is nothing so painful as the extreme apathy and indifference towards their spiritual welfare which prevail among them; and even, when some of them express themselves in the warmest and strongest manner, some interest and imposition is lurking behind.

While the Servants of God are thus taught the real value of their exertions, and that it is His prerogative alone to turn the heart to Himself, He appears to be employing the means which are used as preparatory measures for the accomplishment of His work: and the reading of the Scriptures by some of the Natives, some degree of deference to their authority, and a somewhat clearer perception of good and evil, seem to have been effected through the instrumentality of these means. The following extracts from Mr. Deerr's communications will illustrate this remark:—

A Baboo, in connection with the Rajah of Burdwan, told me that he and his Brother read the Gospel, (I think, for the sake of learning English;) and I was rejoiced to learn afterwards, from the Natives, that he defended the Gospel before the Brahmins. He remembered Mr. Perowne with kindness, and said that he gave him the books.

— Though many are not acquainted with the Bible, they have at least heard that it is a good book. A Brahmin told me once, when I was in Calcutta, "You speak very fair; but let me see your Bible, whether it contains such doctrines."

— The most bitter enemy against Europeans that I have ever met with, said to me, a few days ago, "Your Gospel is good, but the Europeans do not keep it. When we Hindoos commit what you call sin, we do it in conformity with our Scriptures; but you do it against yours. Who are the worst?"

In concluding his account of Burdwan, Mr. Deerr writes—

To all classes, from the lowest to the highest, from the ignorant to the learned, the Gospel has found its way. May the Lord please to prolong my life for future usefulness! My strength is very much reduced; and it is only by Mercy, that I am still in the land of the living. My time is now employed in the morning with the Schools, and in the evening with the Adults. Preaching and Schools are now going hand in hand.

For the continuance of support, he makes the following appeal—

In spite of many disappointments, we may hope for success. What a pity it would be if our Christian Friends should grow weary in well-doing, at a time when the preparatory work is in a great measure over, and our means and strength now only employed in proper Missionary Work! We have limited instead of extending our work, having been obliged to close several of the Schools on account of the want of means.

Buxar.

The Society's Catechist, Kurrum Messeeh, continues to afford instruction as usual to the Native Christians at this Station. The last Report noticed the commencement of a Subscription by a Sergeant's Widow for the erection of a Place of Worship; and the Calcutta Committee state, that a sufficient sum has been raised in the neighbourhood to complete the design.

Benares.

It was stated in the last Report, that the Rev. Thomas Morris had wished to remove to a higher latitude, for the benefit of his health: he has since been settled at Chunar, to take charge of the Native Congregation, and his salary is defrayed by the Government.

The Rev. John Adlington continues at the Station: and he, with Mr. Morris, made the following Report of it to the Auxiliary Committee:—

The Congregation that assembles in the Chapel at Secrole consists of Indo-British Writers and their Families, together with Native Christians: many of these were brought up in the ignorance peculiar to the adherents of the Church of Rome; and much lasting good, we trust, has resulted from our labours; numbers of these Native Christians having been brought under the Means of Grace, who were, generally speaking, destitute of any saving knowledge of the Christian Religion. Benares being a Military Station, and fresh troops often coming to it, brings us in contact with a continual succession of new objects for instruction; who often carry the savour of what they hear to Stations very remote from Benares. During the last year, 4 Adults have been baptized: death has removed one of them. We have, at present, a Candidate for Baptism. Service is regularly conducted, as usual, in Hindoostanee, according to the Liturgy of the Church of England. A Missionary Prayer-Meeting is held on the first Monday of every month, alternately at Benares and Chunar. The Native Christians who attend the chapel manifest a real regard for the religious privileges which they enjoy.

There are 8 Hinduwee SCHOOLS; in which, on an average, upward of 250 Boys are receiving instruction. Of these, and that for Girls, the Missionaries report—

The Parents of the Children frequently come round us while we are examining them, and express their approbation of what they hear, especially when any reference is made to the Life of our Adorable Redeemer. We have been endeavouring, for some time past, to get good School Rooms; and have, in some measure, succeeded.

The Girls' School in the City, which we were under the necessity of closing some time ago, has been re-opened by Mrs. Morris and Mrs. Adlington. The difficulties which we have to contend with, from the strong prejudices of the Natives and other causes, in establishing Female Schools, are very great, and can be understood only by those who are on the spot. The Female School connected with Secrole Chapel is still kept up. A Girls' School and two Boys' Schools have been lately established, which are supported by subscription, so that they are no expense to the Society.

The number of Scholars in Jay Narain's School is not stated. The Calcutta Committee state, that the Chaplain at Benares, with several other Gentlemen, has kindly undertaken to assist the Society in the management of the School.

Chunar.

Mr. Morris's settlement at this Station has been just noticed. The Rev. William Bowley, who has been for some time assiduously labouring at Chunar, has been compelled, by an affection of the lungs, to visit Calcutta.

The following account is extracted from the last Report of the Auxiliary Committee:—

The effects of Mr. Bowley's long and diligent labours in this neighbourhood have appeared, during the past year, in a degree calculated to excite much hope. Ten adult Converts have been added to the Church since the last Report. He has lately baptized, also, Mirza Bagar, son of the well-known traveller Mirza Aboo Talib Khan.

In a recent Letter, Mr. Bowley mentions five other Converts whom he has admitted to the ordinance of Baptism, and of whom he writes—

Every one of them has been called to suffer greatly for his profession.

The number of Communicants at the end of April was 73. Of these, 8 are Converts from the surrounding errors; and several of the recently baptized have not yet been admitted to the Lord's Supper. Four Communicants have died during the year, and one is suspended on account of immoral conduct.

A Prayer Meeting is held every Saturday Evening, and usually attended by about 30 persons, for a blessing on the means of Grace, and for the propagation of the Gospel generally.

In a recent communication received from Mr. Bowley, he mentions having baptized, on Whitsunday, 8 more Heathens, consisting of 4 Men, 2 Women, a Girl, and a Boy. His health appears to be suffering; but it is earnestly to be hoped that, if it be the will of God, he may be permitted to continue those labours on which such an abundant blessing has descended.

Of the SCHOOLS, Mr. Bowley states—

In the English School are 20 Boys—in the Persian 40—in Three Hinduwee, about 120—in the Christian-Female, 20

Adults and several Girls, all of whom read the New Testament. The First Class in the Persian School read a chapter daily, and a chapter is expounded to them twice a-week. The Boys of one of the Hinduwee Schools assemble in my Study daily, to read a chapter of the New Testament.

In addition to his Ministerial labours, Mr. Bowley has been occupied in the important work of Translation: of his Hinduwee Version, the Psalms, Proverbs, Isaiah, and New Testament are printed: the Version of the Old Testament is completed and revised to the end of the Second Book of Kings. The Committee of the Calcutta Auxiliary Bible Society remark—

This acceptable Version is the most useful work, perhaps, in reference to the number of Native Christians who are prepared to use it, that has yet appeared.

Gorruckpore.

While Mrs. Wilkinson, with her Children, has been compelled by ill health to return home, the Rev. Michael Wilkinson has been enabled to continue his labours at this Station.

There are two English and two Hindoostanee Services on the Sunday, and the number of the various Congregations is fully maintained. The opportunities of religious communication with the Native Population increase; and the Committee of the Church Missionary Association at this place remark—

In the course of an evening excursion directed to no fixed place, it has been generally found practicable to collect together a small number of persons who have listened with attentive respect to the truths declared. No specific instance of benefit received can be pointed out, but it is a step in our progress deserving of remark.

They further add—

Some success has attended the efforts of a Lady of our Society to dispense religious instruction to the Native Females. Between twenty and thirty attend on Sunday, to whom the Scriptures are read and explained; and on five week days, meetings are held at different houses in the town in succession, where a party of about twelve Females attend very regularly. Many of them are very attentive, and ask pertinent questions; and some of them appear to have acquired considerable knowledge of the Scriptures.

The Report does not state what numbers of Children there are in the SCHOOLS, though it gives a satisfactory account of their progress. The Boys advance, not in knowledge merely, but in the general tone of their conduct: their attachment to their Festivals is diminished, and they are far more regular in their attendance at School than formerly.

The Committee of the Association report, that, since Mrs. Wilkinson's departure, the Lady already adverted to has taken the Girls' School under her immediate superintendence. Of the Scholars they thus write:—

The number of those who attend is about eighteen: their school-hours are divided, as before, between reading and learning plain work, and such other female occupations as are likely to tend to their comfort and advantage in after-life. The principal obstacle in this department is found to arise from the prejudices of the Parents. The Children hang about, and desire to be taken in and instructed; but their Parents often forbid them. Time and patience on our part, and experience on theirs, can alone overcome this difficulty.

In the SEMINARY there are 12 Youths: more are desirous of admission; but the funds do not allow it.

The Boys in the Seminary and School have read, during the year, the following books:—Sellon's Abridgment in Hindoostanee; Psalms of David in Oordoo and Persian; New Testament, from the Gospel of St. John to Revelation, in Oordoo and Persian; the whole of the Pentateuch in Hindoostanee. They have also gone through the first four Rules of Arithmetic.

Four Native Children have been baptized during the year. Two deaths have also occurred in the Native Congregation.

In reference to the trial to which God has, in his providence, subjected him in the separation from his family, Mr. Wilkinson thus expresses his sentiments:—

The trial to which you allude I do indeed feel to be one of no ordinary kind. It has called forth feelings which before I knew not from experience that I possessed. The strongest affections of the soul have been opposed, and have called into exercise a principle which the Lord had graciously given for the day of trial. Adored for ever be the Divine Love, in all its varied manifestations! When God gives, He blesses; when He takes away, He blesses also. To the upright there ariseth light in darkness; and the exercise of Divine Goodness appears most bright when breaking through a cloud. I can now think more clearly, speak more experimentally, and sing more loudly of Covenant faithfulness. Through mercy, my mind has been preserved from such a state of anxiety as must have hindered me in my great work. In the multitude of my thoughts, the comforts of Jehovah have rejoiced my heart.

Of the general state of things, Mr. Wilkinson writes in July—

My own feelings often prompt me to speak of the good things which the Lord seems to be doing by us; but I always fear to speak as I feel. I do not wish you to think that nothing is doing. I think, on the contrary, God is greatly blessing us; but it is in a way which would not probably be visible to a stranger coming among us: my own heart is abundantly rejoiced and encouraged by what is going on; but it is more from a knowledge of what must necessarily be, in a great measure at least, unseen by a mere spectator. The Schools are as promising as can be expected. Among the Adults, too, I hope much good is finding its way silently and unseen. Three persons since my arrival here have died, witnessing a good profession, two of them rejoicing. On Sunday I baptized another Adult, with one Child; which make, in all, eight Baptisms since my arrival.

In September he remarks—

These opportunities of conversing with the poor infatuated people are among the best means of making known Christianity. When I often ask, When shall the day dawn? When shall the Sun of Righteousness arise? How long has darkness covered the earth, and gross darkness the people? The inquiry of the Edomites is peculiarly suited to the long and awful reign of the god of this world. What, what will be the issue of this awful night? Blessed be God for the cheering hope that the morning cometh! Oh, it will soon, I trust, open upon us! As yet it is scarcely twilight with us here. Few are heard to inquire, Watchman, what of the night? Enveloped in darkness, they love that darkness well: it suits too well their evil deeds: they come not, and they manifest no desire to come to the light, lest their deeds should be made manifest. He who reigns in the children of disobedience, must first be cast out, and the Spirit must be poured out from on high. We sometimes talk of the conversion of the world by human means and human instruments. Where are the means, where are the instruments, for so prodigious a work? A miracle must be wrought, to create them first. And yet, my dear Sir, yet it shall. He who doeth all things after the counsel of His own will, will do it in His own best time and way. He has only to give the word, and many shall be the Heralds of Salvation. The power to make known, the will to hear, the heart to receive—all, all is from Him. Soon the seventh trumpet shall sound; and He that shall come, will come, in the power of His Spirit. He shall work, and none shall let. I rejoice to hear good of home, in respect to contributions: and could we translate a few of the scenes we are obliged to witness into your Meeting, they would be instead of a thousand Sermons, to open the heart and the pocket.

Cawnpore.

The Society supports a Native Catechist at this Station, of whom the Rev. Mr. Whiting gives the following account:—

I am happy to be able to inform you, that Peter Dilsook continues to maintain a truly Christian deportment, and that his desire to make known to his poor deluded countrymen the Way of Salvation appears not to abate. I regret, at the same time, that I have it not in my power to say, that the number of his attendants at the Native Chapel is increased. His labours, however, are not confined to the Chapel: he frequently endeavours to spread the savour of the Redeemer's name on the banks of the Ganges and in the Bazars; and I hope these endeavours, although we could desire some more positive proofs of his success, are not altogether in vain. Every Monday Morning he visits me; when he performs a short Service, and delivers a brief address to a small assembly of Natives, in a room in my compound.

Agra.

This Station has acquired a peculiar interest, from its having been so long the scene of the Rev. Abdool Messeeh's labours; one of the earliest of that holy band of Christian Teachers who, in God's time, shall be raised and sent forth by the anointing of His Spirit to proclaim the message of Redeeming Love to their unhappy countrymen. After his ordination by Bishop Heber in December 1825, he did not reach his Mother's residence at Lucknow till the hot season of 1826 had set in. It was intended that he should make that place the sphere of his future labours; but on the 4th of March, in last year, he was called to enter into his heavenly rest. The following view of his character is given by the Calcutta Committee, in their last Report:—

He had laboured in the service of the Church Missionary Society upward of 14 years; during the whole of which period he had uniformly adorned the doctrine of God our Saviour, and greatly endeared himself to many Christians of all classes in society. By patience and meekness under persecutions and reproaches for Christ's sake, and by persevering endeavours to return good for evil, even his enemies had become at peace with him; whilst, by his labours to make known the Gospel, multitudes of his countrymen were brought to acknowledge the superiority of the Christian Religion, and about one hundred of them to embrace the profession of it: many of these departed this life before him; some have returned to their old errors; and some remain walking in the truth. Whilst the Committee justly regret the loss which the Church, and the cause of the Gospel generally, has suffered in the removal of so valuable a fellow-labourer, they at the same time are persuaded that their loss is his unspeakable gain; and they would offer their hearty thanks to the Father of Lights, from whom every good and perfect gift doth come, for manifesting so signally the power of His grace in the conversion, holy life, and triumphant death of this true Servant of Christ.

It is intended to prepare a Memoir of the Rev. Abdool Messeeh from the documents which are in the Society's possession.

Of the proceedings of Abdool's successor, the Calcutta Committee report—

The remnant of the Rev. Abdool Messeeh's flock continue to assemble for Christian worship under Fuez Messeeh. Encouraged by a friend of the Society, he has lately established three Native Girls' Schools in the city; in one of which, 6 Widows and 5 Young Girls are instructed by the Daughter of a Moonshee; and in the other two, 20 Girls, 10 in each, by a Widow.

Meerut.

The Rev. Henry Fisher, the Chaplain at Meerut, gives the following account of the Native Christians, in April:—

Behadur is still with me. I retain him as my Native Clerk; and have great pleasure in testifying to his faithful discharge of many important duties in that capacity: he is very valuable to me; indeed I could not do without him: he is especially required to look after and examine and inspect the Native Catechumens. Matthew Phiroodeen is a stedfast Christian; and does much good from day to day—reporting to me, as occasions arise, any thing advantageous or otherwise to our cause: and leading a quiet, sober, and consistent life.

Of Peter, I suppose you will hear through Mr. White: he and Ruth are at Cawnpore; and are, I believe, diligent and faithful. Of Mooneef, I have heard nothing: I fear that he remains obstinate in his apostacy. I have admitted to Baptism 3 Native Women; with whom I have reason to remain satisfied, as to their sincerity.

Kurnaul.

Anund Messeeh, who for some time resided at Delhi, has, by the advice of Mr. Fisher and Mr. White, the Chaplains at Meerut and Cawnpore, removed to Kurnaul. With reference to this charge, Mr. Fisher writes—

Circumstances induced me to attend to the solicitations of some of our pious friends, and to withdraw Anund Messeeh from Delhi for a season, and send him to Kurnaul: he has been there now above a month. I have long felt anxious that some more settled scene of regular labour should be selected for Anund; for however, in that desultory mode of instruction which he has, as it were, been compelled to adopt, he may occasionally do some good, it does not seem reasonable to anticipate much; or that permanent impressions should be likely to remain, without the benefit of permanent and laborious teaching, as a regular resident Missionary.

At Kurnaul, I am well aware, there is a very promising opening for our friend Anund; and that, more particularly, as he will be countenanced by valuable Christian Friends. The accounts received from him since his residence there are fully satisfactory.

Concerning his labours at Kurnaul, Mr. White makes the following communication:—

I have seen a most satisfactory account of the proceedings of Anund at Kurnaul; which inclines me to hope that we may hereafter see a merciful end answered in the change of his destination. A friend writes, that, in the few days that Anund has been at Kurnaul, he has not been idle: many of the Sepoys assembled to hear him; and, after he had closed, requested him to preach again to them: when he attended at their Lines, their children thronged him, desiring him to give them an Ungeell (Gospel); and, of the people who came from the City to the Cantonment to attend his ministrations, one old man earnestly desired to be instructed in the Christian Faith.

MADRAS AND SOUTH-INDIA MISSION.

THIS Mission has been strengthened by the accession of three Missionaries: the Rev. Paul Pacifique Schaffter, whose departure and arrival have been already mentioned; the Rev. John Kindlinger; and the Rev. J. C. F. Winckler. Messrs. Kindlinger and Winckler have been employed in connection with the Netherlands' Missionary Society: but that Society having resolved to discontinue its operations on the Southern Coast of India, and to transfer them to Malacca or some other Station under the Dutch Government, Messrs. Kindlinger and Winckler expressed a desire to labour in connection with the Church Missionary Society, and tendered their services; which, after a satisfactory inquiry into their qualifications, the Madras Committee accepted. It was intended that Mr. Schaffter should proceed to Palamcottah, for the purpose of assisting Messrs. Rhenius and Schmid; but Mr. Winckler having been appointed to that Station antecedently to Mr. Schaffter's arrival, Mr. Schaffter's destination has been changed; and he is gone to Mayaveram, to share Mr. Bärenbruck's labours. Mr. Kindlinger remains at Pulicat, the Station which he has for some time occupied.

The arrival of the Rev. Thomas Norton and his Family at Allepie has been already mentioned.

The Committee are happy to state, that the health of the Rev. John Hallewell, the Secretary of the Corresponding Committee, has been much improved by his residence on the Nilgherry Hills; and that he was expected to return to Madras about the middle of October, and to resume his labours.

The best mode of providing for the Education of the Children of the Missionaries has been for some time under the consideration of the Committee; and measures are in progress, which will afford considerable facilities for the attainment of this object. The elevation of the Nilgherry Hills (from 6000 to 7000 feet above the level of the sea), and the consequent salubrity of the climate, greatly recommend them for a residence, and they are annually becoming more frequented by the Civil and Military Servants of the Company. The Committee have, therefore, on the representations which have been made to them by their friends at Madras, and by some who have returned to England, determined on the formation of an Establishment on the Hills, for the education of the Children of the Missionaries.

MADRAS, AND ITS VICINITY.

The Rev. William Sawyer, and the Rev. James Ridsdale and Mrs. Ridsdale, continue their labours at Madras.

In the work of the MINISTRY, Mr. Ridsdale remains in charge of the English Department, and Mr. Sawyer of the Tamul; Mr. Ridsdale preaching in English at the Mission Church in Black Town, and Mr. Sawyer in Tamul. Mr. Sawyer has also charge of Tamul Congregations at Poonamallee and at Tripasore, some distance from Madras.

Of the Natives and Country-born under his care, Mr. Sawyer writes—

The Congregation in Black Town is regular, and but few instances of open sin have come under my notice this year: the average attendance is 160, and the Communicants are 26. At Poonamallee, the average attendance is 35; the Communicants are 6, and there have been 10 Adult Baptisms. At Tripasore, the people are growing, I hope, in the knowledge and love of God: the average attendance is 30; the Communicants are 4; and two Adults have been baptized.

Mr. Ridsdale's Ministry in the Mission Church has been so well received, that it has become necessary to enlarge the accommodation, and the Government has readily contributed its aid toward this object.

Mr. Rhenius, after visiting Madras early in last year, thus speaks of his Brethren—

It gave me much pleasure again to have personal intercourse with our dear Brethren Ridsdale and Sawyer, and other old and beloved friends in Madras—to take sweet counsel together about the work of the Ministry among the Heathen—to relate what the Lord has done for us at Palamcottah—and to hear what is going on in Madras. I have preached several times to the Tamul and English Congregations, and sown the good seed as the Lord enabled me: may He abundantly bless it, and make it helpful to the labours of the Brethren! It was truly pleasing to see Brother Ridsdale's English Congregation on the Sabbath Evening, when the Church is quite filled: when I began this Service, eight or nine years ago, the attendants were but about 50: now they fill a pretty large Church. He evidently labours with acceptance.

From the Returns of the SCHOOLS, it appears that those for Boys are 17 in number, containing 748 Scholars: of these, 128 are Christians by profession, 73 Brahmins, 417 Soodras, and 130 Parriars: the average attendance is 650.

The number of Students in the SEMINARY is 37.

The last Report stated the FEMALE SCHOOLS to be 7 in number; the 4 Tamul containing 130 Children, and the 3 English 120: no Returns have since been received.

The Auxiliary Committee plead urgently for a Printer from England to take charge of the PRESS, the care of which interferes with Mr. Ridsdale's important functions as a Missionary; and an additional number of Presses is required to meet the wants of the Mission in this growing department of labour. Mr. Rhenius, when in Madras, presented seven new Tamul Tracts to the Committee.

Pullicat.

The connection between the Society and the Rev. John Kindlinger, which has been already adverted to, has led to the occupation of this new Station. Besides Mr. and Mrs. Kindlinger, there is an English Schoolmaster, Mr. T. Meyers, a Portuguese Reader, and several Native Assistants. A Place of Worship erected by the Dutch Government, with a small Mission-House and three School-Houses which were built by Subscription, were transferred to the Society on the 1st of March in last year.

From an account of this Station, transmitted by Mr. Kindlinger to the Madras Committee, it appears that the Congregations consist of about 300 souls; namely, Dutch and English descendants, about 50; Portuguese, 120; and Tamulians, 130. The greatest part of the Dutch Community having left Pullicat, and most of those who are now there understanding English better than Dutch, Divine Service is conducted in English. The English Congregation meets on Sunday Morning, and has an average attendance of from 35 to 40 persons—the Tamul on Sunday Afternoon, when 70 attend; and on Wednesday Evening, when about 40 are present—the Portuguese, on Thursday Morning, when the Catechist reads a Sermon to 25 or 30 persons; but Portuguese also are present, both at the English and Tamul Services.

Though his MINISTRY has not met with much encouragement, Mr Kindlinger remarks—

I must however state, to the glory of the Lord, that hitherto my endeavours have not entirely been without success.

Of the SCHOOLS he writes—

In Pullicat and its vicinity, as far as six miles, there are 10 Tamul Boys' Schools, in which there are 336 Boys under Christian Instruction, and which I visit two or three times a month. The prejudices were so strong two or three years ago, that I experienced very great trouble in erecting the second School (the first being chiefly for Christians); but now, the people themselves beg for Schools; and I could erect several more, but I do not wish to have Schools at a great distance, as they must be visited frequently if any good is expected. There is also one English Boys' School of 30 Boys, one English Girls' School of 15, and three Tamul Girls' Schools in which there are 56 Native Girls: the Girls' Schools are under the superintendence of Mrs. Kindlinger, and are maintained by local subscriptions. With regard, also, to the instruction of Adults, the prejudices are decreasing; and there is a field open for disseminating Christian Knowledge among both Christians and Heathens.

Mayaveram.

The circumstances which led to the appointment to this Station of the Rev. Paul P. Schaffter have been already stated; and the persons now labouring here, besides Mr. Schaffter, are the Rev. G. T. Bärenbruck and Mrs. Bärenbruck, and John Dewasagayam. Towards the close of 1826, Mr. Bärenbruck's health had suffered; but at the beginning of last year it was improving.

Mr. Bärenbruck has been able to continue the exercise of his MINISTRY, as was stated in the last Report, having Tamul Services on the morning and afternoon of Sunday, and English in the evening; and, on several evenings of the week, there are expositions in a small building open to the road, and easy of access to all who pass by. Daily Family-Prayer, with exposition of Scripture, is held morning and evening. From Mr. Bärenbruck's Journal, it appears that the public Services excite increased attention among the Romanists and Heathens; but no instance of conversion has occurred.

The Danish Government having requested that the SCHOOLS within its territory, received by this Society in 1816 from the late Rev. Dr. John of the Danish Mission at Tranquebar, should be re-transferred, their request was carried into effect at Midsummer last. Till that period they had been under Mr. Bärenbruck's care, and were frequently visited by him. At Lady-Day, the whole number of Schools had been 33, with 1720 Scholars; being 78 Brahmins, 1505 Soodras, 43 Mahomedans, 49 Protestants, 38 Romanists, and 7 Girls. Up to Michaelmas preceding, 7755 Scholars had entered from the beginning, and there were then 1749 in the Schools: 6006 Children had, therefore, up to that time, passed through the Schools.

The influence which, by the Divine Blessing, may be produced on the minds of the Parents through the medium of Children in the Schools, is shewn by the following circumstance, mentioned by Mr. Bärenbruck:—

Now and then I have heard that the Children, on their return from School, have had conversations with their Parents on what they have learned at School from the Divine Word or Catechisms: sometimes the Fathers of such Children will come and tell it to us. A few days ago I heard a Parent say—"My Boy has only attended your school a few months, and has learned more than I have done in all the years of my life; and is now teaching me."

There are 14 Youths in the SEMINARY, of whom Mr. Bärenbruck writes—

In regard to the grand work of the Spirit in their hearts, there does not appear any thing remarkable; but there is observable in some of them a good feeling and delight in the Word of God, an humble deportment, and union with their fellow-scholars. Circumstances and opportunities are improved, to impress on their minds the great importance of the work of Grace in the heart, and they are frequently encouraged to pray with us earnestly for that blessing beyond all others.

On occasion of the Seminarists coming, as is usual with the Natives, to express good wishes on entering a New Year, Mr. Bärenbruck says—

The Seminarists came to my room, in order to express their wishes and feelings on the season of the year. I was really affected by some of their expressions, which appeared to be the sentiments of their hearts: two of these only, I will notice. One Youth said—"May the Lord bless you with an increased portion of spiritual happiness and joy, by the success of your labours among us, and numerous other children and grown-up Heathen!" and the other—"And that also we, by Divine Mercy, may be enabled to meet you in that blessed world; and there express our joy and thankfulness, in far better language than we can do now, to you and all our benefactors!" May the Lord graciously hear and grant these petitions! I have reason to hope that the work of Divine Grace has commenced in some of these children: several private conversations with them on the state of their minds have greatly encouraged me in my work.

TINNEVELLY.

The progress of the work of God in this District has rendered it exceedingly desirable to afford additional help to the Missionaries who are stationed in it. In order in some degree to meet their wants, Mr. Schaffter was, as has been stated, appointed to assist them; but the Rev. J. C. F. Winckler being at liberty before Mr. Schaffter's arrival at Madras, he has been associated with Mr. Rhenius and Mr. Schmid: they have been further strengthened by the addition of Mr. Regel, a Schoolmaster, from Sadras. Mr. and Mrs. Winckler are gone to Tutecoryn, to take charge of the Congregations in that quarter; and Messrs. Rhenius and Schmid continue at Palamcottah. This supply, though very acceptable, did not meet the increasing exigencies of the Station; and the Missionaries made a very strong application to the Madras Committee for still further assistance. The claims for it they thus notice:—

Considering the increase of labours on our hands, and the large extent of our sphere, we feel ourselves strongly urged to request the Committee, if possible, NOT to change Mr. Schaffter's appointment. As we have already several times intimated to you to provide for this district under its present circumstances, (not forgetting the Seminaries, the Schools, and the Translations of the Scriptures,) at least five Missionaries are required: we do not mean that they all should be resident in Palamcottah.

Mr. Winckler is now in Tutecoryn. Next to that, about 60 miles south-west, and 28 miles south of Palamcottah, is Satangkoolam, where we have a Congregation and a Church, surrounded by many of our other Congregations: there it is extremely desirable that another Missionary should be fixed, to superintend them with their Native Teachers, Schools, &c.; his sphere would go as far as the sea-shore. Next to this is Pooliyoorkooritchy, or, as we have now called it, Dohnavoor, the property of the Mission, about 25 miles west of Satangkoolam, and about as much south-west of Palamcottah, near the Mountains: there another Missionary should reside, to superintend the Congregations along the Hills, stretching in length about 40 miles. Pooliyoorkooritchy is situated between Calcaud and Nangancherry. Then there remains the whole north of Palamcottah, which is more than half of the whole district of Tinnevelly; where we cannot now make any journeys among the Heathen, because of our other labours. During our residence here, only one Missionary excursion has been made northward as far as Swakari, excepting the casual journeys, when passing through to Madras: and as for the Congregations in the south, we must confess, that though we have visited every Station of our Native Teachers, yet we have not been able to visit every Village under their charge; a thing which we much wish to do, for the benefit of the Heathen, but cannot: they require, moreover, frequent visits, which we are prevented from undertaking, by the distance, and by the increase of expense.

We believe we have said enough to support our request, to let Mr. Schaffter proceed to Palamcottah, and occupy in due time, after acquiring the language, either Satangkoolam or Dohnavoor. Unless more help comes, unless more particular superintendence can be bestowed, things will go backward rather than forward. Our Congregations are not of the kind to be left to themselves; and their circumstances require great and assiduous labours on our part, to carry them forward to that state in which we wish to see them.

It is a subject of devout gratitude to the Great Head of the Church, that He is still pleased to own and bless the labours of His Servants in this District; and that, while many of those who have renounced Idolatry have in consequence been subjected to oppression by their more powerful neighbours, others are, by the grace of God, coming forward, and seeking instruction concerning that way of Salvation, for walking in which they may also soon be exposed to similar acts of violence.

Mr. Schmid says, in reference to these trials—

I am surprised at what our people in the Villages endure from their enemies—what opposition and persecutions they have to suffer; and still others come forward continually, to learn the way to Zion.

The increasing desire for instruction is thus noticed by the Missionaries—

The Congregations are again on the increase. At the last assembly of the Native Teachers (last week), Michael, in Nedoonviley, reported that about 20 Heathen Families have joined our Church there. Lazarus stated that in Sekkadivalley 4 Families have done the same: and about a month ago we received a Wooden Idol, with a basket of Devils and other images from about 10 Families in Ideiyenkoolam, who have renounced Idolatry: and, lastly, a few days ago, two Roman-Catholic Headmen and some other people arrived here from Osvari, near the sea in the South, begging, in the name of 40 Roman-Catholic Families, for a Christian Teacher; to whom we have just sent off our Native Assistant, David, in order to inform himself of the state of things there.

We have received similar Reports from various other quarters*.

While the Holy Spirit has thus been poured out on the efforts of the Missionaries, and afforded them such great encouragement, they seem to have an adequate view of the immense difference between an outward renunciation of Heathenism, or adoption of one form of nominal Christianity for another, and genuine conversion to God: and it is gratifying to hear them thus expressing their feelings with respect to those who profess to follow Christ:—

From our Journals, you will perceive that we discover much chaff among them—a thing which, happily, we were prepared from the beginning to expect; but they will at the same time convince you, that the Lord has indeed His work among them, and that there are really more souls than one, whom, as far as evidence goes, we feel at liberty to call true Christians. If it were only ONE soul, we should already have much cause to rejoice; as even that one alone is worth more than the whole world; and the salvation of it excites gladness among the blessed in Heaven. Now that there are MORE than ONE, many more, our and their joy is the more enhanced.

* Full particulars, in the Journals of the Missionaries, are printed in the Missionary Register of last year, at pp. 558—565, relative to the Growth and Influence of Christianity, and the Trials and Difficulties of the Mission.

At the last Returns there were 15 SCHOOLS for Boys, with 399 Scholars, and an average attendance of 303: of this number 16 were Girls.

No account has been received of the MALE AND FEMALE SEMINARIES since those inserted in the last Report.

The demand for Tracts has induced the Missionaries to urge for a regular supply; and of the benefit derived from the PRESS, they speak in the following terms:—

Everywhere people delight in reading our Tracts. Their utility to our New Congregations is great, and our people contribute toward publishing them. We would gladly supply both them and the Heathen with a greater variety of Tracts: there are several Manuscripts ready—on Caste, on Marriage, and on Idolatry.

They afterwards add—

The Schoolmasters tell us, that many of their Scholars collect the Tracts, and fold them up carefully in a cloth, or put them into little boxes; and are frequently seen reading them, before their Parents' houses, in an evening—holding them in their cloth, in order to preserve them uninjured.

The Committee are unwilling to close their account of this Station without adverting to a circumstance immediately connected with the late encouraging events. Two of the Calcutta Newspapers have noticed the accounts which have been published of the advancing Cause of Truth in Tinnevelly; and, in order to throw discredit on those accounts, have brought against the Missionaries the cheap and easy charges of enthusiasm, proneness to exaggeration, and a want of suitable qualifications for their work. Nor have they who are diligently seeking Christian Instruction escaped accusation: the majority of them are represented either as Proselytes from Romanism, or the converts of Swartz and his associates, while a small portion of them are allowed to have been Heathens; and their conduct is charged with insincerity, and imputed to corrupt motives. There is no difficulty in tracing these general charges to their real source. Christian love rejoiceth not in iniquity, but rejoiceth in the truth; but the carnal mind is enmity against God. The Missionaries have been called on to vindicate the truth of their statements; and, in reference to this call, remark—

We have just received information from Calcutta, that the Report of our prosperity here has been attacked, and become a discussion in the Newspapers. We have been called upon to give a particular statement of the commencement and progress of the work of God in these parts, which we are going to do. The Cause of Christ will doubtless gain by such invidious attacks, whilst we get thereby more careful in making our Reports. Reviewing our past Journals and Reports, we find no cause to retract any thing. They consist mostly of FACTS, which cannot be undone: and we are glad that in expressing our joy at these occurrences, we have often backed it with our fears. If a fact appeared afterwards to have sprung not from the best of motives, that does not undo the fact itself; and having stated that also, we feel no small satisfaction in our minds.

The Missionaries have drawn up an Account of the Tinnevelly Mission,* from its commencement in 1820, till the month of July in last year, detailing the various circumstances connected with their proceedings, and the facts which have taken place; and shewing, to the satisfaction of every Christian mind, that whatever portion of alloy there may be, there is much precious gold; and that, though tares, as might have been expected, have sprung up among the wheat, God has, by the enthusiasm of His Servants and the foolishness of their preaching, turned many from idols, to serve the living and true God, and to wait for His Son from heaven.

Nor should it be overlooked, that there are some who view the work in Tinnevelly in a very different light: we allude to the Ninth Report of the Diocesan Committee at Calcutta of the Christian Knowledge Society, who bear the following unbiassed testimony to the success which it has pleased God to grant to Missionary labours in this District. On this subject they thus express their sentiments—

It is most encouraging to hear of the wonderful success of Missionary Labours at this Presidency [Madras], more especially in the District of Tinnevelly. The Natives, in this part of the South of India, had long been under the tuition of the Missionaries of the Society for Promoting Christian Knowledge; when, through want of a succession of them, they were kindly taken up by those of the Church Missionary Society: thus verifying, in a double sense, the text that saith, One soweth, and another reapeth. To the great astonishment and joy of your Committee, as many as Eleven Hundred Families have since renounced their Idols, and entirely given up the distinction of Caste; and numbers of them have been added to the Church by Baptism. And certainly it is enough for these converts, though they know no more, to be enabled to say, like the man in the Gospel—One thing I know, whereas I was blind, now I see: and your Committee rejoice, for their object is equally attained, that these Gentiles were not suffered to remain in their idolatry, and that this timely assistance has been afforded by a Sister Society.

TRAVANCORE.

The under-mentioned Stations in Travancore are occupied by the following Missionaries: the Rev. Benjamin Bailey, Henry Baker, and John William Doran, with Mrs. Bailey and Mrs. Baker, are engaged at Cottayam; the Rev. Samuel Ridsdale and Mrs. Ridsdale are at Cochin; and the Rev. Thomas Norton and Mrs. Norton, whose return has been already mentioned, at Allepie.

Cottayam.

The obstacles thrown in the way of the Mission by Mar Athanasius's visit have been gradually removed, and the Missionaries appear to be prosecuting their labours with little interruption. On this subject Mr. Bailey writes in April—

The disturbances caused in the Syrian Church by the arrival of Athanasius have, in a great measure, subsided. Some of the Catanars, who manifested a very refractory spirit, have been fined by the Travancore Government for disobedience to its orders, and have been made to submit. The Metropolitan, Mar Philoxenus, on whom the government of the Syrian Church at present devolves, has summoned these Catanars before him, and endeavoured to bring them to a just sense of their improper conduct: they have acknowledged their guilt, and promised to obey the Metropolitan's instructions in future. I trust, that, through the blessing of God, the exertions of the Metropolitan to restore peace, harmony, and brotherly love in his Church will be crowned with success.

He appears very desirous to do all in his power for the good of his Church; but his present weak state of health prevents him from exerting himself as he could wish. The late disturbances have affected his nerves exceedingly: we were afraid, some time ago, that he would not be able to resume the management of the affairs of his Church; but I am thankful to say that he is now much better. The late trials appear to have increased his confidence in us.

Our conduct during these disturbances will be fully explained to you by Mr. Fenn, who, I trust, has, by this time, safely arrived in England with his family. I do not see how we could have acted otherwise than we did, or have interfered less than we did: though it may be a general impression, that we were, in a great measure, instrumental in Athanasius's being sent out of the country, I can positively state that we had nothing whatever to do in it: the Travancore Government acted with entire independence of us, and for the preservation of its own authority.

On the same subject Mr. Doran writes—

The storm that lately assailed the Syrian Churches, by the coming of Mar Athanasius from Antioch, is, at least for the present, quite blown over: not, however, without leaving the marks of its violence behind, in the disgrace, not only specially of the opposing Catanars, but also generally of the Syrian Body.

That we have the full confidence and prayers of the Senior Metran there can be no question: he is kind to a degree: indeed it is impossible to know him, and not to love him.

A Malayalim Service on the Sabbath has been commenced, and is well attended.

At the end of April there were in the COLLEGE 48 Students, from 8 to 20 years of age, divided into Six Classes. Mr. Doran had succeeded in introducing among the Students a more decorous dress than is usual with the Natives, and had assigned separate rooms to the senior Students. Finding that he required assistance in conducting the English studies, Mr. Doran recalled Mr. Roberts from Allepie. Full particulars of the dispositions and progress of the Students have appeared in the Missionary Register of last year (pp. 602, 603); and, in conclusion, Mr. Doran writes—

The whole Establishment rises daily in my regard. If I know myself, (but who does?) I feel more and more willing hourly to spend and be spent in its service. Give us only SUITABLE help, and pray that the Spirit may be poured out from on high upon us, and I am convinced that this, even THIS, may become as interesting a spot as the eye of the Christian would wish to dwell upon in Pagan India.

In the GRAMMAR AND PAROCHIAL SCHOOLS, which are 32 in number, there are 918 Boys: of these, Mr. Baker writes—

We have met with considerable encouragement in this branch of our Mission, particularly in the Nair Schools. On commencing them, about a year and a half ago, a strong prejudice against our books was observed, and therefore nothing was said about introducing them; but they have, since that time, been gradually brought into use, in all the Schools, without exception.

It is gratifying to learn, that FEMALE EDUCATION is advancing here, as in other parts of India: this was first attempted by Mrs. Fenn and Mrs. Baker, who commenced a School for the instruction of 10 or 12 Girls. Mrs. Baker has since received 18 into her house, of whom she gives the following account:—

All these children, except two, are under 12 years of age, and had scarcely learnt any thing before they came: they are now employed, from morning till noon, at their needles, &c.; and in the after part of the day at their books. The first Class read the responses of the Liturgy, which we use at Morning Prayer; and are regularly catechized and examined on the Lord's Day. Under the blessing of God, we have some prospect before us of their turning out well.

On this subject, Mr. Doran thus expresses his sentiments:—

As it regards the practicability of educating the Syrian Females, I have only to point to a School which Mrs. Baker supports and instructs at her own charge. I never visit this little Establishment, and see the pretty little children engaged in their equally useful and sacred employments, without mingled feelings of thankfulness and pain—of thankfulness, that even so much is doing; of pain, that so much is left undone. Parents are now so satisfied that their female children are deriving benefit from being under Mrs. Baker's kind care, that many of them are coming forward to solicit an entrance for more. Mr. Baker assures me that he might have a School of 80, had he but the means to support it. Here, then, is a most promising and interesting channel, through which Christian Benevolence and Sympathy may move: the Christian heart, which now beats responsive to the calls of Bengal Females, will not be insensible to the spiritual and intellectual wants of Syro-Indian Females. Christianity (alas! falsely so called) has done but little, if any thing, for the Syrian Women.

The marks of degradation are, I believe, equally apparent in Syrian and Heathen Women. I need not say that Female improvement ought to go hand in hand with that of Man, if not to precede it. In making these observations, I am but recording the sentiments and feelings of our whole circle.

To what I have said as to Mrs. Baker, I might add the testimony of Mrs. Bailey; who, from the first, has had from 3 to 4 Girls in her house, and at her own charge.

The number in the Female School, in October, was 18.

The PRESS continues under Mr. Bailey's care: an edition of 5000 copies of St. Luke's Gospel, in Malayalim, has been finished for the Madras Bible Society; and, some additional Presses having been obtained, the Missionaries were proceeding with the New Testament, Liturgy, and School Books.

Mr. Baker, in October, takes the following view of the Mission:—

On taking a view of the prospect before us, there is reason to think it more encouraging than it has been for a long time; and that chiefly, because the attention of the Missionaries is now directed solely to their Missionary work. Formerly much time was occupied in attending to business which was brought before us by the late Metropolitan; business which was not strictly either his or ours, but made such by circumstances over which we had little or no controul. We are now employed in printing and circulating the Scriptures and religious books, in teaching Children, and in training Young Men for the work of the Ministry, who, we trust, will become our helpers in the work of teaching and preaching to their benighted countrymen.

Cochin.

The Rev. Samuel Ridsdale gives the following account of the population at Cochin, among whom he has been called to labour:—

Cochin and its vicinity contain about 300 Protestants, 10,000 Papists, 1000 Jews, 2000 Mahomedans, and 6000 Heathens, making a total of above 19,000.

The whole community, with few exceptions, through the long absence of facilities for education, I found very low as to intellectual qualifications; and through long destitution of a faithful residing Pastor, although they had retained something of the form of godliness, I found the generality affectingly ignorant of its power. The other classes, generally speaking, exhibit an awful specimen of the fruits of human depravity, excited by the unresisted temptations of Satan, countenanced by the example of the world around them, and confirmed by inveterate habit. But, sad to say, the Papists, whose constant cry is "The Temple of the Lord are we," are especially those who, by their ignorance, wickedness, and enmity to the Gospel, prove themselves to be of the "Synagogue of Satan."

An instance or two will exemplify their ignorance. My Moonshee, visiting the Priest of a neighbouring Church, entered into a discussion with him respecting the Anti-Christian doctrines and practices of his Church. The Priest pleaded the authority of Scripture; but being urged to produce the Bible, after many excuses and much hesitation, he brought forward, in its stead, a paltry manuscript of unheard-of dreams and fables; amongst which was that well-known piece of frantic folly from the Korân, in which God is represented as commanding the Angels to worship Adam! This was the only Bible possessed by a Priest of the Mother and Mistress of all Churches; and such was his ignorance, as to take it for the Word of God! Nor is this a solitary instance; it is but too faithful a specimen of the generality of Roman Priests throughout the country. As are the Priests, so are their people.

Ask either children or adults the question, "Who is Jesus Christ;" and the answer is, that "He is the Mother of God!" I have been repeatedly petrified by receiving this answer from persons to whom, lest I should insult their understanding, I was almost ashamed to propose the question. One Sunday Afternoon, when I was preaching in Malayalim, a woman (a Papist) ran out of the Church in great terror; and afterwards stated as the cause, that in preaching I had described the figure of the Cross with my left hand! As to their wickedness, it may suffice to observe, that Priests and people are alike the slaves of idolatry, profaneness, Sabbath-breaking, malice, fornication, drunkenness, lying, theft, and every crime with which human nature is degraded.

The Priests manifest their bitter enmity against the Gospel, by threatening with excommunication in this world, and damnation in the next, all who are guilty of attending my ministry, reading my books, or learning in my Schools: while drunkenness, adultery, theft, and other the blackest crimes, are deemed venial foibles, and are excused upon payment of a trifling penalty.

A neighbouring Priest having got into his clutches some young men (Papists) who had for some time been learning in our Schools, compelled them to swear by the Bible that they would no more read the Bible. And while all are, under the heaviest penalties to themselves and their friends, forbidden to attend our Schools, they are at liberty to attend the Schools of the Heathen! A virtual confession this, that their religion, if such it may be called, accords far more with Heathenism than Christianity.

The Popish Population consists partly of the descendants of the Dutch and Portuguese by their connection with African Slaves and the Natives of this country, but principally of the proselytes from the lower Castes of the Heathen, allured by prospects of temporal advantage.

With respect to the Jews, the veil is yet, alas! upon their hearts; and, rejecting Him who alone can make them free, they continue the slaves of sin. Mahomedans here seem to have lost the greater part of their accustomed zeal for their own superstitions. They have here but one Mosque, and it is inferior to many an English barn: and, excepting a continually fluctuating community of Arabs, averaging about 50, who resort to Cochin for traffic, very few attend public worship.

The Heathen, though by creed the most remote of all from truth, may yet perhaps be the first to enter the kingdom of heaven. If the fact has never been stated before to you, you will be surprised to learn, that when a Brahmin is apparently at the point of death, it is common for his Gooroo, or Spiritual Guide, secretly to exhort him to embrace the Fourth Religion, i. e. Christianity. And although all classes behold Christianity with a jealous eye, yet I have discovered a prevailing persuasion that it will shortly become universal.

Two SCHOOLS for Boys and Girls have been formed in Cochin, and three others in adjacent places: the numbers in these Schools are about 160. An Evening School has also been commenced for the benefit of those who are employed in manual labour during the day. Eleven Boys and six Girls, most of whom are destitute, have been received by Mr. and Mrs. Ridsdale into their family.

Mr. Ridsdale has visited great part of Cochin, from house to house, exhorting the people to avail themselves of the benefits of the Ministry of the Gospel and a Christian Education for themselves and their Children. He has also employed a Reader, to read, in the public parts of the town, portions of the Scriptures in Malayalim.

BOMBAY AND WESTERN-INDIA MISSION.

THE death of Mrs. Steward, shortly after her arrival in Bombay, was stated in the last Report: this painful bereavement was felt so severely by Mr. Steward, that he found it expedient, for the benefit of his spirits, to withdraw from Bombay for a season, and visit

Mr. Ridsdale at Cochin, with whom he resided for about two months. On his return to Bombay, he expressed a desire to remove to Bengal; and, with the sanction of the Committee, he sailed for Calcutta on the 26th of July. Circumstances have since arisen which render it probable that he will return to England.

The Bombay Committee deeming Basseen, which is about 40 miles to the north of Bombay, a desirable Missionary Station, the Rev. William Mitchell and Mrs. Mitchell removed thither at the end of February. Their residence here being exclusively among Natives, greatly facilitated their progress in the Mahratta Dialect; but the situation proving ineligible for a fixed residence, they removed to Tannah at the end of May. The reasons which led to this arrangement are thus given by the Rev. Thomas Carr, the Secretary:—

The Committee considered that Mr. Mitchell would be very profitably employed at Tannah, in reviving the Male and Female Schools which were formerly under the care of the Rev. Mr. Nichols of the American Mission; and it was agreed that he should consider Tannah, Callian, Bhewndy, and Basseen as his field of labour, and endeavour to establish Schools in each of those places; and that he would probably find it convenient to reside in a temporary bungalow or tent at Basseen, during the hot months of April and May. In the Northern Concan there are towns of considerable population on the coast as far as Damaun: there, indeed, the whole Province is without any Missionary; and we cannot but think that a zealous Labourer will find this as promising a field for Missionary Exertions as any in India. There is but one objection to prevent residence in towns to the north of Basseen—that they are distant from medical advice: they may, however, be occasionally visited; and, in the fine weather, Missionaries might reside for a few weeks in one or another of them in circuit.

CEYLON MISSION.

The Rev. George S. Faught, with Mrs. Faught and Miss Stratford, landed at Trincomalee on the 2d of August, and proceeded to Colombo, viâ Jaffna: they spent a few days with the Brethren at Nellore, and reached Colombo on the 24th of September. It has been already stated that Miss Stratford was married to the Rev. S. Lambrick in the beginning of December.

COTTA.

The Missionaries at this Station are, the Rev. Samuel Lambrick, Rev. Joseph Bailey, Rev. James Selkirk, and Rev. George S. Faught, with Mrs. Lambrick, Mrs. Selkirk, and Mrs. Faught; all of whom were well at the date of the last accounts.

There are four Services on the Sunday, the attendance on which by the Natives is very fluctuating. An Address, drawn up by Mr. Selkirk, was circulated among the inhabitants of the neighbouring Villages, inviting them to send their Children to the Schools, and to attend the Ministry of the Word. Mr. Selkirk also, accompanied by an Interpreter, went from house to house throughout the various Villages connected with the Mission, urging on the inhabitants the topics contained in the Address, and declaring to them the way of Salvation.

With reference to this branch of their labours, the Missionaries made the following report to the Annual Meeting in September:—

The Congregations at the Schools, where we have Divine Service on the Sunday Mornings and Evenings, have improved during the past year. One of the Schools, where we regularly preach on the Sunday Afternoon, is in general quite full; and we are much encouraged in preaching the Gospel to them, by witnessing the great attention which they manifest, and the interest which they seem to take in the important truths delivered to them. At the other Schools, where we attend on the Sunday Mornings, though the numbers are small, yet the people are attentive: so that, on the whole, we may say, that, in this department of the Missionaries' work, things are going on well, and at present wear a favourable aspect.

It appears, from the Annual Report of the Missionaries, that there are 8 SCHOOLS connected with this Station, containing 170 Scholars, of whom 19 are Girls: the average attendance is 107: 4 of the Girls are instructed by Mrs. Selkirk. The English School at Cotta contains 21 Boys, one of whom is maintained by the Society; the rest live with their relations. Applications have been made from two other Villages for the establishment of Schools, to one of which the Missionaries have acceded. While the Missionaries express their regret at the little effect which has been produced by Mr. Selkirk's Address, in inducing the Natives to send their Children to the Schools, they remark generally concerning them—

Of the Children in the Schools, 80 are daily engaged in reading the Word of God: and our Monthly Examinations continue to give us good reason for believing that much information is gained in the things of religion, not only by the Scholars, but also by the Masters. Some of the questions which the Masters propose, shew that they pay a good deal of attention to those important doctrines which they are constantly employed in inculcating on the minds of the Children; while the very appropriate and sometimes surprising answers given by the Children also evince that the attention of the Masters is not bestowed on them in vain.

The PRESS, under Mr. Lambrick's care, has been constantly at work during the year: the following works have been carried through it:—

Part of the Syntax—A Second Edition of Mr. Lambrick's Vocabulary—Prayer Book, in Cingalese, 250 copies—Memoir of Coomaravel, 1200 copies—Genesis, in Cingalese, 500 copies—Mr. Selkirk's Address, 400 copies—The Acts, to the 27th chapter, in Cingalese, 750 copies.

Of the Translation of the Liturgy, and the benefits arising from it, Mr. Browning writes—

There has been at length performed a most desirable work at Cotta—the Translation and Printing of the Prayer Book in Cingalese, in a style of language intelligible to the meanest persons who attend Christian Worship. I desire to bless God, who has enabled our dear brother Lambrick to execute this good work. A number of copies are appropriated to the use of our Congregation; and it is really pleasing to witness the decorous manner in which the Children and People bear their part in the Service.

The following Buildings have been erected; namely, a School House; two lines of buildings for a Printing Office, English School, and for the accommodation of persons connected with them; and a house capable of containing two Missionaries and their Families. The Madua in front of the house, now occupied by Mr. Lambrick, has been covered with tiles and is appropriated to Public Worship on Sundays.

KANDY.

The Rev. Thomas Browning still remains without an associate; the debilitated state of Mr. Ward's health rendering it expedient that Mr. Trimnell, who was originally designed to assist Mr. Browning, should remain at Baddagame. Mr. Browning has also been for some time burdened with additional duties, from the want of a Chaplain at Kandy; and in June thus expresses his need of assistance—

No Chaplain has yet arrived for this Garrison. I endeavour, as far as I am able, to discharge the duties of Chaplain and Missionary; but they are far too numerous and important for one individual to attend properly to them.

In the exercise of his MINISTRY, Mr. Browning has met with some encouragement among the Soldiers, whom he occasionally assembles for spiritual instruction: he writes concerning them—

It is indeed difficult for them, surrounded with so many temptations, to maintain their ground; and they need all the consolation, counsel, and admonition which can be afforded them. There are a few of them who are ornaments to their Christian Profession, and who shine as lights amidst the darkness that envelopes most of their comrades, and amidst the still grosser darkness of Heathenism; whose experience is a proof that the grace of God is sufficient to keep men in any situation or circumstances. I had great satisfaction lately in visiting the dying bed of a Soldier's Wife of the 83d Regiment. Having lived at an out-post for a considerable time, she had been deprived of the Means of Grace; but she had enjoyed the benefit of a religious education, and had learned to value the Bible, which her Husband told me she was in the constant habit of reading. She felt a peculiar interest in the words of consolation and peace which I endeavoured to administer to her, and died relying on the merits of Christ her Saviour.

Among these is a Modeliar, who is thus noticed by Mr. Browning—

An instance has come under my observation, of benefit received from the Word preached in the Native Congregations, in the case of a Modeliar, who has long been a constant attendant, and who listens with great seriousness: he came to me some time since, and wished to be admitted to the Lord's

Table; which request I readily granted, when I heard the state of his mind, knowing that his moral conduct was consistent. He stated that he had felt great concern for the salvation of his soul, had read and heard the Word of God with deep interest, and had obtained comfort in humble and earnest prayer.

The Modeliar has been very earnest in endeavouring to persuade his relations and neighbours to attend the Means of Grace.

In September, Mr. Browning reported—

The Congregations are, on the whole, encouraging; in that the Word is attentively heard. Among the Portuguese and Cingalese there are 8 Communicants, whose moral conduct, as far as I know, is consistent.

Of the Portuguese Congregation, Mr. Browning states—

It is still small, but a few appear sincere. We have lately been favoured with the Portuguese Prayer Book from the Prayer-Book-and-Homily Society; which is a great comfort, and which is likely to prove very beneficial. The style is rather high, as the Portuguese is spoken here, but not so much so as to render it unintelligible to the generality of the people; and it is, perhaps, more suited for general circulation in India than a version would be which is exactly conformed to the usage of this island.

The SCHOOLS in connection with the Station are 9 in number; 7 for Boys and 2 for Girls: in the Boys' Schools there are 221 on the List, with an average attendance of 124; and in the Girls', 26, with an average attendance of 17. Of this department of labour, Mr. Browning made the following report at the Annual Meeting:—

The Schools are promising, especially those in Kandy: the last Monthly Examination was very satisfactory.

In the English School there are three or four hopeful Youths, whom I hope, by the blessing of God, to recommend in time to the Christian Institution: I much regret that I have not more leisure to devote to their religious instruction. They have learnt by heart the Sermon on the Mount, the Parables, Miracles, Discourses, and History of our Saviour, the Gospel of St. Luke, and part of St. John; besides which, with several others, they learn, daily, Murray's English Grammar, write Exercises, and occasionally have a Lesson in Geography.

The Children in the Country Schools do not learn so many Lessons as those in Kandy: and, during the last two months, the cultivation of their paddy-fields has so much occupied their attention, that they have gone to school very irregularly. Still we are not left without encouragement, either in the progress of the Children in learning to read, or in the portions of Scripture committed to memory. In one or two places opposition has been made; and the Priests have endeavoured to persuade the Children and their Parents not to read Christian Books: but, notwithstanding, the books given as rewards are received with thankfulness; and the desire to learn to read is on the increase. During the last week I have had applications from two Villages not far distant from Kandy, to establish a School in each; but the present number is quite as much as can be well visited, with our present means. Indeed my own visits to the Schools out of Kandy are necessarily very few, on account of my other numerous engagements.

Mr. Browning greatly feels the need of a fellow-labourer in the Ministry; and the Committee would gladly send him an associate, if circumstances permitted: he has obtained some assistance from a Native, whom he has employed as a Scripture Reader, and whose labours have been the means of inducing some to attend the preaching of the Gospel.

BADDAGAME.

The last Report stated that the persons engaged at this Station were, the Rev. Robert Mayor, Rev. Benjamin Ward, and Rev. George S. Trimnell, with Mrs. Mayor, Mrs. Ward, and Mrs. Trimnell. Mr. Ward visited Bombay the beginning of last year, but derived little benefit from it: and the Committee regret that the state of his health and that of Mr. Mayor, at the time of their Annual Meeting, induced the Brethren to recommend their return to England.

Besides the exercise of their MINISTRY among the Natives, the Missionaries, in the absence of a Chaplain, have officiated at Galle once a fortnight: of the effect of their labours there they report—

The Morning Congregation is large; and we have reason to hope that our labours have not only been thankfully received, but that the Divine Blessing has not been wholly withheld from our endeavours to promote their everlasting welfare: and we feel assured, that though the influence of Truth may not have been felt in the manner we could wish, the preaching of the Gospel has checked the progress of sin, and strengthened the weak hands of those who might otherwise have fainted.

With reference to the Native Services, the Missionaries write—

The Congregation attending the Church at Baddagame continues much in the same state as last year: the greater part appear to listen with attention, and some occasionally seem to be affected by what they hear; but these impressions are, for the most part, soon obliterated by their intercourse with the things of time and sense; and we have little evidence of any of our stated hearers having so received the Truth in the love of it, as to be savingly converted and sanctified by it.

We have 8 Natives attached to the Mission, including three of the Boarding Boys, who regularly partake with us of the Lord's Supper.

The 4 Boys' SCHOOLS contain 134 Scholars: in the Boarding School there are 15 Youths; but the number in the Girls' School is not mentioned. The state of the Schools out of Baddagame has been discouraging; partly owing to the irregularity and want of zeal in the Masters, and partly to the inability of the Missionaries to visit them as often as is desirable. Of the Boarding Boys the Missionaries state—

They have made satisfactory progress in their studies. We cannot say that they manifest that earnestness about eternal things which would evidence their having been very powerfully awakened and quickened by the Spirit; but, judging from their general conduct, we have every reason to cherish the hope that they habitually live under the influence of that fear of the Lord which is the beginning of heavenly wisdom. Their number is the same as last year. One of the youngest of those in the list then has been obliged to leave on account of ill health; but the vacancy has been filled up by the admission of another. Some of them are now growing up to manhood; and it seems desirable that measures should be adopted to render their talents available to the service of the Society.

The following view of the Mission is extracted from a Letter written by Mr. Trimnell in December:—

Our labours among the people, though not so abundantly blessed as we desire, are not without some evidence that the power and blessing of God have attended them. Of sudden, or very decided conversions, we have no instance; but we hope the Divine Light, like the rising sun, is gradually dispelling the darkness of ignorance from the minds of some who have heard from our lips the Gospel of God. Prejudice is departing; Divine Knowledge is spreading: and when the Spirit from on high shall enlighten and change the heart, the Kingdom of God will come; and we have great hope that with a few this has been the case. Since I wrote last, seven of the Youths that have been brought up in the School have been admitted to the Table of the Lord, four of whom are still boarding with us: their conversation is orderly and consistent; and I have no doubt but that they have from their hearts renounced the errors and superstitions of their forefathers; and we entertain strong hopes that they are part of the flock of Him who said, My Sheep hear my voice, and I know them, and they follow me; and I give unto them eternal life; and they shall never perish, neither shall any man pluck them out of my hand.

NELLORE.

The Rev. Joseph Knight, whose absence from his Station was noticed in the last Report, returned in January of last year, having married the Widow of the late Mr. Nichols, American Missionary at Bombay. The Rev. William Adley and Mrs. Adley are fellow-labourers with Mr. and Mrs. Knight in the Mission.

Besides the Sunday Services at Nellore, the Wednesday-Afternoon Service at Nellore, and the English Service on alternate Sunday Afternoons at the Fort, have been continued. The Church is regularly filled on the Sabbath, and nearly so on Wednesday Afternoons; which last Service, Mr. Adley states, has been a means of Grace and benefit to many. In their Report to the Annual Meeting, the Missionaries state, that they had recently commenced an Evening Service, at a place little more than a mile from Nellore, which is attended by from 50 to 70 Heathens and Professing Christians. The number of Native Communicants is 13.

The temporal and spiritual concerns of the Station were a heavy charge on Mr. Adley, during Mr. Knight's absence; but he now anticipates an enlargement of them. On this head he writes—

We hope now to be able to extend more widely around the system of Day Schools; and, by this means, the light and instruction of the Holy Gospel. I am also endeavouring to make arrangements to enable us to enter on an early Sabbath-Morning Service with the Prisoners in the Fort Gaol.

Of the blessing which attends their labours in the general state of the Congregation, the Missionaries thus speak:—

While we have cause to regret that no additions have been made to the Church during the year, it affords motives for joy, that, with one exception, the Members have conducted themselves with consistency, and, at times, manifested a pleasing degree of zeal and concern for the souls of their deluded countrymen. In the excepted case, that of a Youth, who, in attempting to excuse his conduct, had so prevaricated, that we felt it necessary to suspend him for a season from the Lord's Table, so much of sorrow and penitence have since been manifested, as to shew the salutary effects of the discipline enforced, and to encourage the hope of his return at no very distant period.

There are 12 SCHOOLS in connection with this Station, containing 504 Boys and 40 Girls: satisfactory progress in the Boarding School, which is included in this number, appears to have been made.

Mrs. Knight, while at Bombay, was much engaged in superintending Native Female Schools; and it was her hope, in coming to Nellore, that she might be employed in a similar manner; but severe indisposition has hitherto prevented.

Mr. Adley's time has been much occupied in the management of the PRINTING DEPARTMENT; and the want of suitable help has led to the instruction of Young Men in this field of labour; who, there is reason to hope, will be useful to the Mission. The Press has been kept in constant work, during the former part of the year, in printing for the Society; and during the latter part of it, on account of the American Missionaries and the Jaffna Tract Society. The List of Publications is as follows:—

	Copies.
1. The Soul Regained	1300
2. The Negro Servant	2000
3. Christian Resolutions, No. 1.	2000
4. Christian Resolutions, No. 2.	2000

Of the following Works printed for the American Brethren, the copies mentioned have been struck off for the use of the Nellore Mission:—

	Copies.
5. A Doctrinal Catechism, of 36 pages, composed by the Missionaries	300
6. A Tamul Primer, of 61 pages, containing Tables of Spelling, and Selections from Ancient Native Writings	500
7. A Tamul Hymn Book of 144 pages, being a Selection from the Old Hymn Book of the Tranquebar Mission.

AUSTRALASIA MISSION.

THE Rev. James Norman and Mr. James Lisk, whose departure, with that of Mrs. Norman and Mrs. Lisk, was mentioned in the last Report, arrived in New South Wales on the 12th of February. They have been followed by the Rev. William Yate, and Mr. Charles Baker and his Wife, who, as has been stated, left this country on the 22d of July.

Mr. Norman's health not being considered sufficiently strong to admit of his itinerating among the New Zealanders, he has been placed by the Archdeacon in provisional charge of Launceston, at Port Dalrymple, in Van Diemen's Land, a Settlement of 5000 souls. By a Letter received in the Colony from Mr. Norman, early in November, it appears that his health was much improved, and he was fully employed: Mrs. Norman had undergone a surgical operation, but was doing well.

NEW SOUTH WALES.

Mr. Lisk, and an Assistant, Mr. R. Hill, had been appointed to Stations named Bon Bon and Limestone Plains, two places near each other, but 120 miles distant from Sydney; for the purpose of affording spiritual instruction to the long-neglected European Population, and of ultimately directing their labours to the benefit of the Aborigines: and the Corresponding Committee hoped to procure the discharge of a pious Soldier of the 3d Regiment, proceeding to India, to assist in their labours. This arrangement, so far as relates to Mr. Lisk, has been delayed by the illness of Mrs. Lisk, who has been compelled to remain at Sydney for medical advice, and was still there at the date of the last Despatches.

BAY OF ISLANDS, NEW ZEALAND.

The difficulties in which, as the last Report stated, this Mission was involved, induced the Rev. S. Marsden to visit New Zealand, for the purpose of conferring with the Missionaries on the trying circumstances in which they were placed, and of strengthening them with his counsel. He arrived in the Bay of Islands, in H.M.S. Rainbow, on the 5th of April, re-embarked on the 10th, and reached Port Jackson on the 18th. On his return he writes—

It gave me much pleasure to find the Missionaries so comfortable, living in unity and Godly love, devoting themselves to the work. I trust that the great Head of the Church will bless their labours.

Rangheehoo.

Mr. John King and Mr. James Shepherd, with their Wives, continue to occupy this Station. Mr. Shepherd, at the date of the last intelligence, had had a return of the complaint in his eyes, under which he had before suffered; which prevented his sleeping from home, when engaged in distant visits to the Natives, and rendered him apprehensive that he should be again compelled to go to the Colony. The other members of the two Families were well.

The conduct of the Natives around Rangheehoo has been of late uniformly peaceable toward those who are labouring for their good, and who have suffered inconvenience only from those of other Tribes who have occasionally been passing through on their war expeditions. The following Extract from a Letter of Mr. Shepherd's in September will shew the improved character of the Natives:—

We live in the enjoyment of much peace at Rangheehoo. I believe it is the most peaceable Settlement here. We find the Chiefs kind, and the inhabitants very quiet; though they do not receive our message, I believe they respect our persons, and would stand up in our defence. We have found a little difficulty in procuring working Natives here, in consequence of their having so much to do themselves: they are very industrious.

In November, Mr. Shepherd writes—

We have occasion for continual thankfulness to God, for the almost uninterrupted state of peace which we enjoy.

On the Sunday there is a Public Service in the School-House, conducted by Mr. King and Mr. Shepherd; at which from 15 to 30 and sometimes more Natives attend, and, after prayer and singing, are addressed from a portion of Scripture. Mr. Shepherd employs the remainder of the day in visiting the Natives residing within two or three miles of Rangheehoo; and Mr. King conducts a second Service in the School-House, and afterwards visits the Natives at the Station. The secular concerns of the Mission necessarily occupy a considerable share of Mr. Shepherd's and Mr. King's time: they meet together twice in the week, for the purpose of translating portions of the Scripture; and a part of each of the remaining days is employed by Mr. Shepherd in itinerating among the Natives, and by Mr. King in instructing the Children and superintending the Adults. In November, Mr. King had 13 Men and Boys and 7 Girls residing with him; and Mr. Shepherd, 5 Men and Boys, and 3 Girls.

The Monthly Paper of February contained an instance of the encouragement which God has given to the labours of His Servants, in the conversion of a Native named Dudi Dudi, and his subsequent departure in the hope of the Gospel. The following extracts from Mr. Shepherd's and the Rev. Henry Williams's communications will be read with deep interest.

When Mr. Williams visited him, the following conversation passed:—

"What do you think concerning God and Death?" "I have so much pain, that I am not able to give you a correct account of my thoughts"—"Whither do you think that you shall go, when you die?" "To heaven"—"How do you expect to get to heaven?" "I believe that God will take me to heaven"—"How can you look for that, seeing that you are a sinner?" "Jesus Christ came into the world, and died for sinners; and I believe in Jesus Christ"—"What do you think of your former state?" "I was once rebellious. I was a swearer, sabbath-breaker, and adulterer; a lover of play, and hater of good."

Mr. Williams thus speaks of his visit—

I was rejoiced at witnessing what I did. He was very feeble; but related when his first religious impressions took place, after the return of the last fighting party—that he was then afraid to die—that he saw no hope, but in that Saviour of whom he had frequently heard—that he had prayed to Him, and felt his heart rejoice. He inquired of us to know if he was right—if he should go to heaven. We assured him of the love of Jesus—that He came down from heaven, to gather to Himself, and to purify from all sin, all persons from among every people who should flee to Him. He said, he was happy: that he knew he should soon die, but that he cared not for his body, only for his soul. I spoke to the Brethren as to his baptism; but, as that subject was new to the Youth, I proposed returning the day but one after; when, if it should be considered proper, he should be baptized. I have no doubt but that he is a brand plucked from the burning.

Mr. King reported of the Children in the Schools in July to the Quarterly Meeting, that he then had 8 Boys, 9 Girls, and 6 Adults under instruction, of whom he states generally—

They are increasing in the knowledge of Divine Truth, and other useful knowledge, and have attended the Means of Grace.

The encouraging circumstances of the Station are thus noticed by Mr. Shepherd in November—

It is very evident that a considerable change has been effected among the Natives: formerly they were like wild men, but now they are civil. I believe that they are not without convictions: some of them at times speak very sensibly, and evince that they are not altogether ignorant of Scriptural truths. I have often been pleased to hear some of those employed in our Settlement, before they have retired to rest, pray to God; not according to any form which they had learnt; the substance of their prayer has been Scriptural, and evidenced that they had obtained a knowledge of Scriptural Truth.

Mr. King and Mr. Shepherd are both urgent for additional Labourers.

Kiddeekiddee.

Mr. James Kemp, Mr. George Clarke, and Mr. James Hamlin, with their Wives, were in good health at the date of the last despatches. The conduct of the Natives towards them had been friendly, and they had been mercifully enabled to continue their labours without molestation; but the unsettled state of the Natives, and the want of assistance, had prevented their visiting the people as often as they wished.

The following general view of the Station is given by Mr. Kemp, in August:—

Although we have had many troubles to contend with, we have been enabled to stand our ground, and have been permitted to go on with our work of instructing the Natives; from some of whom we have encouragement to persevere in our labours. Hitherto, most of our time and attention have been directed to the Natives living with us, generally from 30 to 40 in number: they regularly assemble together morning and evening, for prayer in the Chapel; and twice in the week besides we give them religious instruction; and two of us go out to visit the Natives at their homes as often as we can.

A portion of five days in the week is appropriated to the study of the language.

There were in the SCHOOLS, in July, 22 Boys and Adults, and 12 Girls; and Mr. Clarke, under that date, gives the following encouraging account of this department of labour, as well as of the general state of the Mission:—

Amidst various interruptions, we have continued our Schools with success. Many of the Children and Adults have made considerable progress in reading, writing, and arithmetic; and others are gaining progressive knowledge. Many, I hope, are thus preparing to assist their countrymen out of their horrid state of barbarism, to become useful members of society, and I hope living members of Christ's Church. We have frequent changes in our School, by some leaving and others coming: our regular number at this Station, under instruction in reading and writing, is from 30 to 40. We are often refreshed in this part of our work by the progress which the Natives are making in reading and writing, by the attention which they sometimes pay to religious instruction, and by their consistent conduct. Several who have married from the Schools are, and have been for several years, living with us: at present they manifest no disposition to leave; but whether they will be allowed to remain with us in peace is very doubtful. They will at all times, if living with us, be very much exposed, and liable to be plundered of whatever they may possess: besides, nothing less than a principle of Grace will enable them for any length of time to bear the scoffs and taunts of their ungodly countrymen, or to take up their cross daily, and follow Christ. Our partners regularly attend alternately to the Girls' School in the afternoon; where they are taught reading, writing, and needlework: their number has generally amounted to 15, and has never been less than 10. They are also encouraged in their efforts to benefit the state of female society. In our late trying circumstances, both Boys and Girls behaved remarkably well: very few of them left us; they seemed determined to suffer with us, if in any way called to it.

The following extracts from the Letters of Mr. Clarke and Mr. Kemp shew the gradually improving state of the native character among those who are brought more immediately into contact with the Labourers in the Mission. Mr. Clarke, after noticing the dislike to the Truth of God manifested by the people in general, makes the following remarks:—

Among the Natives living with our Families and on the Settlement, our prospect is brighter; yet the difficulties are not few among them, as will appear if we consider the manner in which they have been brought up. Every New-Zealand child is an indulged child; permitted from its infancy to have its own will in all things; taught to despise the counsel of its parents, yea, even to curse them to their faces; accustomed from early age to obscene sights and tales, without controul or reproof. Their evil habits are, therefore, very early formed; and it requires very much patience, forbearance, and compassion, to effect much good among them: yet, through the blessing of God upon our labours, many obstructions are removed; some of the Natives about us begin to bear reproof, and will even acknowledge their faults; prejudices are removed, convictions are taking place, and some concern for their future welfare is sometimes evident. This encourages us, among a number of discouragements, to hope, that ere long the Holy Spirit will be copiously poured out upon them, which will effectually deliver them from the bondage of sin and Satan. The attendance of the Natives in the Settlement to the Means of Grace is also pleasing: this being one of the appointed means, we do hope to see a blessing attend it.

In November, Mr. Clarke writes—

The instruction of the Adults and Children occupies much of our time, but it promises much fruit: their improvement and general conduct continue to be pretty good. We have three Natives married to girls educated in our families, who live comfortably with their Wives. The number under instruction at this Settlement is 34: from 12 to 15 girls are regularly instructed by our Wives.

Mr. Kemp writes, under the same date—

The Natives that live with us afford us considerable encouragement; many have learnt to read and write, and are now reading portions of Scripture, which have been translated into their language, and lately printed in the Colony. We have from 30 to 40 Natives residing with us, and their conduct in general is pleasing: many of them have attained to a considerable knowledge of the Gospel-plan of Salvation, though I fear that they are at present destitute of its power.

Amidst these encouraging circumstances, it should not be forgotten, that the general character of the people continues to be marked by the same features—savage brutality, alienation from God, and enmity against His Truth. These appalling features are thus noticed by Mr. Clarke, shortly after the attack on Whangarooa and the outrage on the Wesleyan Missionaries, which was mentioned in the last Report. Mr. Clarke writes—

Shunghee's party took the Pā [a fortified place], where a great number of the Whangarooa Natives had sought refuge; men, women, and children, were all massacred, without any regard to age or sex. Some of the Chiefs were desirous of sparing some of them; but Shunghee gave orders that not one should be spared, except the slaves, who were to be taken as slaves to Shunghee's Tribe.

During the time our Boys were there, whom we had sent over to inquire into the particulars of Shunghee's wound, several of the Whangarooa Natives were dragged from their hiding-places and killed; and they had the appalling scene of seeing the bodies of the slain pulled to pieces and eaten by their countrymen, as dogs would a carcase; and young children, whose heads had been dashed to pieces before their parents' eyes, they saw these poor miserable cannibals preparing to devour. The scenes of cruelty exceed description; for again and again our Boys said we could not think of the horrible scenes which they had witnessed. We learned that the Natives of Whangarooa were destroyed as a satisfaction for the death of Shunghee's Wife, and to lead his mind from the gloomy scene.

In August, Mr. Clarke thus remarks on the Native character:—

Among the Natives there is still considerable commotion: and as the Spring is now fast approaching, the Natives will soon decide as to their summer projects. We can scarcely indulge the hope, that, in the present state of the Native mind, they will continue any very considerable time at peace with each other. There are so many breaches, on both sides, of contending parties to heal, so many friends' and relatives' deaths to avenge, some of which are more than a century standing, that were it not for the assurance from the Word of God of such a glorious period when the inhabitants of the earth shall learn righteousness and war be no more known, we should despair of seeing them much otherwise than they now are. When we ask the Chiefs when their wars with each other will terminate, they reply "never; because it is the custom of every Tribe which loses a man, not to be content without a satisfaction; and nothing less than the death of one individual can atone for the death of another." Shunghee is still living at Whangarooa, and has, I think, fully determined to make that place his entire residence. There is every probability of his recovering so far from his wound, as to enable him again to go to fight. I fear that fighting is become so habitual to him, that he will never cease till the cold hand of death arrest him: he is now talking of seeking satisfaction for the wound which he received last summer from the Natives of Whangarooa, and has already been making requests to different Chiefs to join him.

While His servants have been thus harassed without, God has very graciously supported them, not only with encouragements among the Natives, but with what is of far higher value—the consciousness of His protecting arm, and the peace and the joy of His Holy Spirit. Of these Mr. Clarke thus speaks in August:—

Though at times we have been considerably tried by the conduct of the Natives toward us and each other; yet we have also been comforted by others of them, in the regard which they manifest for us, and in the general improvement of their conduct. Considering their customs, the jarring interests of the different Chiefs, and their naturally cruel character and habits, as well as the opposition which they bear to the Gospel; and considering them completely under the influence of the powers of darkness, whose territories we have invaded; I do not so much wonder at our trials with them, as at our peace and continuance among them year after year; and can ascribe our safety alone to Him who said, Lo, I am with you always;

to Him who cares for sparrows, and numbers the hairs of our heads.

In November, he writes—

Through the abounding mercy of our Heavenly Father, we are all in good health, and living peaceably among the poor Heathen, whose conduct for some months past has been very good. We lament that they are not more concerned about their spiritual welfare, but hope that there is a gradual and general improvement of character: this appears very evident, when we contrast them with the strangers who at times visit us from distant parts of the Island. We feel greatly encouraged that the Natives will listen to the message of the Gospel, remembering that faith cometh by hearing, and that, by listening, they are in the appointed way of salvation. In our visits, we find them more serious, and not so much disposed to scoff as formerly; and they shew a consciousness of guilt, by their endeavours to apologise and cover some of their crimes.

We have of late been able to adopt a more regular plan for visiting the people of Waimate, about twelve miles distant: we regularly visit them once, and frequently twice, in the week. The Chiefs promise to assemble the people together when we visit them, and to cease from work on the Sunday; which, if they do, with the blessing of God on our labours, and our increasing knowledge of their language, it will enable us from time to time to lay before them more fully the great truths of the glorious Gospel. We are sometimes pleased to hear some of the most abandoned, cruel, and ferocious among the Natives asking us, with a degree of seriousness, many questions respecting the truth of some of the awful denunciations brought before them; and we humbly hope that the day is now drawing very near, when the arm of the Lord shall be made bare to rescue some, at least, of these miserable captives of Satan, and when the kingdom of our all-triumphing Emmanuel shall be established.

Mr. Clarke subsequently adds—

We feel especially thankful to our Heavenly Father for the peace which he gives us to enjoy among ourselves, and for that sympathy which is felt for one another, under our various little trials among these poor Heathen: If one member suffer, all the members suffer with it. May the Lord continue to us all grace to keep the unity of the Spirit in the bond of peace!

Pyhea.

The Rev. Henry Williams and the Rev. William Williams, with their Wives, Mr. and Mrs. Fairburn,

Mr. and Mrs. Davis, Mr. Charles Davis, Mr. John Tuckwell, and William Puckey, have, through Divine Mercy, been preserved to labour at this Station.

The Services at the Station, and on board one of the Ships, and the Visits to the Natives, have been continued: and the various Members of the Mission having appropriated a stated portion of their time to the study of the language, considerable proficiency has been made in attaining it: a translation of some parts of the Scriptures has been effected. On this subject Mr. W. Williams writes in November—

Great improvement has been made in the knowledge of the Language by every individual, so that now there is no difficulty in making ourselves understood by the Natives. We have under preparation a Dictionary of New Zealand and English, and English and New Zealand, with Examples under each word: this of course will be a work of time. The translation of the Scriptures goes on better than it did, though but slowly; the reason of which partly is, that every verse undergoes two public examinations before it is allowed to pass.

There were in the Boys' SCHOOL, in July, 39 Scholars; of whom Mr. W. Williams reported, that they continued to make steady progress: there were 15 in the Girls' School.

In November, Mr. W. Williams writes—

Our Native Boys' School continues to give us much satisfaction, though it is not likely that we can much increase our numbers, owing to the scarcity of provisions. We are almost entirely dependent on flour brought from the Colony, and the potatoes which are purchased from the Southward.

The education of the European Children connected with the Mission, who are now become numerous, has engaged the attention of the Committee; and an arrangement has been made, by which, it is hoped, this important object will be attained.

It is a subject of thankfulness to God, that the beneficial labours of the PRESS have reached this land of darkness, and that parts of His written Word are now accessible to the inhabitants. A plan having been in agitation, after the outrage at Whangarooa, to form a Settlement of New Zealanders in New South Wales, Mr. Davis, when the "Herald" made her annual voyage for the supply of stores for the Mission, visited the Colony, for the purpose of consulting with Mr. Marsden and other friends on the expediency of such a measure; and Mr. Davis, during his visit, carried through the press a translation of the First Three Chapters of Genesis, the 20th of Exodus, part of the 5th chapter of St. Matthew's Gospel, the 1st of St. John's Gospel, the Lord's Prayer, and some Hymns.

The last Report noticed the breaking up of the Wesleyan Mission at Whangarooa by the violence of the Natives, and the apprehensions which this outrage excited in the minds of the other Servants of God, who are labouring in New Zealand, lest they should meet with similar treatment. Full particulars, illustrative of the state of the Natives before this disturbance, of the encouragements at the time of its occurrence, and of the subsequently improving prospects of the Mission, have been given in the Missionary Register of last year (pp. 621—627). It appears, from the general tenor of more recent despatches, that the aspect of affairs is still encouraging; though the lengths of violence to which, if God permit, Satan may instigate his unhappy subjects against those who seek their welfare, render their continuance there, to the human eye, a matter of extreme uncertainty. The following extracts from the various communications will shew the general view which is taken of the Mission by those who are employed at this Station. In May, Mr. Williams writes—

Several reports respecting Shunghee's movements and intentions are circulated. Returned an answer to the Brethren at the Kiddeekiddee, to stand their ground until driven away; expressing also our desire to be with them when Shunghee may return to them, should they give us notice. We also heard this day that the Natives of Kauakaua and Waikadi had met in counsel; when it was determined that Tekoki should not go to the Colony, as it was considered that the remainder would undoubtedly fall. The Arch-fiend is certainly at work in this land, and is attempting utter destruction: civil wars seem inevitable. Shunghee hangs by a hair, and all is ripe for confusion and bloodshed: but we commit our cause unto the Lord, and know that He cannot err: we may yet have to depart. These late transactions have certainly slackened our temporal exertions, but redoubled those of a spiritual nature. All our efforts have been, for some months past, directed to the acquisition of the language, in which considerable progress has been made.

In July, he states—

The Natives around us are at present quiet, but I do not expect that they will continue so long: there is much ill-will existing among the Tribes in this part of the Island. Shunghee is much recovered, and will probably resume his operations in the Spring, if he can assemble a force: but there is no calculating on their movements; for those who are acting in alliance one month may the following be at war, and the third month acting in conjunction against the common foe.

He afterwards adds—

Our prospects are more pleasing than they have been; and we now hope to go out regularly among the Natives who live within our reach, so that the greater number may be visited once a fortnight: we have made the attempt; and find it practicable, with a few exceptions. We all continue in health and peace.

On a review of the whole Mission, I think I may say that all our operations are proceeding decently and in order: for this we may praise the Lord of all! We need daily the renewing influence of the Holy Spirit: and that we may obtain it, we would beseech you to bear us up by your supplications—that you have done so is manifest, and it has encouraged us greatly.

The demand for additional assistance, in order to conduct the visits to the Natives on a regular and more efficient plan, is thus stated by Mr. W. Williams:—

Our hands are still much tied for want of Labourers. We have been enabled of late to go more among the Natives since the Buildings we had projected have been set aside: but yet at this Settlement, which is much the strongest, we have not hands enough to carry on the work effectually; and at Kiddeekiddee and Rangheehoo our Brethren are still much hindered from leaving home, for want of further assistance. To put the Settlements on an efficient footing, there should be Four Missionaries at Rangheehoo, Four at the Kiddeekiddee, and at least Eight at this place. So great a number at each Settlement, when the population is so small, may seem superfluous; but the situation of the country renders it necessary. If two Families alone reside at one place, it will be seldom prudent for one person to be absent beyond a few hours, in consequence of the importunities of the Natives. If two persons, then, are left at home, and others go out to the Native Settlements two and two, the number which I have mentioned will find full employment in this Bay. When the Natives shall hear the Gospel regularly, we may expect to see the fruit of it as abundant in this land as in any other; whereas now we hear from day to day fresh designs for cruelty and mutual destruction.

The following view of the Mission is given by Mr. Davis in November:—

The New-Zealand Mission was never in the state before in which it is now. It is evident that a spirit of grace and unity and love has been poured out on its Missionaries: they are now going forth preaching the Gospel; and, with their present acquirements, are enabled to proclaim fluently in the native language the unsearchable riches of Christ. Although the Natives often have quarrels and broils among themselves, yet their general behaviour towards us is much better than it was some time ago. My soul rejoices in the prospects which we have before us; never were they so bright as they are at present.

Mr. W. Williams writes, under the same date—

It is expected that the Natives will proceed again to the southward this Summer, against the people of the River Thames, if they can obtain Shunghee's assistance; otherwise they will be afraid to encounter their enemies. I believe that there are many who would gladly abandon the present system, but they draw on one another; and when there is a general muster, the consequence is serious to those who refuse to go—the loss of all their property and food. But in whatever way the enemy may work to drive them on to destruction, we feel persuaded that his kingdom will speedily fall: the state in which we see the Natives now, and their conduct towards us, is an assurance that the day is not far distant.

WEST-INDIES MISSION.

JAMAICA.

It was stated in the Twenty-seventh Report, that a Corresponding Committee had been formed in this Island. After zealously co-operating with the Parent Committee, with considerable effect, in its plans for promoting the spiritual welfare of the Negro Slaves and Free Persons of Colour in Jamaica, the Corresponding Committee merged in the JAMAICA AUXILIARY CHURCH MISSIONARY SOCIETY, which was formed on the 5th of March 1828. The Right Hon. Sir George Henry Rose, M.P. was elected Patron; James B. Wildman, Esq. President; William Stirling, Esq., Rev. John M. Trew, William Stothart, Esq., Arthur Foulkes, Esq., James Miller, Esq., and Archibald Stirling, Esq., Vice-Presidents; Matthew Farquharson, Esq., E. F. Coke, Esq., William Whitehorne, Esq., George Kinghorn Prince, Esq. M.D., Rev. John Thorpe, Rev. Hugh Seymour Yates, and Rev. H. Beams, Committee; William Taylor, Esq. Treasurer; the Rev. Griffith Griffiths, Secretary; and Mr. John Jones, Assistant Secretary.

The Grant of 200*l.* to the Bishop of Jamaica, mentioned in the preceding Report, was thus acknowledged by His Lordship, in a Letter to the Secretaries:—

I beg you will convey to the Committee of the Church Missionary Society my grateful sense of this well-timed and most acceptable assistance; as it will enable me to afford that support to the rising Establishments of Sunday and Parochial Schools which they so much require, and will also give me an opportunity of appointing another Catechist.

I have already destined a part of the Donation to the Free School and School of Industry at Kingston; which was established in December last, and has succeeded beyond my most sanguine expectations. The pupils of all classes, ages, and colours, amount at present to 436; and, I have every reason to think, will increase to 500 in the course of a very short time, which is as many as the Building will contain.

On the Bishop's arrival in this country, he furnished the Committee with a statement of the appropriation of the Grant; which besides 84*l.* currency given in aid of the above-mentioned School, includes payments to Four Catechists employed by his Lordship in the Parishes of Clarendon, Portland, St. Mary, and St. Elizabeth.

The deaths of Mrs. Taylor and Mr. Jones* have been before stated, under the head of "Missionaries and Students;" as has also the arrival of Messrs. Collins and Manning.

The Corresponding Committee being deeply impressed with the importance of improving the moral character of the Free People of Colour, cordially embraced such opportunities as offered for extending to them the advantages of religious instruction and education.

Papine, Parish of St. Andrew.

Mr. Jones's labours on this Estate met with some interruption by sickness, in February and March. On his recovery, he pursued his work till his demise. At the end of March he wrote—

I am happy to inform you that the First Class have gone through the New Testament; and that five of my best Scholars read the Bible to their Parents after the labour of the day. For this beginning I desire to praise the Lord my God. I also hope, that, in a few months, one of my Adult Scholars will be able to undertake the reading of Tracts to the Negroes in their own houses. On the Sabbath-days I read Prayers, and explain the Scriptures to the Adults: they are attentive, with the exception of a few.

Mr. Wildman, the Proprietor, states, the day after Mr. Jones's death—

Mr. Trew and Mr. Stainsby were much pleased with the School, and thought the Children improved since they last examined them. The Negroes attend the Service very well, and I trust that an improvement is visible in some of them.

Mr. Tucker succeeded Mr. Jones until the arrival of Mr. Manning in February. Mr. Collins was to have occupied this Station; but a severe attack of fever shortly after his arrival, and his subsequent illness, rendered it necessary to remove him to Salt Savanna for change of air, where his health soon improved.

* Mrs. Jones, the Widow, has returned to this country with her three Children, and arrived in London on the day of the Anniversary.

Salt Savanna, Parish of Vere.

Mr. and Mrs. Taylor continued to labour with success among the Slaves on this Estate, till Mrs. Taylor's removal by death: after that event, the number of Scholars rather decreased. Mr. Taylor assembles the Slaves on the Sunday for Divine Worship.

In August, Mr. Wildman, the proprietor of the Estate, says—

Mr. Trew visited the School a short time since, and wrote a very favourable report to me of the progress the Children had made, and of the attention paid by the Negroes to Mr. Taylor's instructions.

Respecting the School, Mr. Taylor writes in December—

I have about 60 attending daily. I commence about eight in the morning, and continue till near one at noon: at half past two I begin again, and continue till half-past five: at seven the Adults come, and about half-past eight I have done.

And in March, he adds—

Mr. Wildman was here a few days since, and distributed 22 Bibles to the Scholars, which was all my stock; and I want about 14 more. I cannot express what I felt on the occasion, to see about 40 of my Scholars able to read the Bible, who two years since did not know a letter.

He also remarks respecting the Sunday Service—

The clothing of the Negroes on the Sunday is much more decent than it used to be: indeed I may say, that when they assemble for worship, they make a very respectable appearance. From 40 to 50 can fluently read the Liturgy.

Low Ground.

This is another Estate belonging to Mr. Wildman, to the Negroes on which he has long been desirous of affording the advantages of religious instruction. Mr. Jones some time ago prepared a Boy from this property, to act as an Usher; and, recently, Mr. Tucker has been sent thither, in the hopes that a change of air would benefit his health, while he would be able to promote the instruction of the Slaves.

Blue Mountain Valley, St. Thomas's in the East.

The Catechist appointed to this District, as stated in the last Report, is Mr. Richard Harris, a Young Man of Colour. The Rev. J. M. Trew, the Rector, informed the Committee, in May 1827, that Mr. Harris had already gained access to nine Estates and Plantations heretofore unprovided with any means of religious instruction; since which no report of his proceedings has been received.

Moore Town, Parish of Portland.

At this Station, which is a Settlement of Maroons, Mr. James Tucker was placed, in May of last year, to act under the superintendence of the Rector of the Parish, the Rev. G. Griffiths; "with a view," Mr. Trew says, "to laying the foundation of a Christian Church in that spiritual wilderness." On this occasion, Mr. Trew further writes to the Secretaries—

I cannot for a moment doubt that your own venerable Institution will now, when so favourable an opportunity is presented, come forward to impart to the Maroons the saving knowledge of the Gospel. Indeed, were I asked to point out the most interesting object for the Society's benevolence in this Island, it would be Moore Town; the population of which is as follows:—

Maroons:
	Men	118
	Women	158
	Boys	37
	Male Children . . .	107
	Girls	13
	Female Children . . .	106
		539
Slaves, about		59
Free Settlers, not Maroons, about . .		30
Total		628

The above 628 souls must remain, in a great measure, ignorant of the blessings of the Gospel, unless the extreme urgency of their case should excite a feeling of Christian sympathy amongst our Christian Friends in Britain.

Mr. Tucker's health, however, again failing, he was removed to Papine, and subsequently to Low Ground, as before noticed. Mr. David M'Pherson has been since engaged by the Corresponding Committee as Catechist at Moore Town.

Accompong Town, Parish of St. Elizabeth.

This is likewise a Settlement of Maroons. The attention of the Corresponding Committee having been recently drawn to this place, they engaged Mr. Sharp as Catechist, and granted a sum to assist in erecting a Building for a School-Room and Chapel.

Pedro Plains, Parish of St. Elizabeth.

This District borders on the sea, and contains a large population of Free Persons of Colour. Mr. Trew having promised pecuniary aid, in the name of the Society, to the Rector of the Parish and the Hon. William Rowe, who resided in the neighbourhood, in the event of measures being adopted for supplying the inhabitants with spiritual instruction; Mr. Rowe most laudably came forward, and succeeded in raising money sufficient for the erection of two Buildings, intended to be used as School-Houses and Chapels. Mr. Trew says—

It is a very pleasing feature in the case now under consideration, that a considerable part of the money subscribed has been by FREE PERSONS OF COLOUR THEMSELVES, who are now beginning to feel that the advancement of religion and civilization among themselves by no means keeps pace with that amongst the Negroes. This sentiment has been sensibly expressed by many of them to Mr. Rowe; to whom they have evinced their gratitude in the warmest manner.

An account of these people, as well as a just view of the necessity and probable advantages of imparting to them the blessings of Education and Christianity, will be seen from an extract from Mr. Rowe's Letter to the Secretaries, dated Nov. 21, 1827:—

The inhabitants of the Pedro Plains consist of from twelve to fifteen hundred Free Persons of Colour (exclusive of their Negroes, who are also numerous); who, having little opportunity of mixing or associating with those of a better order, are in a state of the most deplorable ignorance, and their course of life the most vicious, the greater part subsisting by plunder. My residence of Belle Vue being in their immediate vicinity, I have had many opportunities of knowing their character and disposition; and from a persuasion that they only wanted instruction and good example to reclaim them from their present abandoned habits, it occurred to me, after repeated conversations with the leading people among them, that a plan, such as the one submitted to you, might, if carried into effect, be productive of the most beneficial results: and so far as it has gone, I have pleasure in saying, the measure has been attended with great success.

Another great advantage, likely to result from the improved condition of the Free Persons of Colour, will be, that the influence they have over the mind of the Negro (which they obtain from being generally persons of some property, and from being more familiar with their manners, customs, language, and domestic economy) will then be exerted for good; whereas, at present, this influence is often exercised for the most mischievous and dangerous purposes. The Free People of Colour also, at present, form the only link between the higher and the lower orders of society.

ANTIGUA.

The Children of more than Sixty Estates, to the number of 2000, have received instruction in Sunday Schools, under the Society. These Schools were much indebted for their efficiency to the labours of Teachers not exclusively connected with the Established Church; but, being now placed under the regulations by which the Schools of the Diocese are conducted, alterations have unavoidably followed which affect the number both of the Teachers and the Scholars. Mr. Dawes has still the superintendence, and has various Assistants under his direction.

We are sorry to report that Mr. Dawes has met with a serious disaster. He was standing on the top of a flight of stone steps six feet high, whence he was precipitated to the ground from one of the supporting beams suddenly giving way, and had his thigh broken. Mrs. Dawes writes, March 10th, that "the fracture is what the doctors call a simple one; and, through mercy, he is going on as well as can be expected."

By the latest Returns received, the Schools are as follows:—

	SCHOLARS.
SUNDAY SCHOOLS:	Boys.	Girls.	Men.	Women.	Total.
The Hope . . .	222	258	24	45	549
Bethesda . . .	64	74	15	14	167
Sion Hill . . .	75	115	1	5	196

The Children attending the Sunday Schools are taught, on the Estates from whence they respectively come, on the Week-days, as circumstances permit.

ST. VINCENT'S.

No intelligence has been received.

DEMERARA.

Mr. Carter's arrival has been before stated. He will act under the superintendence of the Rev. Leonard Strong, Rector of St. Mary's Parish, on the East Coast of the Colony. Of opening prospects of usefulness, Mr. Strong says, shortly after his own arrival in February 1827—

I have a crowded Congregation, and many Candidates for Baptism: the Negroes will walk any distance to hear the Word of God. I am invited to the other end of my Parish, which is nearly thirty miles long, by one of the Planters, who has offered me a large building for Public Worship. Mr. Carter will render me great assistance, as I have no time to teach Scholars; my time being wholly occupied, between the Services, in examining and teaching Catechumens for Baptism.

On the arrival of Mr. Carter, Mr. Strong writes—

Perhaps, before I enter into particulars about Mr. Carter's duties, I had better introduce you to my sphere of labour. The Parish of St. Mary's is about twenty-seven miles in length, extending so far from Abarrie Creek, the western boundary between Berbice and Demerara, and crossing two more navigable creeks or rivers, (i. e. the Mahaica and the Mahaiconie.) We have as yet no Church; but I have two temporary Places of Worship; one on the ground-floor of the house in which we are about to live; the other an empty cotton-store: these are distant from each other about 12 miles, and are used for my Sunday labours. On the banks of each creek there is a Free Coloured Population; to whom I preach, in rooms granted by them for the purpose, every Wednesday and Thursday. I had built a Sunday-School Room in the Village on the Mahaica Creek, and appointed a Schoolmaster before Mr. Carter arrived; and have reason to bless God that a School, consisting of about 150 Children, has been established, and carried on ever since the first Sunday I was licensed and commenced duty. Mr. Carter has been in charge of the Boys ever since his arrival; and is Schoolmaster of about 80 Negro Boys, who attend pretty regularly, and many of whom can now read, who knew not a letter when the School commenced.

Mr. Strong proposes that Mr. Carter shall reside at Cattle Town, a Village of Free Coloured People on the Mahaiconie; "who," he says, "are not only very ignorant of the Gospel themselves, but their Children are growing up in total ignorance also." Mr. Strong adds—

One of them has offered me a grant of land for seven years; and others have offered to assist with subscriptions for the erection of a School-House . . . . About eight miles to the westward of him, I shall, if it please God, set up a Negro Sunday-School; and will give him a horse to ride down every Sunday Morning, and back every Sunday Night, ready for his Week-day School. Besides this, about seventy miles up the Creek, there is a Settlement of INDIANS, perhaps 300: many of them stay in Cattle Town, and we have every hope of gaining some of their Children: indeed, the Protector of the Indians has promised me his influence; and an Indian Chief promised me himself to allow his two Children to come.

ESSEQUIBO.

When Mr. Armstrong arrived, he paid a visit to Mr. Strong of Demerara, and then proceeded to the scene of his labours—the Union Plantation in Essequibo: he was not able to commence operations till the end of January. He received the following instructions from the Manager—

On the Sabbath, you will be able to devote the whole day to instructing the Negroes in the principles of Religion. An Infant School will be formed of such as are not gone to work; that is, those under seven years old; whom you can teach in the week, during the hours of labour. Excepting the Infants, none others will be able to attend.

Mr. Armstrong says—

The Aborigines, or Indians, live a little in the interior, neglected by all, as if they were not deserving the notice of any Society, or were not of the human species, or had not souls to be saved. I intend to inquire into their case more fully, and then will make it known to you. Any Society, I think, might find a way into the interior, to instruct the Indians, who stand greatly in need of instruction.

NORTH-WEST AMERICA MISSION.

THE Rev. David Jones and the Rev. William Cockran, with Mrs. Cockran and Mr. William Garrioch, have been enabled to continue their labours in this Mission: and though they have been subjected to many temporal trials, they have had much to encourage them in their work.

With reference to their MINISTRY, the Missionaries state, that there are two Services on Sunday in each of the two Churches, the average attendance at each of which is from 250 to 300; and the general attention and anxiety to understand, which prevails among the people, are encouraging. The number of Communicants, which four years ago was only six, has been gradually increasing since that time; and, at Whitsuntide, amounted to SEVENTY-THREE: of these Mr. Jones remarks—

> So far as human judgment can penetrate, we are convinced that these are subjects of that saving conviction of truth, which alone can enlighten and change the heart. At their examinations previous to admission, they appear to us to possess, in an exemplary degree, the requirements of our Church at the close of her Catechism; and I may indeed add, the requirements of the Word of God. The Half-breeds, in particular, walk in simplicity and godly sincerity: it is a fact, not less interesting than encouraging, that, since I came here, ONLY ONE HALF-BREED has drawn back, and I hope this one not finally.

Mr. William Garrioch has in the SCHOOLS under his charge 15 Indian Boys and 4 Indian Girls, and 28 Day Scholars, Scottish and Half-breeds. The Indian Boys and Girls are maintained by the Society; and there would be no difficulty in increasing their number to any extent, were the means of obtaining subsistence for them less precarious. Of the Sunday School, which is kept at the Upper Church, Mr. Jones gives the following account:—

> The attendance every Sunday continues much as usual; the number on the Class-book being, as under: Scottish Children, 30—Half-breed, 47—Indian, 20; total, 97: during the year ending June 1, 1827, the average attendance was 67. These are very regular in their attendance, and an unabated interest is felt in their welfare: sometimes we fondly cherish the hope that a lasting impression is made on their minds; but these hopes have hitherto been raised, and again blighted as soon as excited: but we are confident, by and bye, the seed now sown will be raised to His glory, whose the work is, and who will have the praise of its accomplishment.

At Christmas, a Sunday School was commenced at the Lower Church, which has been very encouragingly attended: the numbers are 77. Of this School Mr. Jones states—

There are five Half-breed Communicants usefully employed here as Teachers; two Males, and three Females. We cannot but feel often gratified at this sight, and we think ourselves authorised in considering it a promising prognostic: the time may come when we shall see greater things than these: we know that we, and they, serve a Master who will not despise the day of small things. We consider our Sunday Schools to be as important as any of the vineyard under our care: we have great encouragement to proceed: we are, of course, often tried by the carelessness and apathy of the Children, and others; but, in due time, it will be seen that our Lord has purposes of mercy toward them. I trust I can add without boasting, that our maxim is—In the morning sow thy seed, and in the evening withhold not thine hand; for thou knowest not whether shall prosper, either this or that, or whether they both shall be alike good.

Arrangements are making for the establishment of a School, under the superintendence of Mr. and Mrs. Cockran, for the reception of the Daughters of Gentlemen in the Hudson's-Bay Service: in reference to this Mr. Jones remarks—

We do not wish to begin on a large scale; a gradual increase being the method most suited to the circumstances of the country: the bearing, however, which Female Education has on the moral and spiritual improvement of a country will urge us to prosecute this object with unremitting attention.

The trying circumstances in which the Mission has been placed from the scarcity of provisions, and the support which God has graciously given to His servants in time of need, are thus noticed in their communications. Mr. Jones writes—

The buffaloes have almost failed for the last three years: this, in connection with the failure of crops last year, has occasioned all articles of subsistence to run very high; and, in fact, little is to be had for any money. We have better hopes this year, but the object is yet only to be seen in perspective: our strong-hold is in the promise of God, never to leave nor forsake us. Indeed I cannot but mention here, with gratitude, that our establishment has not yet wanted for a meal; though the scarcity has been generally and pressingly felt, and must continue to be so until we reap our harvest. No one, who is a stranger to our circumstances, can picture the anxiety which is generally felt among us in regard to the crops: they are our only resource—the only VISIBLE OBJECT between us and a state of the most appalling destitution.

In reference to the same subject, Mr. Cockran writes—

We did not suffer materially from the severity of last Winter: we had a sufficiency of food and raiment, which enabled us to contend with the stormy blasts. The barley which we sowed in the latter end of June 1826, and the potatoes which we planted nearly at the same time, came so far to perfection that they were very good food: by these our temporal wants were supplied for the Winter; and by using our little stock economically, we have hitherto had a sufficiency. In the Summer of 1826, we were often in a strait: sometimes want pressed hard upon us, and brought us very low in body and mind; but the Lord never turned his gracious face away from us: His ears were open to our cries; His omniscient eye discovered all our wants, and His goodness supplied them. He taught us to live by faith, and not by sight; to trust in His promises when the springs of creature-comforts were dried up. While we thus trusted and leaned upon God, our wants were supplied day by day out of the store-house of His providence. When one thing failed, He sent us another; so that the spark of hope was never extinguished in our bosoms.

Mr. Cockran afterwards adds—

Though we did not suffer last winter, many of our fellow-creatures did very severely. Many families subsisted several weeks on hazel-nuts, which they gathered from the trees and from the top of the snow. Others subsisted by angling; they cut a small hole through the ice, and let down their line and hook, and waited till kind Providence directed a fish to them. The hardships which some endured are inconceivable; if I were to tell you how some lived, you would not credit me: you would not believe that the brittle house of clay, the foundation of which is in the dust, would take half so much to pull it in pieces. You would suppose that one half of the hardships would extinguish the lamp of life violently, or make it cease to burn for want of oil.

The following is a summary of the Nine Missions of the Society:—

The deficiency in the number of Scholars now stated, compared with that given in the last Report, arises principally from the assumption of the care of the Village Schools in Sierra Leone by the Local Government, as has been before stated. Untoward circumstances have likewise produced a considerable reduction of the number of Scholars at Burdwan, and in Antigua.

It has been already stated, that, in order to maintain the operations of the Society in these various Missions on their present scale, a permanent increase in its income is absolutely necessary; and that, unless such increase is made, it will be compelled to contract its labours. In making this statement, the Committee desire to guard against any expression that would imply an unscriptural estimate of the value of human means; and would unequivocally disclaim the sentiment, that the prosperity of a Christian Society is to be measured by the silver and gold which are brought into its treasury. It is within the range of human capacity to collect and to expend a large annual sum for the attainment of the noblest of objects; but however well concerted the plans of a Society might be, however wise its measures and extended its labours, all would come to nought, unless its plans and measures and labours received a heavenly impulse. Not by might nor by power, but by my Spirit, saith the Lord.

Let it not, however, be forgotten, that God has appointed His Church to be the instrument of her own enlargement; that she has received the light of Divine Truth in order that she may exhibit it to the world; and that by her efforts God has manifested His glory in the face of Jesus Christ to the conversion of multitudes of sinners. That she has not duly felt the sacredness of the trust, or been fully awakened to a sense of her immense responsibilities, the awful extent of Satan's empire at the present day is a decisive evidence. Let her, then, again behold the misery of a world estranged from its God, the dreariness which hangs over the eternal destinies of millions, and the dishonour done to her Lord; let her contemplate these overpowering subjects, not through the opinions of men, but in the mirror of God's Word; let her view of duty, her encouragements and her hopes, be drawn from the Records of Truth; and, above all, let the love of Christ be felt in all its heavenly influence;—then will her dormant energies be stimulated; she will arise with becoming zeal to the Lord's work; and neither the Messengers of Salvation, nor the means of helping them forward in their labours, will then be wanting; but the mystery of the Gospel of Christ will, according to the commandment of the everlasting God, be made known, for obedience to the faith, among all nations.

APPENDIX I.

ADDRESS TO ASSOCIATIONS.

THE Committee have directed us to communicate to the Friends and Contributors to the Society the following Statement relative to its Funds:—

It is the practice of the Committee to close the Yearly Accounts of the Society on the 31st of March, and to audit them Quarterly. At the termination of the First Half of the Current Year, on the 30th of September last, it appeared that the Income of the Society had fallen short, by a very considerable sum, of the corresponding half of the preceding year. In some principal Associations there has been a considerable declension from former years; and though New Associations have been formed, the Returns from them have not been of such an amount as to supply the deficiencies of the Old Associations.

The importance of calling the attention of the Friends of the Society to the state of the Funds will be more clearly seen, when it is remembered that the Society nearly expends from year to year its whole Income; and that, as its exertions are enlarged, there will be an increasing expenditure in each Mission. On balancing the Sales and Purchases of Stock for the last Seven Years, it appeared that the addition to the Funded Property of the Society had been, in that period, but a few hundred pounds—so closely has its Expenditure kept pace with its Income. In the last half-year, considerable Sales of Stock have necessarily been made, to cover the above-mentioned deficiency of Income; so that the whole extent of our resources under this head is at present considerably less than the amount of half-a-year's expenditure.

If such a deficiency in the Income of the Society, as has been now stated, were not to be retrieved, it would unavoidably follow, that some of those plans which God has hitherto blessed must be abandoned; and it would become necessary to reduce within much narrower limits, if not altogether to withdraw, some of those Missions, the extension of which the state of the World loudly and powerfully claims from British Christians.

A Special Committee has been formed for the purpose of fully investigating the state of the Funds, with a view to ascertain, not only by what means the present deficiency may be supplied, but whether any, and what reduction can be advantageously made in the Society's Expenditure.

Though various concurrent causes have probably contributed to this deficiency, the Committee feel it to be their duty to state their conviction, that one principal cause has been their incompetency to meet the wishes of the Associations, that more persons might visit them at their Anniversaries, and for a longer period of time.

It had been hoped that the arrangement (see p. 506 of the Missionary Register for November 1825) by which it was provided that Four Visitors of Associations should be appointed in the place of a Third Secretary, would have met the wants of the Associations; but the Committee have not had it in their power to bring that arrangement into full effect; and have some reason to fear that its tendency, so far as it was brought into action, was rather to prevent their receiving the voluntary aid of other Clergymen. It is intended, therefore, to relinquish that design; and, in its place, to appoint Two Official Visitors of Associations, who shall be devoted to the service of the Society. The Committee cannot, however, but cherish the hope that other Clergymen will not fail gratuitously to render them that aid in visiting Associations which will still be absolutely requisite, and which has been one principal means of raising the Missionary Spirit throughout the Country, and of gathering together the funds of former years. For want of such aid, many Associations have been obliged to leave ground uncultivated which would have yielded abundantly; and considerable sums have thus been lost to the Society in the last half-year. The Committee beg to urge this subject on those Friends who assisted them in former years; but who seem to have thought their assistance unnecessary, since the appointment of Visitors of Associations.

Other arrangements are in contemplation; but the Committee felt anxious to avail themselves of the earliest opportunity of communicating information to the Associations, in reference to the actual state of the Society's Funds.

The work in which the Society is engaged is eminently a Work of Faith as well as a Labour of Love; and the Committee feel increasingly the importance of carrying on every part of their Proceedings in such a spirit as may draw down the Divine Blessing on their efforts. They would, therefore, earnestly press on their Friends the cultivation of a spirit of intercession in private, in the Family, and in the Social Circle, as essentially connected with the propriety of this Cause, both at Home and Abroad.

The wide diffusion of Missionary Intelligence is also earnestly recommended, in order, under the Divine Blessing, to excite and cherish exertions in behalf of the Society's object.

It has been already observed, that should the Funds of the Society continue to decline, a contraction of its labours would be the distressing, but inevitable, consequence. But the Committee venture to submit to the Society's Friends, whether they would willingly abandon any one of those promising Fields of Labour on which they have been permitted to enter? Would they allow the sums that have been expended in establishing a Station to be lost by its abandonment? Would they recall those Missionaries, who have gone forth to the Heathen in full confidence that the Society would continue to maintain them in the prosecution of their work? And have not these Servants of God, and their Families, a strong claim on our justice as well as on our liberality, for their continued support?

Never had the Society more ample Fields of Labour open before them, and more general encouragement to proceed. And never have its claims been publicly made known without producing an increase to its resources. British Christians will not, we are persuaded, suffer this good work to languish for want of sufficient means to carry it on.

The Committee address this Appeal to the whole body of the Society's Supporters, with the utmost confidence that the case needs only to be known in order to produce active and zealous exertions. Let every one do as he may be able; and the present deficiency will but act as a fresh impulse, and a point from which far more enlarged liberality shall flow into the Treasury of the Society. There are yet many large Towns and Parishes in which little or nothing has been done in support of the Society; and if its various Friends would undertake to ascertain what openings there are in their respective neighbourhoods, and in what places it is possible that Associations might be formed, and at the same time endeavour to revive those which are languishing, there can be little doubt, from past experience, but that such efforts would tend to a large increase in the resources of the Society.

It is hoped that the Secretaries of the Associations will, on the receipt of this Circular, summon an early Meeting of their respective Committees, for the purpose of considering what measures can be adopted for exciting an increased interest in behalf of the Society.

Church Missionary House,
London, Nov. 3, 1827.

Church Missionary House, London, Dec. 19, 1827.

DEAR SIR,

It was stated, in our Circular Letter of the 3d of November, that our inability to meet the wishes expressed by some Members of our Associations for more persons to visit them at their Anniversaries, and for a longer period than had been usual, might be reckoned among the probable causes of the deficiency of the Society's Funds.

In order to remove this inconvenience, the Committee have determined on engaging the services of Two Clergymen, who will be principally employed in visiting the Associations. It is important that our arrangement of the journeys for the ensuing year should be completed as early as may be practicable: and, as the obtaining early information as to the wants of each Association will greatly facilitate such arrangement, we shall feel obliged by your informing us, by the 15th of January, if possible, what will be the most convenient time for holding your Anniversary, and those in the District for which you are in general kind enough to arrange—what number of Sermons you wish to have preached —what assistance may be depended on among the Neighbouring Clergy —how many persons are desired as a Deputation—and for what length of time they will be expected to remain with you. When the time which appears to you most convenient for your Anniversary has been fixed, and the arrangements for the attendance of the Deputation made, we trust that our various friends will see the necessity of adhering to those arrangements; as the number of Associations to be visited during the year prevents our promising the attendance of any Representative of the Society, excepting at the time which our friends have originally specified.

The Committee increasingly feel the importance of systematizing, as far as circumstances admit, the local assistance which may be obtained: and, as it has in some Districts been found impracticable for the Members of the Deputation to occupy, during their visit, all the pulpits to which they might have been admitted, we venture to express our hope that some regular plan will be formed for entering on that ground which is open to the Society, and for which we cannot provide. If each Clerical Member of your Association would undertake to give his services to the Society for one Sunday in each year, in his own neighbourhood — or, where that may not be practicable, preach one Sermon in aid of its funds, either in his own or a neighbouring Church — there is good reason to hope, that, by the blessing of God, the great objects of the Society would be materially promoted, and the Cause of the Redeemer advanced.

The Committee, having taken into their consideration the circumstances connected with the Society's Publications, have determined on publishing Monthly Extracts from the Correspondence of the Missionaries, in the hope of exciting a more extended interest in the Proceedings of the Society. It is intended to publish these Monthly Papers on the 31st of January, and on the last day of each succeeding month. We subjoin the Regulations which have been adopted for the distribution of this and the other Publications; and request that you will kindly inform us what number of Extracts and Registers will be required for the use of your Association.

We remain, Dear Sir, very truly yours,

E. BICKERSTETH, }
T. WOODROOFFE, } Secretaries.

REGULATIONS RESPECTING THE PUBLICATIONS OF THE SOCIETY.

The object to be kept in view, in the issue of Publications by the Society, is the maintenance and extension of an intelligent zeal in its support: and one general rule of just economy should, therefore, govern all expenditure on this head — that such expense should be incurred in Publications; and, so far as that can be accomplished, such expense only as will fully answer the end: while a liberal distribution of Publications must not degenerate into profusion, economy must not degenerate into that parsimony which will defeat its own design.

It has been the wish of the Committee to provide every class of Contributors to the Society with appropriate Publications. Their experience has led them to the conviction that an additional Publication, besides those already circulated, is required. The Contributors to the Society consist of Weekly, Monthly, and Annual Subscribers — of Benefactors of various sums, more or less considerable — and of those who engage in the laborious but most useful office of collecting the smaller Contributions of others, in addition to their own. The Publications hitherto circulated by the Society, periodically, are, the Missionary Register monthly, Quarterly Papers at each Quarter Day, and the Annual Publication containing the Sermon and Report. To these will in future be added, Monthly Papers, consisting of half-a-sheet or a sheet of letter-press, as the case may be, for the use of a class of Contributors between those who are at present entitled to the Quarterly Papers, and those who are entitled to the Missionary Register or Annual Publication. These Monthly Papers might also, perhaps, be substituted, in some cases, for the Missionary Register.

The Plan on which it is proposed to regulate the distribution of Publications, in future, is the following:—

Annual Subscribers of a Guinea and upward, and Benefactors of Ten Guineas and upward, will receive the Annual Publication.

Collectors of One Shilling per Week will receive the Monthly and Quarterly Papers, and either the Annual Publication or the Missionary Register at their option.

Collectors of Two Shillings and upward per Week will receive all the Publications.

Monthly Subscribers of One Shilling, or Collectors of that amount monthly, and under 2*l.* 12*s.* per ann., will receive both the Quarterly and Monthly Papers.

Weekly Subscribers of a Penny, or of equivalent amounts monthly or annually, will receive the Quarterly Papers,

THE PUBLICATIONS HERE SPOKEN OF ARE AS FOLLOWS:—

The Quarterly Papers contain Tracts and Anecdotes, with Addresses and Exhortations, adapted to the Labouring Class and the Young, and are illustrated by Engravings on Wood. The Monthly Papers will contain Extracts of Communications recently received from the different Missions of the Society, with an account of the Proceedings of the various Associations in connection with it, and Lists of the Contributions of the Month. The Missionary Register, published monthly, contains a digest of the Principal Transactions of the various Institutions for Propagating the Gospel, with the Proceedings, at large, of the Society itself. The Annual Publication contains a Sermon preached annually before the Society, with the Report delivered at the Annual Meeting, and a List of Contributors to the Society.

The different Contributors are all entitled to receive these respective Publications, if they wish to do so: but the Committee beg to suggest, that they would serve the interests of the Society by exercising a judicious economy in requiring these Publications; more particularly in not multiplying copies in the same family where different members of the family may be entitled to them, further than the wish to possess copies for their personal and future use may lead them. The Committee would venture further to suggest, that such Members as may be disposed to purchase the different Publications at the low prices fixed on them, instead of receiving them gratuitously, would assist in relieving the expense of Publications, which must unavoidably be heavy. In no case, however, would the Committee suggest any measure which should tend to withdraw attention from the Society's Publications; on the contrary, they beg earnestly to press on all the Members the importance of a diligent perusal of them, for the cherishing of an intelligent interest in support of that great object in which the Society is engaged: in proportion as they become conversant with the awful state of the Heathen World, and the measures which are in progress for bringing it to the saving knowledge of Christ, the Prayer of Faith is likely to be quickened, and the promised blessing to be consequently bestowed.

Some other arrangements are in progress in reference to the Society's Publications, which will contribute, it is hoped, to render them more efficient in its support: in particular, it is intended to issue the Annual Publication very soon after the Anniversary. This will be effected by closing the Accounts of the Associations, in future, on the 31st of December, instead of the 31st of March: by which means the Lists of Contributors, which have always hitherto delayed the publication of the Annual Volume, will have been printed by the time the Report can be carried through the press.

The Committee must depend very much on the kindness of the Secretaries of the respective Associations for carrying these arrangements relative to Publications into full effect: and it is hoped and believed, that those friends of the Society will cooperate zealously with the Committee in making the most economical and yet efficient use of its Publications, by taking care that full returns of contribution be made for them.

REPORT OF THE WEST-AFRICA MISSION OF THE CHURCH MISSIONARY SOCIETY FOR 1827.

DURING the Year which is now drawing to a close, this Mission has had to encounter difficulties of various kinds, and some of them of a very peculiar nature. A reduction in the number of the Society's Labourers, and changes in those measures of Government which bear upon the Society's exertions in the Colony, have combined to render the situation of those who had to carry on the work exceedingly trying; and we have sometimes felt almost oppressed by the weight of those duties which devolved on us.

The Native Schoolmasters and Schoolmistresses, formerly in connection with the Society in the Villages, having, at the beginning of the year, been taken into the service of Government, according to a clause in the arrangement of 1824, the number of individuals remaining in the employ of the Society was at that period as follows:—

Clergymen . . .	2 English 3 Lutheran	. . 5
Schoolmasters .	3 European 1 Native	. . 4
Schoolmistresses,	2 European 1 Native	. . 3
Native Teachers	. . . . .	3

It was not long before that number was further reduced. The Rev. John Raban, who had been urged, during the latter part of the preceding year, by medical advisers and other friends, to seek in his native country the re-establishment of his health, proceeded to England in the month of January: the Rev. John Gerber followed him in the early part of March: and the Rev. W. K. Betts having been suffering under the influence of the climate almost ever since his arrival in the Colony, returned to England in the latter part of April, with the view of escaping the injurious effects of the rains upon a debilitated frame, and to return with recruited strength at the beginning of the dry season.

These separations were extremely painful, though they left a prospect of our parting friends joining us again, after a season, in that field of labour from which only a strong sense of duty called them. Still more painful was the loss of Mr. Gatesman, who entered into his eternal rest on the 23d of April, after a very short but highly blessed career of usefulness in the Mountain Villages.

The number of European Servants of the Society was further reduced by one of the Schoolmasters accepting office under Government.

One European only joined the Mission during the early part of the year. The Rev. Charles L. F. Haensel arrived on the 13th of February, with special instructions from the Parent Committee to devote his labours exclusively to the reviving and conducting of the Christian Institution; which Seminary had no existence at the time of his arrival, the last two pupils having been dismissed during the latter part of the preceding year. The want of suitable Premises in the Villages for the Institution, and the destitute state, for Ministerial Services, of Freetown, led to

Mr. Haensel's taking up his temporary residence at the latter place, and officiating as Minister there; while the Ministerial Duties of all the Liberated African Villages devolved upon the Rev. J. G. Wilhelm and the Rev. G. W. E. Metzger.

The very small number of Labourers then remaining was still further reduced by several of them being rendered, for a considerable time, quite inefficient for service by severe illness. The Rev. Mr. Wilhelm, Mrs. Weeks, and the Rev. Mr. Haensel, are of that number.

In the beginning of September, the Rev. Thomas Davey arrived in the Colony; and, after having for some weeks performed the duties in Freetown for Mr. Haensel, then a convalescent, entered upon the Ministerial Charge of the Mountain Villages.

One Native Teacher having been accepted on probation during the early part of the year, the abovenamed Clergymen in charge of the Villages were assisted by four Natives, until the month of October, when the painful necessity occurred of suspending one of the number.

We are excited to grateful and admiring praise to God, who has increased the number of the Society's Servants, by the recent arrival of the Rev. John Gerber and the Rev. W. K. Betts, with Messrs. Heighway and Boston; thus enabling us to look forward to the approaching year with hopes of a somewhat more adequate fulfilment of our duties to the people under our spiritual charge.

As it is obvious, from a mere glance at the Map of Sierra Leone, that such a small body of Labourers could not possibly discharge the duties of spiritual advisers and guides, and of guardians and inspectors of general education, over so large an extent of country, studded with populous Villages, most of which include Schools of Liberated Africans and Children born in the Colony, the question may present itself to the readers of this Report, why we did not rather concentrate our small force to a limited portion of the Colony; and relinquish the rest, until the time when we should be enabled, by a sufficient reinforcement, to re-occupy the ground thus relinquished? That course, indeed, has at times appeared almost forcing itself upon us; and we were, once during the year, on the point of adopting it, when the affectionate concerns of the Minister, whose flock was to be abandoned, prevented the measures, which had already been unanimously resolved upon, from being carried into effect; and determined us to bear up for another season, under all the trials, and under the discouraging circumstances in which we were placed.

Having thus stated the difficulties of the Mission arising from the reduction of the number of the Society's Labourers, we now turn to those which have sprung out of changes in those measures of Government which bear upon the Society's exertions in this Colony.

It has already been mentioned, that, at the beginning of the year, the Native Schoolmasters and Schoolmistresses, formerly in connection with this Society in the Villages, were taken into the service of Government. That measure was accompanied with another, by which the Servants of the Society were altogether released both from the duties of civil superintendence and from any other than spiritual authority over the inhabitants of the Villages; and both arose out of the arrangement formed between His Majesty's Government and the Society in the year 1824.

Greatly as the Society's Servants, who had till then held the situation of Civil Superintendants, rejoiced at being relieved from a burden which had too long interfered with their proper Missionary engagements, they could not but anticipate peculiar temporary difficulties from a transfer of the authority formerly exercised by them, to individuals whom they did not know, and whose views, as to maintenance of public order and propriety, especially on the Sabbath, and as to discountenancing Heathenish Rites, they might naturally expect to differ considerably from theirs. A new class of Public Officers, mostly Coloured Men, started into authority, under the name of Sub-Managers. How far it was the desire of the Colonial Government that these persons, as well as their superior officers, the District Managers, though altogether independent of the Missionaries, should co-operate, within their own sphere, with the endeavours used to evangelize the population; what sentiments the Colonial Government entertained as to the value of the Society's labours in the Colony, the character which the Society's Servants were to maintain, and the silent influence over the management of the Liberated-African Villages, which, without any official connection with it, they were to exercise; these were things not at once understood. That this transfer was a thing long contemplated, urged, and stipulated for by the Society, and that only the wishes of the Colonial Government itself had prevented it from being long before carried into effect, was not generally known, either to the population of the Villages, or to the persons who had newly come into authority. It was only known, that the Missionaries had no more civil power: and the people, feeling that the restraints formerly put upon public observance of Heathenish Rites or noisy amusements no longer existed, followed the natural leading of an evil heart. No means were possessed by those who are seeking the spiritual good of the people to stop practices which disturb the more peaceful of the inhabitants, and lead to the perpetuation of Heathenism; and in which the people will be sure to engage, if left to themselves: though they will abstain, if checked, without any danger to the public peace; as the experience of many years has abundantly shewn.

The greatest difficulty to the Missionaries arose from that change of Government's measures which bears upon the Village Schools. These Schools had, till the beginning of the year, been altogether under the controul of the Missionaries, superintended immediately by the highest Functionary of the Liberated-African Department. The new system put the Schools at once under the authority of the Managers and Sub-Managers: and it was a question not very soon solved, what kind and extent of interference on the part of the Missionaries was expected, and would be admitted. The Missionaries readily saw, that it was hardly possible to define the extent of their interference and of the Manager's authority, until the system should have been tried: they therefore did not very strongly urge definitions, but contented themselves with inspecting the Schools during the hours of instruction; though it was undoubtedly very painful for them to be precluded from any influence over the Children out of School-hours. But it was far more painful for them to see all the Liberated-African Children, who used to be fed and clothed by Government, and were instructed in the Schools, distributed as Apprentices among the inhabitants, who adopted them from no other motive than that of profiting by the labour of these Children, and consequently never sent them to School again; to see Children, in whom perhaps a taste of divine things had begun to manifest itself, scattered about among their superstitious Countrymen, and the care bestowed on them by their Teachers to all human appearance lost. This measure was indeed, a few months afterwards, abandoned; and as many of the Children as returned were again received at School, as before. But the system of apprenticing Liberated African Children has ever since been carried to an extent which the Missionaries cannot but deplore: because the Apprentices, almost without exception, are deprived of every further means of instruction, being sent neither to School nor to Church. Their Masters and Mistresses seem to look upon them as not much better than Slaves; and if the scanty clothing, with which they supply them, justify us to form a judgment of their general treatment, their condition seems to be far from desirable.

It is the intention of Government, that in apprenticing Liberated African Children, those are to be selected who give least promise of proficiency in their learning. This benevolent design, however, has been but partially carried into effect; the distribution of whole classes of children having taken place, in several instances, by the Managers, without any reference to the Missionary. Thus it has happened that children who had advanced to the reading of the Parables, were given out as Apprentices, and never seen at school again; which is extremely discouraging to the Teachers and Inspectors of the Schools, as well as injurious to the Children. It is certainly a very reasonable expectation, that the concentration of the Schools, to which we shall presently advert, by bringing all the Liberated-African Children more immediately under the eye of the Missionaries, will cause the Regulations of the Liberated African Department, dated 14th March 1827, to be uniformly attended to.

In the system of appointing, removing, and discharging the Schoolmasters and Schoolmistresses, a degree of promptitude has been exercised, which has left no time to confer with the Missionaries on occasions of that kind. The Missionaries have sometimes regretted to find persons entrusted with the education of the children, concerning whose religious principles and practice they knew nothing, nor could acquire satisfactory information.

In the month of July last, his late Excellency, Sir Neil Campbell, communicated to the Mission his intention to concentrate the Schools of Liberated-African Children established in most of the Villages into three large District Schools, and his wish that a Missionary should reside in each of those places which included a District School: he died before the measure was carried into effect; and his intentions have since been further explained to have been, that the Girls' Schools should not be in the same places as the Boys' Schools. There exist, at present, a Girls' School at Bathurst; and two Boys' Schools, one at Charlotte and one at Regent, for the Mountain District: a Girls' School at York, and a Boys' School at Kent for the Sea District: the arrangements for the River District seem to be not yet finally made. There are obvious advantages connected with this arrangement; and it is to be hoped that the facility thus given to the Missionaries of inspecting the Schools under their charge will produce beneficial results.

We are anxious to express our sense of the difficulties with which the Colonial Government has had to contend during the year. An important change of system was accompanied with an almost total change of agents, from the highest functionary to the lowest Sub-Manager, in carrying it into effect. It has been a year of experiments; during which the Missionaries have, partly from the reduction of their number, and partly from some uncertainty as to the extent of their influence, been able to do little more than be vigilant, in looking for what things would come to—to collect facts for their own information, as well as for that of the Parent Committee—and to exercise, now and then, a certain unofficial, perhaps altogether silent, mo-derating influence over the march of affairs. They have acquired invaluable treasures of experience; in consideration of which, they count all the trials and difficulties which have arisen to them out of the change of persons, measures, and system, as not worth mentioning. They are free however to confess, that they wish the experiments of this memorable year may speedily lead to a more settled state of things.

It is evident that our reduced number was far from able to keep up such a close acquaintance with the details of the Schools and the Congregations as was desirable. The following particulars respecting the several Stations are furnished by the individuals in charge of them.

Kissey, the residence of a Native Teacher—200 attend Divine Service on Sunday Morning; 100 in the Afternoon; 50 on the two Week-days, when Evening Service is kept—About 30 attend the early Prayer-Meeting: Communicants, 71: they meet once a week, Males and Females separately, when one of the most experienced among them presides: 70 Children, born in the Colony, are in the Schools.

Leicester—40 attend on Sundays, in a large grass hut built at the expense of the Society: 12 Children under instruction: 4 Communicants.

Gloucester—145 attend on Sundays; 12 on Week-days: Communicants, 105—There is a Church here large enough to hold a thousand persons; but it is very much out of repair: nor is there a sufficient number of forms for the people to sit on; so that sometimes, when the attendance has been more than usual, some have been compelled to go home and fetch a seat—There is neither Manager nor Sub-Manager residing in this Village; and there is, Sundays excepted, an almost uninterrupted noise of drumming in it, both day and night—The Schools contain 95 Children, born in the Colony.

Regent—The residence of a Native Teacher—Attendance at Church, 250 on Sundays; 100 on Week-days: Communicants, 149. Scholars, 108, Liberated Africans, and 177 children born in the Colony.

Bathurst—(formerly Leopold and Bathurst)—250 attend on Sundays; 100 on Week-days; 6 Communicants—This being the residence of a Clergyman, the people do not fire their muskets and engage in noisy amusements so freely as they would otherwise do: in some instances the mere approach of the Missionary, in others his representations of the folly and impropriety of such engagements, have put a stop to them, and led the people to disperse—Here is the principal Liberated-African Girls' School for the Mountain District, containing 91 Scholars: of the Children born in the Colony, 71 are under instruction.

Charlotte—The Church on Sundays is attended by 120; and on Week-days by 50: Communicants, 3—This Settlement is destitute of a regular place of Worship: the building designed for it might be completed for a comparatively small sum, and would then be a substantial Church—Divine Service is at present performed in one of the School-Houses, which is far from being a suitable place, either as respects its size or accommodation—There is a great deal of drumming here, but not equal to Gloucester—To the firing of muskets the people seem to be disposed, if they had money to purchase powder—Here is one division of the Liberated-African Boys' School for the District: 48 of that class attend, and 30 Children born in the Colony.

Wellington—The residence of a Clergyman—475 attend on Sunday Morning; 350 in the Afternoon; 150 on the two Week-days, when Evening Service is kept: Communicants, 142—The large attendance on Divine Service is so much the more pleasing, as all the accommodation provided consists in a miserable large grass hut without forms, so that those people who do not like to stand all the while are obliged to bring their seats with them, and afterwards carry them home again—The generality of the people are very decent and orderly in their behaviour, and esteem outward Church-privileges, such as Baptism and Christian Burial: the Sabbath wears the appearance of a sacred season—The Communicants meet once a week, males and females separately, when one of the most experienced presides: departures from the Gospel-path are reported to the Missionary; and if repentance does not follow, suspension, or exclusion from the number of Communicants, is resorted to—In the Schools are 43 Liberated Africans on rations, 20 Liberated Africans apprenticed, and 47 Children born in the Colony.

Waterloo—140 attend on Sunday Morning; 100 in the Afternoon: the Morning Prayers during the week are attended by the School-Children only: 11 Communicants—It is much to be regretted that they have left off meeting for mutual edification—The people, in general, are extremely negligent in the use of the Means of Grace, though they manifest a desire to have their children baptized—Their means of Christian Instruction have been extremely scanty since Mr. Wilhelm's removal—In the Schools there are 71 Liberated Africans, and 44 Children born in the Colony.

Kent—200 attend on Sundays: number of Communicants 25, who meet twice a week at the house of one of the number—There used to be formerly a very commodious Place of Worship here, which, however, has ceased to be devoted to that purpose; the Civil Authorities having removed the pulpit to the Girls' School-House, which will be by no means sufficient for the Congregation, when a regular attendance shall be again obtained by some one of the Society's Servants residing there—Here is the principal Liberated-African Boys' School for the Sea District, containing 92 Scholars.

Bananas—Divine Service was not held at the time when the island was visited by the Missionary, the people being engaged in attending their farms whilst the rice was standing in ears—Before that time the Schoolmaster used to read the Liturgy to the people on Sundays: 14 Children under instruction.

York—150 attend on Sundays on the Missionary's Ministry, and about 70 meet every Evening in a Chapel which they have built for themselves—Much inconvenience has arisen from the bad state of the grass hut provided by Government for a Place of Worship, and from the steepness of the hill on which the Government House, in which the Missionary resides, is built; added to the impaired state of his health, and strict orders given by the Chief of the Liberated-African Department, that Public Worship be not held in that house—The people, however, have shewn much attention to the Word preached to them since the time that the Missionary entered upon his residence among them, which took place about the beginning of the year; and they manifest a concern about the state of their souls—Three of the Communicants watch over the rest, conduct Prayers in the absence of the Minister, and keep a very laudable Church-Discipline, reproving such as act inconsistently, and reporting to the Missionary any that fall back and live in open sin, in order that he may strike them off the list of Communicants until they repent—The number of Communicants is 61—In this Settlement is the Sea-District Liberated-African Girls' School, containing 23 Girls, besides 38 Girls born in the Colony.

Hastings, the residence of a Native Teacher—300 attend on Sunday Morning; 100 in the Afternoon; 60 on Week-day Evenings; 30 on Week-day Mornings: Communicants, 22, who meet once a week, when the Native Teacher presides—Since the time that a Religious Teacher has begun to reside here, a change for the better has taken place: the Sabbath is observed with decency by about half the population—In the Schools, 43 Children born in the Colony.

A new Settlement has been formed in the Mountain District, and is called Grassfield: it includes 21 Children, born in the Colony, under instruction; but no Congregation of Adults has been formed as yet. In the River District there are likewise three new Settlements which require to be adverted to; namely, Allen's-town, where 19 Liberated Africans and 10 Children born in the Colony are under instruction; and Divine Service is held on Sunday, attended by 48 persons in the Morning and 30 in the Afternoon: daily Morning Prayers are attended by about 6 Adults, besides the Children. The people are too little acquainted with the English Language to understand what is read and occasionally spoken to them, but they seem to have a desire to understand. The new Settlement of Newlands has no School, nor any provision for holding Public Service. Calmont is the most distant Station of the River District; but it has had the advantage of a pious Headman, a Communicant of Wellington, who has used very laudable exertions to render the inhabitants a religious community: 100 Adults attend Divine Service on Sunday Morning, and 90 in the Afternoon; at Morning Prayers on Week-days about 12 Adults attend. There was a School of Liberated-African Boys here part of the year, but they have been removed to Waterloo.

The number of persons attending Divine Service includes, throughout this statement, the Children.

It cannot excite surprise, that, when the reduction of our number, by death, departure, and temporary illness, interrupted the performance of Public Services, the attendance on the part of the people also should have fallen off: at the same time, there is but a slight difference between the present number of Communicants, total 590, and the number at the close of last year, total 605; and it is gratifying to observe, that there is an increase of the number at both of those Stations which had the advantage of the Missionary's personal residence.

A new and very interesting feature in the general education of the Colony, is the Infant-School opened at Bathurst by the Rev. Thomas Davey: it is attended by 71 children born in the Colony, of the age of from 2 to 7 years; and has already produced very satisfactory results, in exciting the attention of the children, and opening their minds for the reception of useful knowledge and religious impressions.

The Contributions to the Church-Missionary Society on the part of the Liberated Africans have ceased, from a circumstance which has prevented the Missionaries from even urging the duty of contributing. The Colonial Government having declined to defray any longer the expense of lighting the Churches for Evening Service, it has appeared to the Missionaries that they should direct the Christian liberality of their Congregations, first of all, to a supply of palm-oil for the lighting of the Church. It is only by voluntary contributions, that we have been enabled to hold Evening Service in any one of the Villages; and the contributions for this purpose seem to be all that the well-disposed have been able to offer.

The Christian Institution, designed for training up Native Teachers and Assistants to the Mission, was re-opened, by the reception of one Pupil, on the 4th of April. Three more have been added to the number; and the Society's Servants consider the report of the state of that Seminary as encouraging; which states, that of these Youths two are very hopeful; while a satisfactory account is given of the general conduct of the other two, though their capacities seem to preclude the prospect of their proving useful as Teachers.

As the Individual entrusted with the care of these Youths had to consider this his primary duty, it was impossible for him to engage as much as is desirable in the pastoral duties of visiting those people in their houses, or receiving them in his own dwelling, to whom he proclaimed from the pulpit the glad tidings of Salvation and administered Christian Ordinances. He has much regretted it: for there is already too much disposition in the people to consider the Freetown Clergyman as the mere servant of the outward Church, always ready to administer the Ordinances, without any inquiry into the inward state of the persons applying for them.

The Freetown Schools supported by the Church Missionary Society, and containing 484 Scholars, have attained a higher degree of efficiency during the year by a Second School, both Male and Female, being opened in the eastern part of the town. They are highly useful Seminaries for the spread of general information: but it is to be lamented that a taste for Divine Things, which it is the great object of our labours to excite, is seldom found in the Children, even in those who make otherwise very encouraging progress. The zealous endeavours of their Teachers, we are sorry to say, are but very little seconded by the Parents or other friends of the Scholars.

While laying before the Honoured Committee of the Church Missionary Society this account of the circumstances of the Mission, we unite in assuring them, that neither the memory of difficulties encountered, nor the prospect of others to come, discourages us from proceeding in our endeavours to do good to the Nations of Africa. We will gladly live and die in Sierra Leone, if we can spend our lives in labouring for the eternal welfare of the souls under our care: nor shall we be less ready, whenever we shall be called to it, to carry the glad tidings of Salvation beyond the borders of the Colony; and to set up Christ's banner, and die in its defence, in the dwelling-places of those numerous Tribes with whose representatives only we have now to do. When God prospers our labours, we will give Him the praise: when He withholds success, we will humble ourselves, under a consciousness of our want of faith, of zeal, of perseverance, of self-denial, of love toward our fellow-creatures. And always shall we hold fast this firm persuasion, that, in God's own time, Ethiopia shall stretch out her hands to Him, and acknowledge the name of Jesus to be the only name under heaven given among men whereby we must be saved.

(See Page 95.)

SOME ANIMADVERSIONS ON THE TINNEVELLY MISSION HAVING APPEARED IN A CALCUTTA NEWSPAPER, MESSRS. RHENIUS AND SCHMID ADDRESSED A LETTER TO THE REV. D. SCHMID AT THAT PLACE, UNDER DATE OF AUGUST 7, 1827, IN REPLY TO THOSE ANIMADVERSIONS; FROM A COPY OF WHICH LETTER, THE FOLLOWING ACCOUNT OF THE MISSION HAS BEEN TAKEN.

DEAR BROTHER,

LITTLE did we think that our humble labours in this distant part of the world would have been canvassed in the Calcutta Newspapers.

To satisfy your various inquiries, we shall give you a simple and concise statement of the commencement and progress of the work of Conversion in these parts, and of its present state.

First, however, we would premise, that the Tinnevelly Provinces, of which Palamcottah is the fort, contains about 700,000 inhabitants, comprising all Castes, excepting the Cshatriyas, of whom there are very few. The Soodras are the most numerous Caste. Of these again the Pallers and Parriars are the most numerous, and form the lowest class; higher than these are the Shanars, that is, the cultivators of the Palmira-tree, who are also very numerous, particularly South of Palamcottah. Next in number are the Brahmins, then the Moormen, or Mahomedans. A more particular account of this subject you will find in the Church Missionary Society's Report for the year 1823—1824, in the Appendix, p. 226.

At the latest Survey of the District by the Company's Servants, in 1820, there were found in this District, according to the lowest calculation, about 22,000 Native Christians, of whom about 18,000 were Roman Catholics, and 4000 Protestants, belonging to the Tanjore Mission. Among these are many Soodras, but most are Shanars and Parriars. About 30 years ago, one or other of the Tanjore Missionaries used to visit about here; also the Rev. Mr. Ringletaube (who at first belonged to their Society, but afterwards attached himself to the London Missionary Society, and who had a Mission establishment South of Tinnevelly, in Travancore,) used to travel about and superintend these Congregations. He left this country about ten years ago; and since then, no European Missionary looked after them. They were superintended at first by two Native Country Priests, and latterly by one only, sent out from time to time by the Tanjore Missionaries, with numerous Native Catechists for their Assistants. For some years previously to the end of 1820, the Rev. Mr. Hough, Chaplain of the Station, used to take a very lively interest in the welfare of these Congregations in particular, and in the spread of the Gospel in this district in general, by establishing Schools, and distributing Tracts.

In 1820 we arrived in Palamcottah. We found Christianity at a low ebb, whether we looked to the Christians or to the Heathen. The Christians, from whatever cause, knew very little of the spirit of the Gospel; and their conduct, with the exception of heathenish idolatry, differed very little from their heathen neighbours. The Heathen, particularly the Brahmins, were very shy of us, and would hardly come near us. In the Schools which Mr. Hough had established within seven miles round Palamcottah, we found it difficult to introduce printed religious books; and were threatened with the breaking up of the Schools, should we do so: however, as we thought that in Missionary Schools Christianity should be taught, we did not relax in this measure, and had by degrees the happiness to see the native prejudice removed: so that in about a year's time our books were (as they still are) most eagerly read and learnt by the Heathen Boys, who not unfrequently read them to their Parents also. Other Heathen Villages afterwards requested of their own accord to have Schools established: in some cases we complied with their request. We made it, however, a point frequently to visit all these Schools; when we catechized the Boys, and preached to the people, who used to come in numbers together, first doubtless from curiosity, but by degrees from a desire to hear the Christian Vedam and to receive books. Early in 1821, we made a tour through the district southward, visiting several of the Tanjore Mission Congregations, but principally preaching to the Heathen, and distributing Tracts, which we found were most eagerly received by them. Such excursions we repeated as often as our other engagements permitted.

As we had given up an English School in the town of Tinnevelly, we turned the School-Room into a Chapel, and went thither every Wednesday Evening to preach to all that might come together. We had generally a pretty large number to hear: they were of course all Heathen, attracted by curiosity; but not a few of them used afterwards to repeat their attendance, in order to hear and dispute. Many Tracts were distributed there, not only to the inhabitants of the town, but also to many from other parts of the district, who, as we afterwards noticed, had, when passing by the Chapel at the time of preaching, stept in. We have visited places more than sixty miles distant from Tinnevelly, where we found people acquainted with Christianity, who, upon inquiring, mentioned that they had heard of it, and received a book in Tinnevelly, or in other places which we had visited. The eagerness with which the people received Tracts at the Tinnevelly Chapel, not only when the thing was new to them, but also afterwards, must have been witnessed, in order to credit a description of it.

In the mean while we set a Seminary on foot. When we arrived in Palamcottah, Mr. Hough had already 8 or 9 Soodra Boys in readiness to commence with; in 1821 other Boys were added: but as the Christian Youths, from the persuasion of their Parents, would by no means abandon caste, which we thought it our duty not to allow in a Christian Institution, the Seminary was soon broken up. It was commenced in 1822 again with new Boys; but several of the former also returned, confessing their folly in relinquishing so great a privilege, for the sake of caste. This Seminary was composed of various Castes; Soodras, Valloovers, Shanars, and Parriars, of from eight to twenty years: several were of Protestant Parents, others Roman Catholics, and the rest Heathen, who were received under the condition that they should submit in all things to Christian principles. Our greatest aim, in the first place, was to inform them of the truths of the Bible, and to engage their hearts to abandon all sinful practices, and become true Christians. They were instructed also in Tamul Grammar, in Geography and History, in English, &c. Our exertions were soon crowned with success by the great Head of the Church. A change of character was seen in many of these Youths in the first year: the many inquiries which they made, of their own accord, about many points referring to the Scriptures, and to an experience of the truths contained therein; their aversion to all kinds of immoralities, &c.; convinced us of their having become the subjects of Divine Grace, and removed all doubts as to their fitness for reception into the Christian Church. Accordingly, we had the pleasure of baptizing of them,

In December 1822, 1 Young Man.
- August 1823, 4 ditto
- January 1824, 9 ditto.
- December 1824, 1 ditto.

Hitherto only one of them has disappointed our expectations: all the rest behave in accordance with their profession, at least as much as any equal number of Boys in Europe, if not more so. Another Young Man was equally promising and fit for Baptism; but he died, whilst in the country, before the ordinance was administered to him.

Of the other Seminarists, who were born of Christian Parents, there were 6, over whom we could likewise rejoice; and their understanding of the Scriptures, their proficiency in other useful knowledge, and their correct conduct, gave us the pleasing hope of seeing them hereafter usefully and efficiently employed among their countrymen. In order to this, we always took a number of them along with us in our missionary excursions in the country, to let them see our method of dealing and conversing with the Heathen, and to make them by degrees read Tracts and the Scriptures to the people and converse with them: their desire to impart to others the knowledge of the Truth, as far as they knew it, was very conspicuous. If any question their fitness for this work, we request him to consider, that such lads as had been instructed for about 2 years in what was necessary for them to know, and who received that knowledge with a diligence and desire by no means surpassed by European youths, would naturally know a vast deal more than the Heathen; yea, than the Brahmins themselves. This was also acknowledged by the Heathen; and it was curious as well as pleasing to observe how large crowds of people, Brahmins included, would listen to these young messengers with pleasure, and receive Tracts from them. Brahmins even called them to their houses, and made them read our books to them and argued with them.

On the Sabbath-days, we preached regularly in a large School-room near our compound, close to the high road; where usually a number of Heathen passengers stopped, and placed themselves at the doors and windows to hear.

While the preparations for planting the Gospel standard in this part were going on, the divine power of the Gospel shewed its effects also in some grown-up people more immediately around us. We had two Christain Men from Tanjore in our service, whom we employed at first as Tamul Writers, on a very small salary; in fact, they had come to us in quest of employment: they had but little real knowledge of Christianity; and as to any experience of its power, they had none at all, as they afterwards themselves confessed. One of them actually formed a design of leaving us in quest of a better salary; but, as he afterwards told us, he was restrained from it by the effect a discourse, one Sunday Morning, had upon his mind; which made him resolve rather to stay and enjoy Christian instruction for the salvation of his soul with a small salary, than be without it with a larger. After about two years, we observed in them a more steady character, and an evident desire after divine things; and we employed them in more important business. Opportunities occurring, they by degrees acquired confidence to speak freely to us when it appeared plain that old things had passed away with them also, and that their minds had been changed. This was proved by their voluntary confessions of their former sins, by their seeking rest for their awakened consciences, by their love to the Word of God, and by their truly moral behaviour. One of them in particular had before been given to pilfering when employed by other Gentlemen: to them he now, freely, and of his own accord, confessed his sins in letters, and begged their pardon. They shewed afterwards a scrupulousness in dealing justly and uprightly even in little things, when they might have taken advantage without any one discovering it; which fully proved that they were actuated by true faith in our Lord Jesus Christ. Having given for a length of time full proof of their regeneration, they were employed in more important offices in the Mission, and are to this moment our joy, and highly useful to their countrymen. They were of the Soodra Caste; and by them several other Natives were persuaded of the truth of Christianity; who, shewing true repentance and faith in our Lord Jesus Christ, were subsequently baptized.

In 1824 we were encouraged to form a Tract Society, in conjunction with the Missionaries in Nagercoil (about forty-five miles from here, southward). This Society consists, besides ourselves, of Natives, and carries on its business in the native language. Up to this time, 76,400 Tracts have been printed, and have been mostly distributed in these parts, among all classes of people.

In the same year, and in 1825, the elder Seminarists felt themselves encouraged to go out in groups to the festivals of the Heathen, for the purpose of making known the Gospel to them. This, of course, we encouraged, with due caution. As on such occasions people resort to these places from all parts of the country, the knowledge of Christianity spread widely, both by their conversation and by the Tracts, of which no small number was distributed. The attention of the people to the subject was in consequence so much roused, as to make people come from far to us and ask for books; even Zemindars sent for copies of them. We ourselves repeatedly made journeys into the country, and embraced every opportunity to speak with the Heathen; and as our preaching in the Schools in Tinnevelly, and in the Schoolroom here in Palamcottah, was usually attended by many Heathen, the knowledge of the Gospel could not but spread very widely.

The happy consequence of all these exertions, in the first place, was, that, in March 1822, a Heathen Schoolmaster of the high Soodra Caste, and a Heathen Woman of low Caste, with 2 Children, were baptized; having given sufficient evidence of a change of mind. The two Children are now dead. The Soodra Man continues not only in the profession of Christianity, but is happy in the faith, and conducts himself as behoves a Christian. He is already aged, and waits with desire for the time of his release from the fetters of the body. He is still actively employed in the Girls' School. The woman also holds fast her profession; but her conduct has not always been conformable to the Gospel: however, we wish that many European Christians would shew the same contrition for their errors that she has done.

In August 1823, 5 Men and 3 Children were baptized in Tiroopoolangoody, a Village about twenty miles from this, south-east: they were Parriars: their history is detailed in various Missionary Publications. We purchased a piece of ground in the Village, and built a School, or House for Prayer, upon it. They had signified their wish for Baptism more than two years before that; but as we think it our duty to be very cautious in admitting candidates to this sacred ordinance, we kept them thus long waiting; during which time they not only learnt more and more the nature of the Gospel, visited Palamcottah frequently to attend Divine Service on Sundays, and rejected Idolatry and other heathenish practices, but also endured very great afflictions from their heathen neighbours, whose maltreatment brought at last their aged mother to the grave.

In October 1823, two men arrived from Sembenkoodiyirooppoo, a village about twenty miles south of Palamcottah, requesting to be instructed in Christianity: they had been persuaded to make this application by some Native Christians of the Tanjore-Mission Congregations in Varleiyadi, with whom they stood in connection. This request was of course granted, and occasioned several journeys in that quarter, both of ourselves and our Native Assistants; on which occasions Tracts and parts of the Scriptures were distributed.

In one of these journeys, our Head Assistant went to Satankoollam, a large town further south, whilst there were many people gathered together for the market; to whom he read Tracts, exhorting them to leave their vanities, and to turn to the Living God. He had hardly left them, when fifteen persons (Shanars) signified their wish to renounce Idolatry, and receive Christian instruction. Some deputies of them came afterwards to us in Palamcottah, and shewed that they were in earnest. Shortly after, we paid them a visit; when a large part of the town assembled together, to see us and to hear the Word of God. Twenty-one Families declared themselves willing to be instructed; for which purpose we sent them, in the beginning of 1824, a Teacher. Both these new Congregations, in Sembenkoodiyirooppoo and in Satankoollam, had, in the mean while, to endure various troubles and injuries from the Heathen. Providentially, the Collector took notice of their complaints, and rendered justice to the Christians. This favour shewn to them, if it can be called a favour, seems to have made a great impression upon the surrounding Villages; and from these two causes, viz. the spread of the knowledge of the Gospel, and the justice rendered to the Christians, it was, we believe, that, from time to time, more people in various other Villages, shook off the yoke of Idolatry and applied for Christian instruction; so that, in September 1825, the Villages in which this had been done amounted to 125, and the Families to more than 1000. They had been all Idolaters, and were, with few exceptions, Shanars.

When the number of Catechumens so remarkably increased, we were under the necessity of looking out for Teachers, and for a Compendium of the Principles of Christianity which they might teach. The latter was soon printed in a small Tract; and as for the former, we had no other resource but the Seminary. In it were seven Young Men of the description mentioned above, whom, though they had not yet finished their studies, yet, as they possessed the most necessary qualifications for this work, we selected and sent out; allotting several Villages to each, among which they itinerate during the week; and on the Sabbath all the Catechumens of every Teacher assemble together at his principal Station.

When the number of such Villages increased, these Teachers were of course not sufficient: we therefore turned our eyes to the new Congregations, from among whom we selected such men as knew how to read and write, had distinguished themselves by their intelligence, shewed a real desire of learning the Word of God and of saving their own souls, and appeared apt to teach others. Them we took to Palamcottah, joined them to the Seminarists, and gave them special instructions, such as we judged necessary to enlighten their minds and to enable them to instruct others: a part of their time they spent also in the Central School, to learn the mechanical part of the work of teaching others. In the mean while, we had ample opportunities to observe their conduct and the bent of their mind. Those who, after a trial of five or six months, or longer, proved sincere, were baptized, and afterwards placed in the country, as Assistants to the former Catechists. In no other way could we have supplied the want of Teachers. With all these Country Teachers, we made this further arrangement: three weeks they spent at their Stations; the fourth week they all collected together in Palamcottah, when they delivered their Reports, were corrected in any points when they had erred, and received further instructions in Theology and the care of souls. Thus furnished and strengthened anew, they went forth afresh to their work. This plan is still pursued with them; and we find it a very good and useful one.

We ourselves make frequent journeys among the new Congregations. During these visits, we examine them with regard to their attainments in Scriptural knowledge, and as to their general conduct; instruct, advise, exhort, and admonish them, as need may be; and baptize such of them as have given sufficient proofs of the sincerity of their faith in Christ Jesus. We have often witnessed the destruction of idols and of idol temples; or, wherever it was possible, the conversion of these idol temples into places of Christian Worship. Where the temples had been destroyed, or where they had no temple at all, the people built themselves Places of Worship, with a little assistance on our part. As for Baptisms, the following have taken place, including all native baptisms, since our residence in Palamcottah; viz.

124 grown-up Men.
54 . . . Women.
79 Children of ditto.
257 Heathen.
13 Children of Christians.
270 Total.

Of Roman Catholics only 21 persons, and from the Tanjore or other Protestant Missions only 12 families, have joined our establishment: the rest were all Heathen, and many are still under Christian instruction for Baptism.

Before we proceed to mention the present state of these Congregations, it is necessary to allude to the many persecutions to which they have hitherto been subjected. The very first Congregation at Tiroopoolangoody has had a great deal to suffer, as already stated: they have patiently endured; not one has denied the faith; and they enjoy now comparative quietness. The second Congregation which arose, was at Sembenkoodiyirooppoo, where the new Village of the Christians is now called Aroolloor: it has existed now four years: the vexations and injuries which they have received, both in body and estate, have been nearly innumerable. Paranniappen, a rich Native in the neighbourhood, began to dispute with the Brahmin who sold us a piece of ground for settling the Catechumens, about his right to do so. The case was referred to the Collector, who decided, after a troublesome and patient investigation, in favour of the Brahmin. As the Converts could justly witness in favour of the latter, this and the further circumstance that several people of Paranniappen's Village joined our Congregation, seem to have been the causes of his inveterate hatred against the latter, and of his determination to extirpate them if possible. During the three first years, he evinced it in many ways, by suborning the watchmen and others of his people to beat and rob them. As he did not succeed, he at last, in October 1826, got the Headman of the Christians in Aroolloor actually murdered, and many of the other people, women not excepted, greatly injured in their bodies. By briberies and false witnesses, he has escaped the punishment due to him. In the course of these troubles, several, who had at first joined the Congregation, being gained over by him both by threats and persuasions, added to presents, left the Congregation, and joined his party, and have greatly assisted him in his outrages. Shortly after the return of the murderers from the prison, being most unjustly acquitted, the house of our Catechist at Arooloor was burnt down: we have every reason to believe it was done by the enemy. The patience and stedfastness with which these oppressed people endured these afflictions are truly gratifying. Only two Families have left the Congregation for fear of them.

In another Congregation, at Peykoollam, the Brahmins, at first friendly to the people, changed by degrees their favourable disposition, gained some of the Congregation over to their side, and at last burned down the Chapel. Though the case was quite clear, as the Brahmins themselves admitted the crime before us, yet at the Court they escaped by briberies, and each of them was fined only two rupees for some trivial part of the offence. Most of those who had been misled by them afterwards saw their error, and returned to the Congregation, and are now diligently learning the Word of God.

Thus many of the other Congregations have had to suffer, in one way or other. We cannot say that Christianity has always been the sole cause of these afflictions; but it certainly excited an increased hatred against the people, and stimulated their enemies to be vexatious: in some, disputes about the ownership of Villages; in others, extortions from the Native Tax-Officers, were among the causes. Both with respect to lands and taxes, this district has been, more perhaps than any other district, in confusion. Formerly, the Shanars, who were owners of lands, were so oppressed by the higher castes, that the former did not dare to transact their own business about their possessions in the public offices; which made them choose agents from the higher castes, whom they rewarded for the trouble: these agents had, of course, their names registered in the Public Accounts. In time, by various intrigues and secret understandings with the Public Native Accountants, these agents gradually intruded into the possessions of their employers, and at last gave it out that those lands were their own. The former were kept under; so that, often for many years, they feared to assert their rights; for if any one dared to do so, the deceivers, being of high caste, had many means in hand to oppress them and make all their efforts prove fruitless. But when the Collectors began to look into matters, and particularly when the late Collector shewed every disposition to render justice to every class of Natives, and to admit even the lowest into the Public Offices to assert their rights, those oppressed people got courage, and brought forward their claims. When the deceivers saw that they could not now carry their threatenings into execution, as formerly, they did all they could to intimidate and injure them: to this they were the more excited, if any of them renounced Idolatry, and put themselves under Christian instruction. The maltreatment they received from them was often atrocious, and crying to Heaven. Men and women, with their infants, were, in the monsoon time, cast out of their houses, false complaints were made against them, and they were put in prison, till their rights could be established.

Just now another atrocious case has occurred. Some inimical Heathen and Moormen in Kongalarayakooritchy came together ten days ago, and used threatening language against our people, and in the night set fire to our School or Prayer-House there. Whilst they came over to Palamcottah to inform us of the circumstance, the enemies burnt down a small Moorman shop, and were beforehand with the Tasildar, complaining against the Christians, as if they had burnt it down. Of course the Tasildar sent out a warrant to apprehend them. The case is not yet decided.

We cannot but say here a few words on the facility with which such wicked schemes can, under the present system of administering justice, be transacted. The law is, that if any thing is proved by witnesses, the judge or magistrate must decide in favour of it. Now, these unprincipled Heathen can get any number of witnesses, for a few fanams, to swear to any thing; and it is in this way that most crying injustices are committed, even by the European Magistrates, contrary to their own wish. The worst in these circumstances is, that the Magistrate can receive no private information respecting any case; which, if he could, would give him much light on it: this is so far just, in case it be practised with respect to both parties: but the fact is, the Heathen have always secret intercourse with the Tasildar and Court Servants, who, notwithstanding all injunctions to the contrary, are easily bribed, to make such representations to their European master as they think best: the CHRISTIAN cannot do this: and the Court Officers, who are HEATHEN, willingly lend themselves to the oppression of the Christians, favouring the Heathen. But that such is the way in which justice is administered in these parts, it is notorious; and I could multiply instances of the horrible and most distressing consequences of it, by which the innocent, not only among the Christians, but also among the Heathen, suffer. The trial by witnesses is so far right, if all have the same principles of justice, or the same check against committing perjuries, &c. The Christians have a check, by the instructions which they receive: the Heathen have it not, and therefore can go on with impunity. There are shrewd and wicked Heathen in this district, who actually make a trade of false accusations, who get a number of witnesses together to swear to any thing. The accused party is often entirely innocent of the alleged crime; but on his being apprehended, rather than risk being carried 100 miles to the Court, having there to wait in prison perhaps six or eight months, leaving his family to starve, he secretly compromises with the accuser, pays him some money, and so is let free: and in this traffic Peons and Ketcherry writers are all implicated, and share in the spoil. Surely this state of things requires the attention of the Government.

In the Tax affairs it is no better. A number of Villages have a Public Accountant; whose object is to fill his chatties with money, and who does his duty just as far as he can do it without being detected in his frauds. His duty is, to number the people, adjust their taxes according to their respective employments, and to collect them. In this affair he practises all possible skill to cheat the Government, and to oppress the people. Suppose there are in a Village 30 houses, 15 of which come under one sort of taxes, and 15 under another: of these 15, he will register only four, and let the rest go free, taking a bribe from them; and all the 15 pay only as much as is received from four. This was the case with a Village before it came under Christian instruction: after that, the people were instructed not to give bribes, and to pay to Government what is due. The Accountant comes the next year, with the intention of playing the same trick over again: the people refuse to give him a bribe: instantly he changes his account, and registers them all; so that now they must pay nine or ten fanams each, whereas formerly they paid but two or three. His registering them all is no more than just; but as the Christians are still men, having no clear idea about taxes, they refuse to pay, saying, "We have all along paid only so much, and now we are required to pay two or three times more." The Accountant has a fair excuse, in case they complain, and has many ways of preventing the discovery of his cheats. Oftentimes the people know nothing about his frauds, the Accountant having made up matters secretly with one or two of the Headmen or owners of the Villages. Now, when the people become Christians, they will not dance according to the pipe of those men. Instantly they put the whole tax upon them, and make such proposals as these: "Come over to our Village, worship again our idols, smear ashes on your forehead, and you shall be as happy as before." Upon a refusal, which they often make, thinking seriously, from ignorance of facts, that the increase of taxes is a mere caprice of the Accountant, they have Peons sent to them, who drag these "Christian fellows" to prison, and ill-treat them: this wicked practice obtains throughout the district. It will be said, that the people may complain, and then they will get redress. But, in the first place, their oppressors have many means of oppressing them still more in case they complain; for fear of which, they rather suffer quietly: or, they are ignorant of Ketcherry proceedings, and manage their affairs so badly that the craft of their opponents nearly always triumphs. Last year the Sub-Collector introduced a plan for checking such oppressions, by giving to each householder a written document of what he had to pay: but all the evil is not taken away thereby: the Accountant still finds pretexts to ask more than is due, or can still leave out from his Register those whom he wishes to favour; and so it happens, that the people of a certain employment in one Village, have to pay double or treble the amount that the people of the same employment in the neighbouring Villages have to pay. Here envy is set at work. The man in the former Village refuses to pay. Of course, envy is not to be defended; but still every body will allow that too great occasion is given for it; and we do not wonder to see this envy operate in those who have joined the Christian Church: they are still men, and only just emerging from darkness. How would a European act, if he were placed in the same circumstances? I am sure he would find it extremely unjust, to pay more than his neighbour, who in no respect differs from him. In Europe they have certain modes of redress; but the Native Christian in India has none, as above described; or if he has, there are too many obstacles in his way to use them. Thus, Native Christians have also in this respect a great many difficulties and vexations to contend with, and the Government is cheated: and sure we are, that when the country shall be christianized, the Government's Treasury will be filled to half the amount more than what it now receives, owing to the cheats which these Accountants and Miraskarers at present practise. Occasionally, when these men have enmity against the Heathen inhabitants, they also have to suffer in a similar manner. But in his reports to the Collector of those who will not pay, the Accountant carefully excludes the Heathen from the list, and always puts forth the Christians; so that persons not knowing the real state of things, are led to think that these only are unwilling to pay. All this adds to the troubles of the Christians: but this is not all. When the people were in Heathenism, they paid certain taxes to idol temples for the performance of idolatry, and other contributions for the maintenance of dancing-girls, travelling sannyasis, &c. Now, becoming Christians, they think themselves justly freed from such contributions; as they have to contribute to the performance of Divine Service in a Christian manner. But the Accountant, or Miraskarer, comes and asks the same from them as from the Heathen: they of course refuse, and instantly have to suffer for it. The Christians have applied to the Collector: he found it just that they should be exempted from such taxes, but cannot remit it without an order from the Board of Revenue. A Petition, with the indorsement of the Collector, was sent to Madras: but ten or twelve months have elapsed, and no answer has yet arrived. In the mean while, the people are greatly harassed. To oblige Christians to pay for idolatrous worship, which everybody acknowledges to be sinful in the sight of God, is indeed not a little hard; and we really know not what to advise them, whether to pay or not. If they do not pay, they are put in prison, and their goods sold.

Thus much was necessary to state concerning the troubles and persecutions of the Converts, in order to get a right view of their present state. Under all these circumstances, it will not be difficult to conceive that these troubles and persecutions should lead many unstable souls to go back to Heathenism, by which the Congregations are purged from insincere Members. We have every reason to believe, that not long after the first stir among the people, when their neighbours saw that the Christians were not despised, but protected by the European Authorities, many renounced Heathenism, and put themselves under Christian instruction, from worldly motives: they not only saw that Christianity was better, but they imagined that their outward circumstances would thereby be bettered, and especially that they should be assisted in getting rid of their oppressors. Others, again, had probably the latter motive only; though they had abundance of instances before them, that those who joined the Christian Church had to bear a heavy cross, and did not gain any worldly advantage, excepting that by influence of instruction they became cleanly in their persons and clothing, and more decent and orderly in their deportment. Moreover, such persons, if they were principal men in the Village, would, on coming over to Christianity, from whatever motive it was, bring all their dependents and labourers with them; who knew at the commencement, perhaps, very little of Christianity, and came to be instructed simply because their masters did so. And there were some who joined the Church with the express design to abuse our kindness, and to give scope to their evil passions: this determined us not to intercede any longer in their alleged sufferings from other people; which may indeed have caused many a really innocent sufferer to have remained under his straits, but excluded effectually the intrusion of such as had bad motives.

Now, the natural consequence was, that, in the course of time, many of those persons who had only earthly advantages in view, not seeing them realized, and being pressed by persecution, thought it better to return again to their old customs. Hence it was, we believe, that the number who at first enlisted for Christianity gradually decreased. Another cause of decrease was, the terror which some persons felt in seasons of calamity: for instance, when the cholera took away one or the other of a family, the rest would think, particularly when persuaded by the Heathen Neighbours, that that was occasioned by the goddess Ammen, as a punishment for having forsaken her worship. In another family, the small-pox made ravages: the relations were frightened in the same manner, and left off attending Christian Worship, at least for a season. A remarkable instance of this kind happened in a Village where the Headman, who seems to have had more temporal than spiritual advantage in view, lost a child by the small-pox: the affliction brought him low; and hearing his Heathen neighbours say, that Ammen had killed the child because of his learning the Christian Vedam, he secretly wished to return to Heathenism. A few days after, his second child fell ill. Without listening to the advice of the Catechist, or remembering what he had been instructed in, he sought for help; and meeting with a devil's devotee, asked him what he should do to save his child. He, of course, advised him to return to Ammen, and to sacrifice immediately. The credulous man prepared to do so; but before he could perform it, the child died. A few days afterwards, his third child became ill with the small-pox: instantly he went to offer to Ammen, prostrated himself before the image, confessed that he had sinned in joining the Christians, and prayed to her to save the child, making the usual offerings: but a few hours after, that child also died. The man then became extremely low, saw his error, was convinced of the vanity of idols, and after some weeks returned to the Congregation.

Whilst the number of families which had forsaken idolatry in 1825 thus decreased in several places, in others it increased: and, in the very same places in which some abandoned their profession, others came forward to avow it. Notwithstanding the many distracting circumstances among the Congregations, the light and beauty of Christianity cannot remain hid, and, by God's blessing, cannot fail to attract the notice of its beholders. Those who abode stedfast in their first determination, and continued to hear and learn the Word of God, evidently became better informed: they saw gradually that they had made no bad choice; and that Christianity is really more excellent than all they had seen or heard of before, or than all which their wisest Teachers could offer: their hearts also did not remain unaffected; they began to hate immorality and vice, and to behave more decently and orderly: their outward circumstances, in their trades and other employments, which the Heathen thought would be altogether miserable in consequence of their destruction of idols, remained not only the same, but in several instances improved; and they no longer united in the schemes of wicked men to injure others: this the Heathen beheld, and at the same time heard the truth of the Gospel declared to them, or read of it in the books that are scattered all over the country. In addition to these causes, when afflictions by sickness or death came on Heathen Families, notwithstanding all their sacrifices to idols; or when, at the time of the cholera, the Christian Congregations were, on the whole, spared; or when their fields yielded the same fruits, if not more; or if, notwithstanding the destruction of idols, the rains returned as seasonably as before; and when, at the public feasts of Idolatry in the most famous places, the carts could not be brought forward from various natural causes, or overturned and killed those who were within their reach; or when, at such festivals, tempests arose with lightning, which killed one or the other on the spot; it could not be otherwise than that the judgment, which was already inclined to Christianity by the causes mentioned before, was brought to the resolution of embracing it. We cannot omit mentioning an instance that happened in the beginning of this year:—In a Village near one of our Christian Villages, the Headman lost, in the course of a few months, his wife and all his six children by the cholera, notwithstanding all his offerings to all sorts of idols. He then threw them down as good for nothing; and, with 7 other families, joined our Congregation, and came and requested Christian instruction. He now reads the Gospel with much delight wherever he goes, and speaks of it to others. In another Village some Soodras have been long acquainted with Christian books: they had, until last year, on a piece of land within an inclosure, an idol, which they usually worshipped. Last year, one of them proposed to make better use of the ground, as the idol was not worth any thing. Others opposed the idea, as a dangerous one: the god would revenge himself; or at least the ground, notwithstanding all their labour, would produce nothing. However, the rest thought that they should make the experiment: and so they actually pulled the stone idol down, and made a plantain-garden of the ground. In due time they reaped an abundance of fruit: they then had no further scruple about the idol; and put him in the hole of an old tree, to fill up the place. These persons have not yet publicly professed Christianity; but I trust they are not far from it.

Now, notwithstanding all the difficulties and changes to which the Converts have been exposed, the number of Families under Christian instruction, including those who have been baptized, was, at the end of June last, in 106 Villages, 756 Families or Houses, consisting of about 2557 persons, including children of course; exclusive of the Palamcottah Congregation, which may amount to about 100 persons.

With the few exceptions of Roman Catholics and other Native Christians, before mentioned, they were all Idolaters, and are now learning to become wise unto salvation. They are instructed by 31 Teachers, including 2 or 3 Christian Schoolmasters; and let it be observed, that, excepting those who have already been baptized, they are not yet called Christians, but "persons who desire to become Christians," or "Candidates for Christianity."

It appears from the preceding account, that these Converts were not formerly Roman Catholics, nor members of the old Tanjore Mission Congregations, as has been supposed; but, with few exceptions, Idolaters. That they are not from the higher, but from the lower Caste, naturally arises from this, that the former find in caste a stronger barrier against publicly professing Christianity than the latter; though it must be noticed that even among these there is caste influence, which they have to overcome, and there are many among them that are as tenacious of Idolatry and their caste as any of the former. We cannot, therefore, but regard their actually renouncing Idolatry and destroying their long-worshipped idols, and their submitting themselves to Christian instruction and discipline, as arising from a Divine influence upon their minds, agreeably to the promises of Sacred Writ. But, as it has been already mentioned, these new Congregations comprise also, to a considerable extent, a middling caste, the Shanars. Besides, of Soodras also, six have been baptized, and are now usefully and diligently employed in the district.

Men of the world may sneer at these poor and low Christians; but God goes on in His own way, and He will perform His plan as HE pleases, and not as man may think. We do not seek exclusively, either the poor or the rich, the low or the high: whosoever comes within our reach, him we make acquainted with the will of God. When we see the rich and high despise or neglect the gracious message, and the poor and low receive and esteem it, shall we reject them because they are poor or of low caste? God forbid that ever such a feeling should enter our hearts, or those of any other ministers of the Gospel! We should thereby despise the Saviour, who was meek and lowly in heart, and who had not where to lay his head. And hath not God chosen the POOR of this world to be rich in faith, and heirs of the Kingdom which He has promised to them that love Him?

With regard to the previous condition, character, and habits of the Converts, and the effects of conversion upon their after-habits of life &c., we have to observe, that, as in all castes, so among the Shanars also, there are rich and poor, high and low, intelligent (as far as Heathen intelligence goes), and ignorant; there are masters and servants among them; proprietors of lands, trees, and villages; and labourers. They were all idolaters, and superstitious; devoted to the common gods of the Hindoos, and to other idols of their own making, which represent devils; impure in thought, word, and action; liars, cheats, and adulterers. Their employment is chiefly the cultivation of the Palmira-tree, which abounds here; many also live by agriculture; others by merchandize; and the poorer sort by carrying burdens, &c. The latter especially, and mostly the women, are excessively dirty in their person and dress; and, even if they are in better circumstances, they still will outwardly appear in a ragged condition, from a kind of policy, in order to avoid the rapacious hands of the Maravers, who, especially during the time of the Poligars, took care to spoil such as appeared to be affluent. Now, the new Converts are from among all these. As to the effect which their conversion has had on them, we cannot of course speak very particularly, as we are mostly at a distance from them. Our opinion of them rests, therefore, principally, on the testimony of others; though many of those things which we are going to mention have fallen under our own notice.

First, then, they have all rejected Idolatry, and learn to worship God in spirit and in truth. They are desirous of being instructed in the wholesome truths of the Gospel; and men and women, and even children, assemble daily together for the purpose, especially on the Sabbath-day. A great many of them know the Catechism by heart; and not a few have learnt also parts of Scripture, such as the Sermon on the Mount, &c. That they do this, instead of joining in their former wild dances and idol worship, spending whole nights in revelling and obscene songs and actions, is certainly in their favour. A number of them were formerly devotees to idols: they have left off all these things; they have delivered over to us their clubs and idolatrous clothes; and sit now with the rest, soberly listening to the Word of God, learning to trust in the living God, and not in lying devices. They are getting more cleanly in their habits, and shew a more decent behaviour in every respect. At their marriage ceremonies they submit to the simple style required by Christian principles, discarding all the foolish and stupefying customs of the Heathen on those occasions; a circumstance of no small importance, when it is considered how tenacious the natives are of making a great show at marriages. The noise of quarrelling and fighting is hardly ever heard in their streets, and they learn to live together in peace and harmony. The cruel treatment and persecutions of their Heathen neighbours they learn more and more to bear with patience, and not to render evil for evil. Lying is much abated among them; and they learn to love truth and righteousness; and are ready to confess their faults. One Congregation consists in part of Maravers; they have left off altogether their night expeditions for plunder and robbery, and live peaceably by the produce of their lands. Some of them have been baptized, who confessed on the occasion that at first they had asked for Christian instruction from worldly motives; but that, having since learnt the nature of Christianity, they were ready to abide by it at any rate. They give us much pleasure. Others have made the same confession. Even the Heathen give the Converts a good testimony, and observe a very favourable change in their character. One of us was lately in a Village where there is a Congregation. Walking about in the streets towards the evening, he spoke with several Heathens, whom he met with, calling them to repentance. One of them was rather irritated, and said, "Well, if the great people cheat and steal, may we (the poorer people) not do so too?" He was asked whether the Christians in the Village did steal; when, in the presence of all, he answered "No." (In the same Village only lately several of the Christians' houses were burnt down, and a child of theirs perished in the flames.) A Heathen landowner preferred a Christian labourer in the field to a Heathen, saying, "The Christians are more faithful." In another place, a member of the Congregation was attacked by the Maravers, beaten and robbed. When the Catechist asked him whether he would not complain against the man, he answered, "No. Did not the Lord Jesus say, Whosoever shall smite thee on the right cheek, turn to him the other also"? Another man, yet unmarried, lives with his mother, a widow, who keeps house for him. She, however, remains in Heathenism, and troubles her son much to give up Christianity again. As he remains stedfast, she lately refused to keep house for him, so that the man came into great straits. The Catechist, to try him, proposed that he should leave his mother, marry, and so provide for himself. To this he answered, "No: the Commandment is, Thou shalt honour thy father and thy mother." Another man was a conjuror, and on his own confession tried to do much mischief by his conjuration-books. He latterly came, and not only related the circumstance with much feeling and grief, being burdened by the sins he had committed thereby; but also asked what to do with those bad books, saying, "I must not give or sell them to others, because they will try to do mischief by them." He would not sell them, though money was offered, but, according to advice, put them, in the presence of many people, into the fire. These are some examples of the wholesome effects which Christianity has on the minds and conduct of the Converts, besides those which have already been mentioned. We do not hesitate to say, that they are, on the whole, better husbands, better wives, better fathers, better members of society, more industrious and conscientious labourers and servants, and more loyal subjects than the unconverted.

In giving this character of the Converts, we do not, of course, mean that they are all alike, and that they make equal progress in faith, holiness, righteousness, and other moral qualities. There are many among them who still need regeneration; on which account they are also not yet baptized. When it is remembered from what an abyss of ignorance and superstition they have emerged; when it is remembered that natural habit is a strong thing; when it is remembered that Europe, which has enjoyed the light of Truth these 1000 years, is, notwithstanding, in innumerable instances, far from what it ought to be in point of Christian morality,—we shall not expect these Hindoos to be at once patterns of morality in every respect, or even to exceed Europeans therein. The work of renouncing an abominable Idolatry and confidence in idols, and of trusting in the living God, and hoping for His favour through the merits of Jesus Christ, is the foundation of holiness and righteousness; the progress of holiness itself is a work of time, and will certainly follow wherever the foundation is laid. Whilst it is going on, it is no marvel that, in all of the Converts, bad inveterate habits now and then lift up their heads. In the primitive Churches it was the same. Their members were not perfect as soon as they became Christians, and many lamentable things appeared among them; but they were thereby put into the surest way of becoming holy and happy, which, as Heathens, they could never attain to. It is similar with these new Churches; and they require much patience, forbearance, and careful direction. We say all this to prevent Europeans measuring the attainments of Native Christians according to their own standard. European Churches are like trees fully grown; these Native Churches are like plants just beginning to grow. And yet we venture to say, that there are many among the latter, who, in point of knowledge of the Scriptures and moral conduct, may vie with many in Europe.

We wish to add a few words respecting the Assistants whom we employ, in order to enable the friends of Missions in Bengal to form a judgment of their qualifications for the work in which they are engaged. They all do not only possess a competent knowledge of the Scriptures; but have also, so far as we can judge, experienced the power of the Gospel in their own hearts. The Young Men in our Seminary, from which most of our assistants are taken, in addition to the instruction in various sciences which they receive, are very carefully instructed in the Bible: they learn daily large portions of it by heart, and hear nearly every word explained; in the course of which they acquire much knowledge of Profane History, Chronology, Astronomy, &c. Those who are at present in the Seminary have learnt by heart a large portion of St. Matthew, the whole of the Epistles to the Romans, Galatians, Ephesians, Philippians, Colossians, Timothy, Titus, and Philemon; and the two Epistles of St. Peter; besides many portions of the Old Testament; and have heard them explained in the above-mentioned manner. They have received lectures on every book in the Bible; and are now studying the Evidences of Christianity in a very particular manner; besides, they derive much instruction from the numerous Tracts published by us. It must be remembered, moreover, that these Young Men are employed in teaching, not European Christians, but people who were altogether ignorant of the truth, and are just emerging from Heathenism; not people who endeavour to oppose them with specious and sophistical arguments, but people who are willing to learn the principles of Christianity. Yet, as we have already stated, they are clever enough to engage in controversy even with shrewd Brahmins. Once, when one of the Seminarists was reading and speaking in the street to a crowd of people, a Brahmin passing by, stood still and listened with pleasure. He went away; and on returning, pulled out a few plantains, and gave them to him in token of his satisfaction.

(Signed) C. RHENIUS,
B. SCHMID.

After writing the above, a number of Heathen, in a Village where there is already a Congregation, have renounced Heathenism, and transmitted to us, by the Catechist, a wooden idol, with a basket full of cloth images, and several dresses of devil's devotees, which they used to wear when acting their part before the idol. This you will be glad to hear. We beg you to notice, that the term 'devil's' is not given by us to them; but is the real name which the Natives THEMSELVES apply to this sort of idols.

☞ It having been found necessary to close the Association Accounts on the 31st of December 1827, three months earlier than usual, in order to ensure the early publication of the Report—and this arrangement having been unavoidably carried into effect upon short notice—the Receipts from Associations acknowledged in the present Lists include no more than Three-quarters of a Year, and many of them only a much shorter period. From the same cause, many Associations had not transmitted their Lists of Contributors at the period when it was necessary to put them to press; in all which cases, those printed in the Twenty-seventh Report are reprinted in the Twenty-eighth, with an acknowledgement of such further remittances as may have been made in the interval. It is earnestly hoped, and requested, that all Committees of Associations will have the kindness to make such arrangements, that their respective Accounts may in future years be always closed on the 31st of December; and the List of Contributors, with a copy of the BALANCE SHEET, transmitted to the Society's Office, addressed to the Secretaries, not later than the end of the second week in January.
